

Contents

Acknowledgments		xv
Introduction		xvii
PART I	AREAS TO FOCUS ON IN THE NEXT SIX MONTHS	1
CHAPTER 1	Accounts Payable in the 21st Century	3
	Removal of Charles Dickens's Processes	3
	Move to a Paperless Accounts Payable Function	4
	Invest in an Electronic Ordering System (Procurement System)	4
	Introduce a Purchase Card	5
	Cut Off Accounts Payable on the Last Working Day	6
	Close Accruals a Day before the Accounts Payable Ledger	7
	Limit the Accruals	7
	Mount the Last Signed Check on the CEO's Wall	8
	Perform Frequent Direct Credit Payment Runs	8
	Improve Budget Holders' Cooperation	9
	Speed Up Budget Holders' Correction of Omissions	9
	A Welcome Letter to All New Budget Holders	9
	Introduce "Shame and Name" Lists	10
	Reward Good Budget Holder Behavior	11
	Have a Closer Relationship with Your Main Suppliers	11
	Use Self-Generated Invoices (Buyer-Created Invoices)	12
	Note	12

CHAPTER 2	Timely Month-End Reporting: By Working Day 3 or Less	13
	Rating Scale for Month-End Reporting	14
	Benefits of Quick Month-End Reporting	14
	Impact of a Quick Month-End on the Finance Team Workload	15
	Major Steps You Can Do Next	16
	Major Steps You Can Do within the Next Six Months	23
	History of Quick Month-End Reporting	26
	Research on Quick Month-Ends	30
	Implementing Quick Month-End Reporting	30
	Some Tips on Running a Post-it Reengineering Session	35
	Selling the Need for Quick Month-End Reporting	36
	Key Month-End Activities on a Day 3 Month-End Notes	37 38
CHAPTER 3	Make the Monthly Reports Worth Reading	39
	Foundation Stones on Month-End Reporting	39
	Reporting a Business Unit's Performance	40
	Reporting a Consolidated Profit and Loss Account	42
	The One-Page Summary to the CEO	43
	Reporting the Balance Sheet	43
	Reporting a Quarterly Rolling Accrual Forecast	45
	Snapshot of All Projects Currently Started	47
	Reporting Progress of the Top 10 Projects	49
	Cash Flow Forecasting	50
	CAPEX Reporting	54
	The One-Page Investment Proposal	54
	Reporting the Strategic Objectives/Risks/Cost Pressures	56
	Designing Graphs and Dashboards	60
	Notes	61
CHAPTER 4	Limit the Time Invested in Board Reporting	63
	Selling Change to the Board	63
	Costing the Preparation of Board Papers	64

	Scoping of the Information Requests	64
	Avoiding Rewrites of Board Reports	65
	Tabling Board Papers Electronically	65
	More Timely Board Meetings	66
	Board Meeting Less Frequently than Once a Month	66
	Continually Purging the Board Papers	66
	Timeliness of Board Meetings	67
	Reporting Key Result Indicators in a Dashboard to the Board	67
	Examples of Key Result Indicators for a Board Dashboard	70
	Notes	73
CHAPTER 5	Timely Annual Planning Process: Ten Working Days or Less!	75
	Sell the Change through Emotional Drivers	75
	Foundation Stones of an Annual Planning Process	76
	Efficient Annual Planning Processes	80
	Note	90
CHAPTER 6	Managing the Accounting Team	91
	Hold an Off-Site Meeting for the Accounting Team at Least Twice a Year	91
	Set Up Monthly One-on-One Progress Meetings with Your Direct Reports	93
	Become Known for Giving Recognition Freely	93
	Attract the Best Staff to the Team	94
	Adopt Better Recruitment Practices	95
	Recognize Staff Performance	96
	Team Balanced Scorecards	96
	Better Practice Training	96
	Outdoor Pursuit Adventure	98
	Team-Building Lessons from a World-Class Coach	98
	CFOs and All Direct Reports Must Find a Mentor Immediately	98
	Become a Serving Leader	99
	Five Foundation Stones of a Serving-Leader	100
	Areas of Focus for a Serving-Leader	104

	A Viking with a Mother's Heart	111
	Three-Month Planner	115
	Notes	115
CHAPTER 7	Quick Annual Reporting: Within 15 Working Days Post Year-End	117
	Costs of a Slow Year-End	117
	Cost the Annual Accounts Process	118
	A Quick Year-End Is a Good Year-End	118
	Help Get the Auditors Organized	120
	Appoint an Audit Coordinator	120
	Complete the Drafting of the Annual Report before Year-End	121
	Limit when Changes Can Be Made	121
	Negotiate and Plan for a Sign-off by the Auditors within 15 Working Days	121
	Have a Month 10 or 11 Hard Close	122
	Effective Stock Takes	123
	Estimating Added Value in Work in Progress and Finished Goods	123
	Effective Fixed Asset Verification	123
	Importance of the Internal Auditors	124
	Extract More Value from the Management Letter	124
	Derive More Value from the Interim Audit	125
	Run a Workshop to Post-it Reengineer Year-End Reporting	125
	Restrict Access to Confidential Information to the Audit Partner	128
	Speeding Up the Reporting Supply Chain	128
	Moving Forward	129
	Some Case Studies	130
	Notes	131
CHAPTER 8	Managing Your Accounts Receivable	133
	Operational Improvements to Accounts Receivable	133
	Reporting on Your Accounts Receivable	134
	Avoiding Accounts Receivable Month-End Processing Bottlenecks	134

	Increasing the Use of Direct Debiting of Customers' Accounts	135
	Debtors' Collection before Year-End	136
CHAPTER 9	Marketing the Accounting Team	137
	Fitting into the Wider Team	138
CHAPTER 10	Client Management: Improving Relationships with Budget Holders	141
	Perform an In-House Customer Satisfaction Survey	141
CHAPTER 11	More Emphasis on Daily and Weekly Reporting	145
	Yesterday's Sales Report	146
	Weekly Key Customers' Sales	146
	Weekly Reporting on Late Projects and Late Reports	148
CHAPTER 12	Working Smarter, Not Harder	151
	Staff Debriefing at the End of the Day	151
	Banning Morning Meetings for the Finance Team	152
	Implementing "Action Meetings" Methods	153
	Golden Rules with Emails	154
	Continuous Innovation in the Finance Team	157
	Getting the Induction Process Right	157
	Creating a Service Culture in the Finance Team	158
	Having Fun in the Workplace	158
CHAPTER 13	Limit the P&L to 50 Account Codes	161
	Project Accounting	162
	Subsidiary Chart of Accounts	162
	Note	162
PART II	AREAS TO FOCUS ON ONCE CORE GAINS HAVE BEEN ACHIEVED	163
CHAPTER 14	Throw Out Annual Planning and the Associated Monthly Budget Cycle	165
	Reporting without a Budget	167
	Note	168

CHAPTER 15	Quarterly Rolling Planning: An Evolvement from Quarterly Rolling Forecasting	169
	Quarterly Rolling Forecasting Is the Most Important Management Tool of This Decade	169
	Ten Foundation Stones of a Rolling Forecasting Process	171
	Better Practices in a QRF	184
	Implementing a Quarterly Rolling Forecasting and Planning Process	186
	Note	192
CHAPTER 16	Cost Apportionment: Do Not Do It Monthly!	193
CHAPTER 17	Ban Excel from Core Monthly Routines	195
	Note	196
CHAPTER 18	Identifying the Organization's Critical Success Factors	197
	Benefits of Understanding Your Organization's Critical Success Factors	198
	An Airline CSF	199
	Relationship among CSFs, Strategy, and KPIs	199
	Finding Your Organization's CSFs	201
	Notes	202
CHAPTER 19	Reporting Your Winning Key Performance Indicators	203
	The 10/80/10 Rule	204
	Key Result Indicators	204
	Performance and Result Indicators	205
	Key Performance Indicators	205
	Characteristics of a KPI	207
	Importance of Daily CEO Follow-up	209
	Selling KPIs through the Emotional Drivers	209
	Reporting KPIs 24/7 or Daily to Management	210
	Reporting Weekly KPIs and PIs to Management	210

	Reporting Monthly PIs and RIs to Management	210
	Reporting the Key Result Indicators in a Dashboard to the Board	213
	Reporting to Staff: The Team's Progress	213
	Reporting to Staff: The Organization's Progress	213
	12-Step Model for Implementing Performance Measures	213
	How KPIs and Financial Reporting Fit Together	219
	Notes	222
CHAPTER 20	Where to Invest in Your Accounting Systems for Maximum Benefit	223
	Avoiding the Hard Sell	223
	Better Systems to Invest in	224
	Note	227
CHAPTER 21	Implementing a New Accounting System	229
CHAPTER 22	Better Use of the Intranet	233
	Your Intranet Should Be a Spider's Web	233
	The Intranet as a Business Tool	234
	What the Finance Team Can Do	235
PART III	AREAS WHERE COSTLY MISTAKES CAN BE MADE	237
CHAPTER 23	Designing Performance Bonus Schemes	239
	Foundation Stones	239
	Avoid Having Deferral Provisions	245
	Note	250
CHAPTER 24	Avoiding a Rotten Takeover or Merger	251
	How Takeover or Merger Goes Wrong	251
	Takeover or Merger Scorecard	255
	Alternatives to a TOM	255
	Note	259

CHAPTER 25	Hidden Costs of Downsizing	261
CHAPTER 26	A Reorganization Too Many	265
	Ramifications and Associated Costs	265
	An Addiction to Reorganizations	266
	Typical Reasons for a Reorganization	266
	There Are Alternatives to a Major Reorganization	268
	Before You Look at a Reorganization	271
	Note	272
CHAPTER 27	Listing on the Stock Exchange	273
	Gather Useful Experiences	273
	Selecting the Advisors	274
	Have a Well-Oiled Public Relations Machine	274
	The Prospectus	275
	Due Diligence Coordinator	275
	Preparing the Forecast	276
	Getting the Timing Right	276
	Sources of Useful Information	277
	Notes	277
CHAPTER 28	Managing the Treasury	279
	An Open and Honest Relationship with Your Banks Will Pay Off	279
	Do Not Get into Deals You Do Not Understand	280
	You Can Never Guess the Future, So Be Half Right and Half Wrong	280
	Foreign Exchange Trading Can Be a Zero-Sum Game	281
	Obtaining Credit Lines When You Do Not Need Them	281
	Staggering the Maturity of Loans	281
	Sources of Useful Information	283

Appendix A
	Checklist of Areas to Focus on in the Next Six Months	285
Appendix B
	Month-End Reporting Checklist	293
Appendix C
	Month-End Bottlenecks and Techniques to Get around Them	297
Appendix D
	Speeding Up the Annual Audit Process Checklist	301
Appendix E
	Checklist of Strategic Focus Areas	307
Appendix F
	How a Quarterly Rolling Forecast Can Be Laid Out in a Planning Tool	311
Appendix G
	Implementing a Quarterly Rolling Forecast Checklist	315
Appendix H
	Performing a Quarterly Rolling Forecast Checklist	321
Appendix I
	Streamlining an Annual Planning Process Checklist	325
Appendix J
	Useful Letters and Memos	329
Appendix K
	A Satisfaction Survey for an Accounting Function	339
Index		347

<http://www.pbookshop.com>