

Contents

Foreword	xiii
Introduction	xv
CHAPTER 1
Recent Hedge Fund Scandals	1
Palm Beach, Florida	1
KL Financial, March 2005	2
Ritzly Palm Beach Offices: Looking the Part	3
Ronald Kochman: The Facilitator	4
The Duping and the Post Mortem	4
Amaranth Advisors, September 2006	6
Outgrowing Its Core Competency	7
Brian Hunter	7
Risk Management Failure	8
Bernie Madoff, December 2008	9
Bernie the Broker Overnight Becomes a
Derivatives Trader	10
Palm Beach Connection and Robert Jaffe	12
Conclusion: Failure of the So-Called Experts:
The Funds of Funds	13
Split Strike Convergence	14
The Mystery of the Missing $65 Billion	15
Lesson 1: Relationships Do Not Trump Due Diligence	18
Lesson 2: When Investing in Hedge Funds, Hire Experts	18
Lesson 3: “We Did Not Know What We Were
Investing In” Is Not An Excuse	19
Conclusion: So Called Experts, Funds of Funds, Have Failed	19

CHAPTER 2
The Players	21
Flow of Capital in the Hedge Fund Industry	22
Pension Funds	22
High Net Worth Individuals (HNWs)	24
Banks	26
Endowments	28
Conclusion	30
CHAPTER 3
Hedge Funds	31
Incentives and the Disincentives of the Hedge Fund Fee Structure	32
Education of the Future Hedge Fund Manager	35
Jim Simons, Renaissance Technologies (A $34 billion hedge fund)	35
Training Grounds of the Hedge Fund Manager	36
The Chart Readers	37
The Quants	37
The Global Macro Trader	38
From a Caterpillar to a Butterfly	39
Skills of a Trader	40
Personality of a Trader	42
Andrew Lahde's Goodbye Letter	42
CHAPTER 4
Hedge Fund Strategies	45
Long-Short Equity	46
Event Driven	47
Global Macro	49
Fixed-Income Arbitrage	50
Relative Value Arbitrage	51
Effect of 2008 on these Strategies and Looking Forward	53
CHAPTER 5
Hedge Fund Service Providers and Regulators	57
Building a Business	57
Lawyers	58
The Offering Memorandum: Caveat Emptor	59

Administrators and Custodians	61
Auditors/Accountants	65
Prime Brokers	67
Third-Party Marketers	68
Regulators	70
The Toothless SEC	71
Conclusion	73
CHAPTER 6
Funds of Hedge Funds	75
Philosophy and Services	75
Failure of Fiduciary Duties	77
Statistical Bucketing by Strategy	78
Due Diligence and the Analyst	79
What's in a Name?	81
The AIMA Due Diligence Questionnaire	82
Where Are the Experienced Professionals?	84
The (Lack of) Ongoing Due Diligence	85
Multi-Strategy Hedge Funds	86
CHAPTER 7
An Expert Failure	89
Uselessness of Historical Data Crunching	89
Quest for Steady Returns: Systematic Destruction of Alpha	92
Bucketing by Asset Class and Geography: A Flawed Concept	94
Alpha versus Beta: The Trader Generates
Alpha, not the Strategy	97
Prolonged Bull or Bear Market	99
Markets with Short Cycles	99
Relative Value Markets	100
Specialized Strategies	100
10 Percent to 20 Percent Allocation Rule	101
Managing a Hedge Fund Manager	103
Bookrunner Versus a Proprietary Trader	104
So-Called Hedge Fund Experts	105
Hedge Funds: House of Second or Third Chances?	107
John Meriwether	107
Brian Hunter	107
December 2008: Deutsche Bank Credit Desk	107
January 2009	108

Why Does a Losing Hedge Fund Manager Shut down His Fund?	108
Why Does the Industry Keep Funding a Failed Trader?	108
Conclusion	110
CHAPTER 8
Remodeling the Funds of Hedge Funds	113
Five Inviolable Commandments	113
Traders Managing Trading Investments	114
Differentiate Between Alpha and Beta Strategies	115
Bucketing Based on Trader Methodology	116
Mean Reversion	117
Positive Carry	118
Systematic or High Frequency	118
Momentum	119
Appropriate Risk Template by Strategy	120
Hypothetical Interest Rate Risk Report	121
Hypothetical FX (Foreign Exchange) Risk Report	124
Manager Stop Loss and Linked Redemptions	126
Hypothetical Returns of a Proprietary Trader	128
Not 10 Percent, Majority Every Time	130
Ongoing Due Diligence: It Is Not Just About Returns	132
CHAPTER 9
Correct Risk Due Diligence	135
Position Concentration, So What?	136
Management of Stop Loss Limits: The Be-All and End-All	137
Over-Leverage and Illiquidity	139
Market Liquidity	140
Borrowed Cash	140
Long Gamma Leverage	141
Hedging: Will the Market Let You Short?	142
CHAPTER 10
Interviewing a Hedge Fund Manager	145
Relationship	145
Strategy-Related Questions	146
What Qualifies You to Execute This Strategy?	149
Work Experience	151
Risk Appetite	152

*Contentsxi

Thinker, Adapter, Entrepreneur?	154
Discipline and Character	155
CHAPTER 11
Hedge Fund Industry's Role in 2008 Market Crisis	159
Borrowers, Bankers, and Investors	161
Don't Blame the Products, Blame the Users	162
Failed Due Diligence on Part of Investors	163
Failure of Fiduciary Responsibilities by Brokers and Lies by Borrowers	164
No Hedge Fund Has Been Bailed Out	165
Systemic Risk and Derivative Transactions	167
Regulating Hedge Funds	169
CHAPTER 12
The End	171
Robert Allen Stanford's Ponzi Scheme	171
Hedge Fund Industry Offers More Disclosure	172
Similar Problems with the Pension Funds, Endowments, SWFs	173
Bibliography	175
Index	179

<http://www.pbookshop.com>