

INDEX

- Accenture, 189–190
 Accountability of pricing system,
 184–185
 Account planning process:
 buying-center analysis and, 90,
 157–160
 coverage strategy, 161
 expected customer response, 164–165
 likely buying behavior, 160
 offering structure, 162
 overview of, 154–156
 negotiating approach, 163–165 value analysis, 156–157
 Adoption of new technologies,
 60–62
 Air cargo business, 113
 Airlines, 100–108
 AMD (Advanced Micro Devices), 64,
 137
 Announcements to market, 140–143
 Apple, xxx
 Arrogance, 2–4
 AT&T, 136–137
 Auction, xxv, 166
 Average costing, 95–100
 Azul Systems, 62

 Banks, 112–113, 120–121
 BellSouth, 84
 Benefits, connecting features and value to,
 29–32
 Bidding wars, 83
 Bluffing, 21–22
 Boeing, 197

 “Bomb competitors back to Stone Age” approach, xxvii–xxviii
 Bonoma, Thomas, 157–158
 Bradley, Todd, 199
 Buffett, Warren, 107
 Bundling approach, 113, 124–129,
 162
 Business value models, 34
 Buyers, definition of, 157. See also
 Poker-playing buyers; Price buyers;
 Relationship buyers; Value buyers buying-center analysis, 157–160

 Canon, 52
 Capacity, 104–109, 177–178
 Capital-intensive businesses,
 68–69
 Caterpillar, 65–66, 94–95
 Chambers, John, 161, 191
 Cisco, 161
 Close deal, pricing to, xix
 Closers, 163
 Commodity:
 services as, 88–90, 113, 119
 solution compared to, 152–153
 Commodity solution, 79
 Communications policy, 140–141
 Competition:
 attitude toward, 131–132
 market elasticity and, 133–135 in mature markets, 135–137 performance of, 157
 pricing strategy and, 50, 71–73
 response to moves by, 145–147
 Competitive behavior, 13, 59

204 INDEX

- Competitive information system:
 - communications policy, 140–141
 - determine what to do, 143–144
 - determine what to say, 141–143
 - developing, 137–138
 - improve understanding of environment, 139
 - monitor results and improve system, 144
 - pricing strategy, 140
- Component prices and bundling, 128
- Confidence-building pricing process, 180–181, 186, 199–201
- Contribution dollars, 101
- Controlling utilization with price, 104–109
- Core offerings, 116–117
- Costing systems, and profit, 91, 95–100
- Cost leadership, 66
- Cost-plus pricing, 169–171, 176–177
- Costs, pricing to cover, xviii
- Coverage strategy, 161
- Credibility issues, 44–45
- Cross-elasticity of demand, 13, 59
- Cross-selling, 120–121
- Customer behavior:
 - buying-center analysis and, 158–159
 - cross-elasticity of demand and, 13, 59
 - evaluating, 160
 - identifying, 78–80
 - See also* Poker-playing buyers; Price buyers; Relationship buyers; Value buyers
- Customer interviews:
 - informal, 150
 - overview of, 32–35
 - preparing for and conducting, 35–40
 - results of, 40–44
- Customers:
 - bluffing and, 21–22
 - expected response by, 164–165
 - firing unprofitable, 8–11
 - as not always right, xxix–xxxi
 - talking to about value, 25–29
 - targeting, 46–48, 145–147
 - types of, 75–76
 - value and, 23
 - visiting, 191–192
 - See also* Customer interviews
- Customer value drivers, 36
- Customer value profiles, 34
- Cycles of desperation, xxi–xxii, xxix, 16–17, 119, 153
- DaimlerChrysler, xxviii–xxix, 50–51
- Data discovery, 33
- DEC (Digital Equipment Corporation), 86
- Deciders, 158
- Decline phase, 57, 67–68
- Dell, Michael, 66
- Dell Computer, 13, 14, 54, 66–67, 199
- Depth research, 34, 35
- Derived demand, 12–13, 58–59
- Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC), 86
- Discount creep, 5
- Discount grid or chessboard, 145–147
- Discounting:
 - controlling, 4–6
 - danger of, 1–2
 - data on, 192–193
 - effectiveness of, 11–18
 - firing unprofitable customers, 8–11
 - payoff for, 134
 - plotting customer pricing, 6–8
 - replacing with arrogance, 2–4
 - rules of engagement and, 18–19
- Discovery process, 190–194
- Documentation of customer interviews, 38
- Dow Chemical, 144
- Dow Corning, 123–124
- Drilling down, 30–32, 37–38, 39
- Drivers:
 - of adoption, 61, 62
 - of customer value, 36
 - of trust, 87
 - of value, 35
- Dumbbell pricing, 103–104
- DuPont, 144
- Early adopters, 60
- EDGAR Online, 70–71
- Efficiency, 94–95

- 80/20 rule, 9–10
- Elasticity research, 12–13
- Enabling services, 120
- Enterprise software, 129
- Executive teams, 192
- Expected offerings, 117
- Exploratory depth research, 35
- External view, 28
- Exxon Mobil, 99

- Features, connecting to benefits and value, 29–32
- Fences, creating good, 122–124
- Financial objectives, using price to meet, xix–xxii
- Financial value, 24–26, 29–32
- Fiorina, Carly, 199
- Firing unprofitable customers, 8–11
- Five-minute price, 143
- Forward auction, 166

- Gatekeepers, 157–158, 159
- General Electric, 121–122, 161
- General Motors, 76, 195
- Gerstner, Lou, 118–119
- Goals, financial, using price to meet, xix–xxii
- Green, William, 189
- Growth:
 - innovation for, 113–114
 - offering structure and, 115–118
 - pricing to drive, 112–113
 - products and services for, 111–112
 - services, solutions, and, 118–119
- Growth phase, 57, 58, 59–60, 62–64

- Harmer, Richard, 135
- Hewlett-Packard, 66–67, 199
- High-value adds, 120
- Hwang Chang Gyu, 161

- IBM, 119
- Incremental cost analysis, 98–100
- Influencers, 158
- Initiators, 158
- Innovation, 111–112, 113–114

- Innovators, 60
- Intel, 64
- Internal interviews, 33–34
- Internal view, 28
- Interviews:
 - with customers, 35–44, 150, 191–192
 - with staff, 197–199
- Introductory phase, 57, 60–62
- Intuit, 115, 116, 118, 132–133
- IT environment, 77, 88

- Jet Blue, 103–104

- Kelleher, Herb, 142, 191

- Lee Ki Tae, 63
- Levels of pricing, 174–176
- Lion hunt, 197

- Margin dollars, 101
- Market:
 - announcements to, 140–143
 - elasticity of, 12, 133–135
 - growth, 62–64
 - introductory, 60–62
 - pricing to meet, xviii
 - See also* Mature market
- Market-driven pricing, 178
- Market share, pricing to gain, xix
- Mature market, 57, 64–67, 135–137, 142–143
- Motorola, 63
- Mulcahy, Anne M., 198

- Negotiations, 154–156, 163–165
- Netjets, 107
- Neutral pricing strategy, 14, 51, 53
- Nokia, 63
- NUCOR Steel, 141

- Offering structure, 115–118, 122, 130, 162
- Opportunistic behavior, 136, 143
- Oracle, 5–6, 133

- Panametrics-NDT, 53
- Pareto Curve, 9–10

206 INDEX

- Parker Hannifin, 179–180, 188
- Penetration pricing strategy, 51, 53–55, 64–65
- PeopleSoft, 5, 133
- Phillips Lighting, 45
- Plotting:
 - customer pricing, 6–8
 - sales growth, 14–17
- Poker, winning at, 21–22
- Poker-playing buyers:
 - dealing with, 87–88, 89–90
 - description of, 77–78, 80–82
 - fences and, 122–124
 - RFPs and, 165–166
- Power of understanding customer value, 27
- Preparation:
 - for customer interviews, 36–37
 - for negotiations, 154–156
- Price buyers:
 - dealing with, 83–84
 - description of, 76, 79
 - RFPs and, 165–166
- Price competition, as fool's game, xxiv–xxv
- Price elasticity, 58–59
- Pricer's Dilemma, 135–137
- Price sensitivity, 125–126
- Pricing:
 - to close deal, xix
 - cost-plus, 169–171, 176–177
 - to cover costs, xviii
 - to gain market share, xix
 - to meet market, xviii
 - value-based, 169–174, 190–194, 196–197
 - See also* Pricing strategy
- Pricing death spiral, xiii, xiv
- Pricing maturity model, 176–180
- Pricing purpose, determining, xvii–xix
- Pricing strategy:
 - accountability of, 184–185
 - announcements to market and, 142
 - for businesses with high up-front costs, 69–71
 - for capital-intensive businesses, 68–69
 - case example, 149–152
 - choosing, 55–56, 176–180
 - in competitive information system, 140
 - competitive landscape and, 71
 - cost-plus, 169–171
 - declining markets and, 67–68
 - dimensions of, 181
 - growth markets and, 62–64
 - introductory markets and, 60–62
 - mature markets and, 64–67
 - neutral, 14, 51, 53
 - overview of, 49–51
 - penetration, 51, 53–55, 64–65
 - readiness to change, 68, 72–73
 - repeatability and, 181–182
 - role of value in, 56–57
 - scalability of, 183–184
 - skim, 51–52, 63, 65
 - standardization of, 185–186
 - through product life cycle, 57–60
 - visibility and, 182–183
- Private equity firms, 95
- Procurement auction, xxv, 166
- Product life cycle:
 - decline phase, 67–68
 - growth phase, 62–64
 - introductory markets, 60–62
 - maturity phase, 64–67
 - pricing through, 57–60
- Products:
 - adding new, 111–112
 - bundling, 124–129
 - low-value flanking, 122–124
- Professional services businesses, 108–109
- Profit:
 - airlines and, 100–103
 - controlling utilization with price, 104–109
 - costing systems and, 95–100
 - dumbbell pricing and, 103–104
 - efficiency and, 94–95
 - focus on revenue and, 91–94
 - pricing for, 113–114
 - value and, 24
- Protecting share in mature market, 142–143

- Purchasing agent:
 - in case example, 150, 151–152
 - price buyers and, 79, 80–81
 - RFPs and, 165–166
- QuickBooks (Intuit), 115, 116, 118
- Red Hat, 6, 117
- Relationship buyers:
 - dealing with, 85–86
 - description of, 76–77, 79
 - trust and, 86–87
- Reliability of pricing system, 181–182
- Request for Proposal (RFP) process, 82–83, 165–168
- Research mindset, 25
- Resource allocation, 192
- Revenue focus, moving from, 92–94
- Revenue management, 101–103
- Reverse auction, xxv, 166
- RFP process, 82–83, 165–168
- ROI tool, 35, 44–46
- Rollins, Kevin, 66
- Rules of engagement, xiv–xvii, 18–19
- Sales, increasing, and profit, 92–94
- Sales force:
 - assumptions about, xxi
 - discounting and, 5
 - imagining self in, xiii–xiv
 - responsiveness of, xxx
 - role of, 194–196
 - strategy or marketing plans and, xxvi
 - value focus and, xxvii
 - value propositions and ROI tools for, 44–46
 - White Horse Syndrome and, xxiii
- Samsung, 63, 161
- Scalability of pricing system, 183–184
- Schmuckle, Rainer, 50
- Selling as tactical job, 145
- Selling backbone:
 - buying-center analysis and, 157–160
 - confidence and, 152–153
 - coverage strategy and, 161
 - expected customer response and, 164–165
 - likely buying behavior and, 160
 - negotiating approach and, 154–156, 163–165
 - offering structure and, 162
 - problem of, 153–154
 - RFPs and, 165–168
 - value analysis and, 156–157
- Services:
 - adding new, 111–112
 - bundling, 124–129, 162
 - as commodity, 88–90, 113, 119
 - developing, for pricing leverage, 120
 - role of, 118–119
 - value-adding, 122–124
- Services commoditization cycle, 119
- Simplicity/Snapper, 200–201
- Skim pricing, 51–52, 63, 65
- Solution, 118–122, 152–153
- Sony, xxx
- Southwest Airlines, 54, 103–104, 142
- Spokespeople, 140–141
- Staff, meeting with, 197–199
- Standardization of pricing system, 185–186
- Steel industry, global, 114
- Strategic level of pricing, 174–176
- Tactical level of pricing, 174–176
- Targeting customers, 46–48, 145–147
- Tenaris SA, 114
- Thanking customers, 38
- Third-party consultants, 159, 165–166
- Toyota, 76
- Training programs, 193–194
- Triggers of value, 46–48
- Trust, 86–87
- 20-225 rule, 10
- Undermining bundles, 128–129
- Up-front costs, businesses with high, 69–71
- U.S. government, 76

208 INDEX

- Users, 158
- Utilization, using price to control, 104–109
- Value:
 - arrogance about, 2–4
 - as basis of exchange, xxv–xxvi
 - bundling and, 127
 - confidence in, 3–4, 199–201
 - connecting features to benefits to, 29–32
 - discovery process and, 190–194
 - financial, 24–26, 29–32
 - focus on, compared to price focus, xxvi–xxvii
 - leadership and, 189–190
 - meaning of, 23
 - ownership of, 187–189
 - pricing strategy and, 54–55, 56–57
 - starting conversation with, 2
 - talking to customer about, 25–29, 32–35
 - triggers of, 46–48
- Value-added options, 117–118
- Value analysis, conducting, 156–157
- Value-based pricing:
 - cost-plus compared to, 169–171
 - failure of, 196–197
 - implementing, 190–194
 - as objective, 171–174
- Value buyers:
 - dealing with, 84–85
 - description of, 76, 79–80
 - trust and, 86–87
- Value drivers, 35
- Value-enhanced cost-plus pricing, 177
- Value hunt, 197–199
- Value mindset, adopting, 25–26
- Value propositions, 35, 44–48
- Value research process:
 - overview of, 32–35
 - preparing for and conducting interviews, 35–40
 - results of, 40–44
- Visibility of pricing system, 182–183
- Visiting customers, 191–192
- Wachovia Bank, 88
- Walk-away price, 83, 163
- Wal-Mart, 76, 200
- Washkewicz, Donald, 188
- Welch, Jack, 161, 191
- White Horse Syndrome, xxii–xxiv, 153
- Wier, Jim, 200
- Winner's curse, 83
- Winning pricing game, 22–24
- Xerox, xxix, 52, 198–199
- Yield management system, 100, 102