INDEX

A

Abse, D., 198 Accountability: and commitment, 120; and excellence and quality, 120-121; and psychological ownership, 331 Adair, R., 75, 137 Adelphia Communications, 81 Agentic shift, 203 Aggression, and Milgram's obedience experiments, 200-201 Alford, C. F., 76, 237 Alienated, as followership style, 7, 13 Allport, G., 196 The Answer Is Horse, 199 Anxiety, existential, 184, 192 Ardrey, R., 330 "Are Corporations Evil?" (Litowitz), 206 Arendt, H., 199 Aristotle, 21 Arthur, M. B., 310, 311 Asch, S., 207 Authentic leadership development (ALD), 327-328 Authority: changing attitude toward, 213; and courageous followers, 72, 78-79, 164, 166-167, 170-171; in leadershipfollowership state paradigm, 49, 50, 51, 52; in organizational position paradigm, 45, 46; standing up to, 78, 79, 171; ways of relating to, 76. See also Obedience experiments, Milgram's Authority Relations Inventory, 75 Avolio, B. J., 325

В

Bandura, A., 331 Bartels, B., 204 Bass, B. M., 2, 326 Bauman, Z., 239, 251 Beam, J., 164-165 Beck, J. C., 214 Becker, E., 181 Beedle, P., 86 Bellak, G., 198 Berg, D. N., 175 Bies, R. J., 348n6 Bin Laden, O., 29 Blake, R. R., 46 Blanchard, K. H., 46 Blass, T., 195 Bligh, M. C., 277 Blind obedience, 201–202 Blumen, L. S., 219 Boccialetti, G., 75, 156 Bonaparte, N., 181 Brewer, M. B., 29

Brown, D. J., 38, 311, 370n11

- Bullying, children's, 219–236; actions to stop, 231–232, 234–235; as adult problem, 226–227; adults as enabling, 227–229; bystanders to, 220–221, 225–226, 227–230; components of system of, 225–226; creating norm to prevent, 232–233; defined, 222–223; reasons for persistence of, 221–222; types of, 223–225
 Bureaucratic social character, 213, 214, 215, 216
 Burke, C. S., 35
- Burns, J. M., 2, 326
- Buxton, C., 195
- Bystanders to bullying: adults as, 227–229; impact of bullying on, 229; innocence of, 220–221; intervention by, 231–232; lack of focus on, 221; reasons for nonintervention by, 230; role of, 225–226; teaching children skills as, 234–235

C

Campbell, J., 95 Carsten, M. K., 277 Catholic Church, and followers, 60 CEOs: confronting, 82-83; follower behaviors of, 174 Chaleff, I., 3, 6, 52, 60, 111, 113, 119, 121, 124, 128, 161, 162, 164, 174, 175, 293, 306, 317-318 Challenger space shuttle disaster, 36 Character. See Social character Charismatic leadership, 12, 183, 271, 310, 311 Cialdini, R., 116, 117, 119 Claremont McKenna College, leadership overemphasis at, 89-93 Clark, W., 141 Coady, S., 98, 100 Cobb, J., 312 Cockburn, C., 321

Coercion, 48, 49, 201, 248 Collaborative leadership, 57, 61, 63, 171-172, 215-217 Collaborators, 57, 58, 60, 63 Collective self-concept, 36-37 Colleges, leadership emphasis in admissions process of, 89–93 Collins, J., 322 Collinson, D., 29, 38, 309 Coloroso, B., 222 Columbia space shuttle disaster, 36, 96–97 Commitment: and accountability, 120; barriers to, 117-118; and courageous followership, 118-120; shared, connecting leaders and followers, 115-117 Communication: leaders influenced by, of followers, 274, 276; in leadershipfollowership state paradigm, 51; and role orientation, 26, 28, 35; of vision, 287-288 Complexity theory, 260–262 Conflict, constructive, 36 Conflict resolution, and bullying, 22 Conformity: and groupthink, 35–36; identity characterized by, 313-315, 320; of "natural followers," 44 Confusion tolerance, 294 Conscience, courageous, 14-15 Conscience collective, 250-251, 357n19 Conservative movement, follower role advocated by, 60 Contexts: and follower role orientations, 30-31, 34, 37; for leadership, 42, 344n2 Coughlan, E., 199 Counter-anthropomorphism, 205 Courageous conscience, 14-15 The Courageous Follower (Chaleff), 6, 67, 70, 71, 72, 74, 85, 111, 113, 124, 128 Courageous followers: challenging authority, 72, 78-79, 166-167, 170-171; and fear, 80, 119; and followership styles matrix, 74–75;

giving support to leaders, 72, 73–75, 86, 165–166; and leadership-followership state paradigm, 52; learning skills of, 82–84; and media accounts of leadership failures, 81–82; paradox of, 82; participating in transformation, 72, 167–169; responsibility assumed by, 72, 164–165; sources of values of, 79; taking moral action, 73, 84–86, 169–170

- Courageous followership: and commitment, 118–120; course on, at Georgetown University, 112–114, 115; creating culture of, 128–136; implementing, in contemporary organizations, 121, 176; model of attitudes and behaviors of, 72–73; organizational level of people exhibiting behaviors of, 173–174; as way to transform organizational culture, 110–112, 124–125
- Covey, S., 21, 102
- Creative Catalysts, 295-299
- Creative Skeptics, 300–303
- Creative Statics, 303–305
- Creative Supporters, 299-300
- Creativity, 292. See also Followers for creativity
- Crossley, C. D., 335
- Culbert, S., 76
- Culture: changed American, 211; contemporary, and large organizations, 70; and followership, 10–11; valuing human dignity, 69, 86–87. See also Organizational culture Cyberbullying, 225

D

De Bivort, L., 142, 349n7 Democracy: in digital age, 325; and whistleblowers, 237–238 Department of Defense, whistleblower at, 244–246 Depersonalization: applied to self, 269; defined, 268–269; and leadership, 270 Devlin, P. G., 291 Disguised identity, 318–320, 371n25, 372n42 Dixon, G., 155 The Dogs of Pavlov (Abse), 198 Douglas, M., 244 Dragoni, L., 261 Drucker, P., 21 Dukerich, J. M., 310, 369n9 Durkheim, E., 250–251, 357n19 "Dying by Degrees" (Coughlan), 199 Dylan, B., 112

E

Eden, D., 30 Edmonson A C., 336 Education: enabling independent followers, 32: Jesuit, at Georgetown University, 114-115, 124-125 Ehrlich, S. B., 310, 369n9 Elias, N., 248 Ellard, K., 224 Elms, A., 206 Employee, self-management programs for, 32 Employees: as barrier to culture of courageous followership, 133; 4-D Followership Model of, 144–148; increasing engagement and effectiveness of, 129-130; not considered in change initiatives, 142-143; self-perceptions of, as followers, 140-141 Enron, 30, 81, 190, 315, 335 Error reporting, 336–337 Ethics, of followership, 20-24 Exhilaration, 191, 192-194 Expectations: leader, 30, 34; team, 37 Experience, enabling independent followers, 32

F

FAA, airline insulation standards, 239 - 240Fastow, A., 190 Fear: and courage, 80-81, 119; situational, 184, 192 Feedback, 18, 83, 160, 289 Feminist studies, and resistant selves, 317, 320-321 Fiedler, F. E., 46 Fiore, S. M., 35 Fiorina, C., 280 Fleming, P., 316 Follett, M. P., 17, 325 Follow, defined, 64 Follower role orientations, 25–39; antecedents and outcome of, 27: defined, 26; future research on, 37-39; independent, 31-34, 38; interactive, 27-31, 37-38; shifting, 34-37, 38, 51-52; value of, 25-26 Followers: as collaborators, 57, 58, 60, 63; constraints on leaders, 263-264, 273-274; defined, 54, 278; disempowered, 76–77; employees' perceptions of themselves as, 140–141; future recearch on, 62-63; as independent agents in organizations, 256-257; leaders' influence on, 264–266; negative connotation of tern, 14, 72, 158–159; as outmoded concept, 63-64; ownership of vision by, 280, 290; paradoxes of, 161-163; participation of, in vision, 285-289, 290; psychological ownership among, 328-332, 337; redefining, 56-61; resistance by, 216, 315-318, 320-321; roles and responsibilities of, 13, 14-15, 72, 162-163; self-regulation by, 259-260; sensemaking by, 257-259; as serving common purpose with leaders, 71; situations requiring behavior of, 61-62; toxic, 220,

225–226. See also Courageous followers; Employees; Followers for creativity; Leader-follower relationship
Followers for creativity, 291–307; assumptions underlying research on, 292–293; courage needed by, 293, 306; dimensions of, 294–295; model of, 295; and previous work on followership, 293; recommendations on, 306; types of, 295–305
Followership: areas for research on, 9–15; contemporary focus on 6, 310

- contemporary focus on, 6, 310, 326–328; defined, 48–49, 54–55, 139; ethics of, 20-24; and follower identity, 310–311; 4-D model of, 144–148; implications of Milgram's obedience experiments for, 200-206; lack of attention given, 1-3, 5, 143-144, 160, 253, 291, leadership literature on, 255-256; need to teach skills of, 12-13, 220, 233; as outmoded concept, 54–56; post-structuralist approach to, 311–313, 369n9; relationship between leadership and, 93, 97-98, 138-139; researching leadership from vantage point of, 11-12; romanticizing, 320-321, 322; as shifting role, 34-37, 51–52, 174–176; and social identity theory, 272-274, 275-276, 310; terminology used for, 14, 54–56, 139; and vision, 279-280. See also Courageous followership
- Followership styles: Chaleff's model of, 74–75; hypothetical exercises to explore, 77–78; model of, 7–9; preferred by leaders, 13, 170; self-assessment of, 75–77, 346n5
- Foucault, M., 249, 312, 314, 316, 370n11
- 4-D Followership Model, 144–153; application of, 149–153; overview of, 144–148
- Freud, S., 187, 196, 215

Friedman, T., 61 Fromm, E., 212, 314

G

Gabriel, P., 198 Gandhi, M., 176 Gardner, W. L., 29, 327 Gates, B., 277, 279–280 Geertz, C., 188 Georgetown University: commitment at, 115–117; Courageous Follower course at, 112-114; impact of Courageous Follower course at, 115; Jesuit education at, 114-115, 124-125 Gill, R., 288 Girard, R., 242–243 Giuliani, R., 42 Gladwell, M., 102 Goals, of followers, 259-260 Goffman, E., 319 Granberg, D., 204 Greenleaf, R. K., 121, 123, 124 Grint, K., 317 Grossman, D., 199 Groupthink, 36, 80-81

н

0:112424 Hankiss, E., 184 Harris, R., 244-246 HealthSouth, 81 Heidegger, M., 19-20 Heifetz, R. A., 318 Hierarchical organizations: not ready for participative management, 122-124; research on leadership in, 45, 345n8; structures vs. relationships in, 76 Hierarchy of Needs (Maslow), 80, 81 Himmler, H., 193 Hirschman, A. D., 318 Hitler, A., 192 Hitt, M. A., 256, 262

Hobbes, T., 243 Hock, D., 215 Hogg, M. A., 254, 267 Hollander, E., 256, 340n1(ch.1) Holocaust: behavior of Nazis in, 196, 199, 207, 314; influence of, 67; as large organizational violence, 243 Homer, 42 Hopper, A., 288 Hopper, L., 109 House, R. J., 310, 311 Howell, J. P., 25, 27 Hussein, S., 68, 69

I

Identity: conformist, 313–315; disguised, 318-320, 371n25, 372n42; follower, and followership, 310-311; of interactive followers' sense of, 29; poststructuralist view of, 312-313, 322-323, 370n11; and psychological wwnership, 330–331; resistant, 315-318. See also Self-concepts; Social identity theory Ignatius of Loyola, 114, 124-125 Iliad (Homer), 42 Implicit leadership theories (ILTs), 258 - 259"In Praise of Followers" (Kelley), 5-6 Independent follower role orientation, 31-34, 38 Individualized self-concept, 33-34 Influence (Cialdini), 116 Innovation. See Followers for creativity Interactive follower role orientation, 27-31, 37-38 Interactive social character, 213-214, 215-216 Ireland, R. D., 256, 262 IRS, whistleblower at, 241 Isocrates, 21 It Takes Two (Boccialetti), 75

J

Jackall, R., 247–248 Janis, I. L., 80 Jaussi, K. S., 291 Jesus, 125 Jones, J., 29, 186 Jung, C., 141

Κ

Kellerman, B., 6, 12, 67 Kelley, R. E., 2, 5, 6, 28, 60, 67, 68, 69, 75, 111, 143, 164, 293, 294 Kennedy, J. F., 192 King, M. L. Jr., 190-191 Kirkpatrick, S. A., 43, 279 Kleiner, K., 89 Knowledge economy, leadership in, 211-212, 256 Kogod, S. K., 98, 108 Kondo, D. K., 320 Kouzes, J. S., 46 Kuhn, T., 189

L

HHHH! LaFasto, F.M.J., 36 Larson, C. E., 36 Laurie, D. L., 318 Leader-follower paradigm, 42-44 Leader-follower relationship: collaborative, and courage, 171-172; as continuum, 219; as dichotomy, 55-56; and follower structures, 257-263; in leader-follower organization, 174–176; leadership literature on, 255-256; new model of, 71; as partnership in reciprocal following, 17-24; transparency in, 334-337; trust in, 332-334, 337 Leaders: challenging, 72, 78-79, 166-167, 170–171; contemporary need for,

210-212; courage to support, 72, 73-75,

86, 165–166; creation of courageous followers by, 121; defined, 209-210, 278; in disguise, star followers as, 8; failures of, and courageous followership, 81-82; followers' constraints on, 263-264, 273-274; followership styles preferred by, 13, 170; influence on followers, 264-266; overemphasis on value of, 158-159; reasons for following, 215; servant, 86, 121, 123, 125; as serving common purpose with followers, 71; as teachers and learners, 163; teaching skills for confronting, 82-84. See also Toxic leaders Leadership: as barrier to courageous followership culture, 132; charismatic, 12, 183, 271, 310, 311; collaborative, 57, 61, 63, 171-172, 215-217; contexts for, 42 344n2; defined, 48, 56, 61, 139, 311; follower substitutes for, 31–32; follower-based neutralizers of, 33; followers not considered in study of, 1–2, 5; inalienable truths of, 159–161; and management, 45, 56, 156-158, 346n2(ch.6); overemphasized in college admissions process, 89-93; relationship between followership and, 93, 97-98, 138-139; researching, from followership vantage point, 11–12; as shifting role, 34–37, 51–52, 174–176; social identity theory of, 269-272, 274-275, 370n12; stereotypical, 155–156; terminology used for, 14; transformational, 110, 256, 265, 271, 326–327; and vision, 277, 279

Leadership Alchemy program: changes resulting from, 106-108; employment after participation in, 107, 348n14; followership role of graduates of, 101–104; leadership themes, 97; new future created by graduates of,

104–106; overview of, 98–99; promised outcomes of, 99-101; on transitioning between leadership and followership, 97-98 Leadership development: authentic (ALD), 327–328; of children vs. adults, 220, 233; and leadership-followership state paradigm, 52. See also Leadership Alchemy program Leadership for the Twenty-First Century (Rost), 54 Leadership presence, 99–100 Leadership-followership organizational position paradigm, 45-47 Leadership-followership state paradigm, 47 - 52Learning: as collaborative, 91-92; and followership, 18-19, 163; and leadership, 19-20, 163; skills of courageous followers, 82-84 Leavitt, H. J., 192 Legal profession, and Milgram's obedience experiments, 199 Lennon, J., 58, 139 Levinson, A., 216 Lewandowski, J., 166-167, 170 Lewin, K., 196 Lipman-Blumen, J., 6, 12, 67, 31 Litowitz, D., 206 Locke, E. A., 43, 279 Long, J., 241, 244 Lord, R. G., 38, 254, 255, 311, 370n11

Μ

Maccoby, M., 76, 209, 314 MacKenzie, D., 158, 172 Maitland, A., 216 Management: history of leadership as viewed by, 156–158; and leadership, 45, 56, 346n2(ch.6); middle, follower behaviors of, 174 Mann Gulch fire disaster, 258 Manson, C., 29 Marion, R., 265, 326 Markus, H., 260 Maroosis, J., 17 Marston, W. M., 141 Maslow, A., 47, 80, 81, 345n11 McGuire, D., 239-240 Media: for communicating vision, 287; leadership failures chronicled in, 81–82; stereotypes of leaders/followers in, 43, 52 Meindl, J. R., 2, 3, 255, 310, 322, 369nn3, 9 Méndez, M. J., 25 Mentoring programs, 31 Merck, G., 277 Meyerson, D. E., 320 Milgram, S., obedience experiments of, 195-208, 314 Les Misérables, 58-59 Modiglian, A., 205 Morality: and actions of courageous followers, 73, 84-86, 169-170; individual, and social situations, 197, 202-206. See also Whistleblowers Mouton, J. S., 46

Ν

NASA, organizational culture of, 96–97, 104. See also Leadership Alchemy program Needs, Hierarchy of (Maslow), 80, 81 Northouse, P. G., 43

0

Obedience (Milgram), 202 Obedience experiments, Milgram's, 195–208, 314; and Holocaust, 196, 199, 207; implications for followership, 200–206; influence of, 196, 198–200; origin of, 195–196; and positive aspect of obedience, 206–208; procedure and results of, 197–198 Oestreich, D., 80

O'Keefe, S., 97

Organizational culture: creating, of courageous followership, 128–136; designing initiative to change, 134–135; of NASA, 96–97; not ready for participative management, 122–124; transforming, with courageous followership, 110–112, 124–125

Organizational position paradigm, 45–47 Organizational vision. See Vision, organizational

Organizations: all-leader, 158–159; change initiatives of, and employees, 142–143; creative, 292; followers as independent agents in, 256-257; hierarchical, 45, 76, 122-124, 345n8; individual morality in, 197, 202–206; informal structures of, 260-263; leader and follower, 161; leader-follower, 173, 174-176; sacredness of, 249-251; social, and disruptive moral behavior, 239, 243-244, 356n6; sources of power of, 247-249; surveillance in, and employee identity, 318-320, 371n25 Orpheus Chamber Orchestra, 35 Ownership: psychological, among followers, 328-332, 337; of vision, 280, 290

Ρ

Paradigms: defined, 41–42, 344n1; leaderfollower, 42–44; leadership-followership organizational position, 45–47; leadership-followership state, 47–52
Park, S., 112, 113
Participation: bystander, 232; follower, in vision creation, 285–289, 290; student, 91–92; in transformations, 72, 167–169
Pearson, C. S., 43
Peer pressure, 12–13, 204, 230
Pfeiffer, P., 207–208
Physical bullying, 223–224 Pillai, R., 257

Play, 296–297, 368n8

Political gamesmen, 28–29

Posner, B. Z., 46

Post-structuralist approach: to followership, 311–313, 369n9; to identity, 312–313, 322–323, 370n11; and romanticizing followership, 320–321, 322; and workplace identities, 313–320
Potter, J., 288
Power: of follower role, 77; and social identification, 276; sources of, of organizations, 247–249; and whistleblowers, 251
The Power of Followership (Kelley), 6, 12,

111 Pragmatics, as followership style, 7–8, 13 Prototypes: defined, 268; and follower-

ship, 272–274; and leadership, 270–272, 274–275

Pryor. D., 245

R

Recruitment, and courageous followership culture, 130 Reichard, R. J., 325 Reicher, S. D., 274 Relational bullying, 224–225 Relational self-concept, 29-30 Resistance: by followers, 216, 320–321; identity characterized by, 315-318, 320; leadership's approach to, 216. See also Whistleblowers Retention, and courageous followership culture, 129 Rethinking Followership Conference, 3 Reward systems, 30-31 Riggio, R., 6 Risk: and courage, 78–79; and courageous followership culture, 130-131 Rochat, F., 205 Rost, J. C., 35, 45, 47, 48, 53, 54, 139, 158, 173

Roth, W., 241 Rowley, C., 183 Ryan, K., 80

S

Salas, E., 35 Sarbanes-Oxley Act, 157 Sartre, J.-P., 243 Sashkin, M., 280 Self-concepts: collective, 36–37; further research on, 38-39; individualized, 33-34; relational, 29-30; working (WSC), 260, 262. See also Identity; Social identity theory Self-regulation, by followers, 259-260 Senge, P. M., 171 Sennett, R., 237, 312 Sensemaking, by followers, 257-259 Servant-leaders, 86, 121, 123, 125 Service economy, leadership in, 211-212 Shamir, B., 28, 29, 310, 311, 314 Sheep, as followership style, 7, 28 Shifting follower role orientation, 34–37, 38, 51 - 52Shils, E., 250 -Ship (suffix), defined, 47-48, 54 Skilling, J., 190 Skills: for bystanders to bullying, 234–235; courageous followership, 82-84; followership, 12-13, 220, 233 Social character: and collaborative leadership, 215-217; defined, 212; and reasons for following leaders, 215; and resistance to leadership, 216; shift from bureaucratic to interactive, 212-214 Social identity theory: and followership, 272-274, 275-276, 310; of leadership, 269-272, 274-275, 370n12; overview of, 268-269. See also Identity; Self-concepts Social loafers, 36 Star followers, as followership style, 8, 13

Stech, E. L., 41
Stefanovich, A., 291
Students, classroom participation of, 91–92
Suicide bombers, 9–10
Supervisors, follower behaviors of, 174
Support: by courageous followers, 72, 73–75, 86, 165–166; by students, 93

Т

Taylor, F., 156 Teaching: courageous followership skills, 82-84; followership skills, 12-13, 220, 233; as responsibility of leaders and followers, 163; skills as bystanders to bullying, 234–235 The Tenth Level (Bellak), 198 Terminology, for followership/leadership, 14, 54-56, 139 Thomas Aquinas, 19 Toxic followers, bystanders to bullying as, 220, 225-226 Toxic leaders, 181–194; costs of being close to, 190–191; courageous followership culture as antidote to, 131; defined, 182-183; follower responsibility to stand up to, 14-15; as followership issue, 12; human needs contributing to following, 183-185; illusions offered by, 185-189, 192, 193; reasons for following, 183 Training: enabling independent followers, 31-32; and hesitancy to change, 109-110; limited results of, 110; and Milgram's obedience experiments, 199 Transference, 215 Transformational leadership, 110, 256, 265, 271, 326-327 Transformations, participation in, 72, 167-169 Transparency, in leader-follower relationship, 334-337 Tripp, T. M., 348n6

Trust, in leader-follower relationship, 332–334, 337 Turning to One Another (Wheatley), 108 Twain, Mark, 21

U

Uhl-Bien, M., 257, 265, 326 Uken, B., 127 Ullmen, J., 76 Uncertainty-identity theory, 276 U.S. Army, and Milgram's obedience experiments, 199

V

Values: with leader-follower paradigm, 43-44; with leadership-followership state paradigm, 50; with organizational position paradigm, 46; sources of, of courageous followers, 79; workplace vs. democratic, 237 Verbal bullying, 223 Vinson, B., 190 Virk, R., 224 Vision, organizational, 277-290; alignment of, 284-285; defined, 279; follower ownership of, 280, 290; follower participation in, 285–289, 290; and followership, 279-280; and leadership, 278, 279; misalignment of, 281-283 Voglegesang, G. R., 335 Vulnerability, and trust, 332, 333-334

W

Wade, M., 214 War, lessons from, 191–192 Weber, M., 1–2 Weick, K. E., 258 Welch, J., 157, 277 Westbrook, J., 165-166 Wharton, E., 125 Wheatley, M., 47, 108, 111, 112 Whistleblowers, 237–251; agreement by, to keep quiet, 239-240; armed escorts for, 248-249, 357n16; defined, 238; and individuals in mass democracy, 237-238; internal, 238-239, 244; and organizational power, 247–249; research on, 355n3; retaliation against, 238-239, 242, 244, 246, 318, 356n4, 356n12; and sacredness of organizations, 249–251; self-secrifice by, 240–243; typical example of, 244–246 Williams, G. S., 95 Working self-concept (WSC), 260, 262 World events, followership and, 9–10 WorldCom, 81, 190 Wurf, E., 260

Y

Yates, B., 190 Yes-people: executives' preference for, 13; as followership style, 7, 28