

Index

A

- Accelerated learning, 205–206
- Accenture Workplace survey (2006), 6
- Action learning, 206
- Action planning: Action Planning Worksheet, 231–232; best use of, 226; professional development through, 225–230
- Activists learning style, 37–38
- ADA Approach (learners do an activity), 130
- Adapt, Purchase, or Develop? Worksheet, 152–155
- ADDIE analysis stage: analyzing the need during, 55; assessing what you know about, 75; Francesca’s analysis process during, 65–66; identifying instructional design team, 65; identifying learners’ needs and characteristics, 63–64; identifying training constraints during, 63; overview of, 52; stakeholder identification during, 62–63; summary of activities during, 53–54; what you should know about the, 56–57
- ADDIE design stage: overview of, 52; summary of activities during, 54; Training Program Design Planning Worksheet for, 79–82; writing the learning objectives, 67–74
- ADDIE development stage: list of tasks during, 114; overview of, 52; program development steps during the, 115–146; reviewing what tasks have to be finished, 111–113, 114; summary of activities during, 54; training delivery decisions during, 73, 74, 83–109
- ADDIE evaluation stage: designing program evaluation, 142–146; overview of, 53; summary of activities during, 54; testing the program, 140–141
- ADDIE implementation stage: overview of, 52–53; summary of activities during, 54
- ADDIE model: analysis stage of, 52–66, 75; description and overview of, 50–54; design stage of, 52, 54, 67–74; development stage of, 52, 54, 73, 74, 83–109, 111–158; evaluation stage of, 53, 54, 142–146; illustrated diagram of, 51; implementation stage, of, 52–53, 54, 159–201
- Adult learning: differences between child and, 29*t*; feedback and a positive reinforcement of, 34; learner-centered versus trainer-centered training, 25–28; real-world applications of, 34; unique requirements for, 23–24, 28. See also Learning; Learning styles; Participants
- Affective (attitude) domain, 43
- Agenda (program), 135
- American Conservatory Theatre, 187–188
- Analysis stage. See ADDIE analysis stage
- Andragogy, 31, 206
- Androgical learning model, 206
- Apply What You Learn icon: on development and evaluation planning, 147; on giving workshops, 198; on introduction to training, 18; language of training, 213; professional development action plan, 230; on training delivery, 103–104; on training programs for adult learners, 45–46
- Applying learning, 131
- The Art of Great Training Delivery* (Barbazette), 124
- ASTD (American Society for Training and Development), 15, 224
- ASTD Competency Study (2004), 15
- ASTD State of the Industry Report (2007), 85
- Asynchronous training: definition of, 206; description of, 86, 87–88; Quick Quiz on, 86, 105–106; synchronous vs., 88*t*
- Attitude (affective) domain, 43
- Audience, 206

Auditory learners, 39, 206
Authoring tool, 206
Avatar, 206

B

Barbazette, J., 124
Baseline, 206
Behavioral objectives, 206
Beta testing, 140–141, 151
Biech, E., 14, 180, 217
Blended learning, 98, 206
Bloom, B., 43
Bloom's Taxonomy, 43, 207
Bodily-kinesthetic intelligence, 40
Bowman, S., 31, 117
Breakout room, 207

C

Caffarella, R., 48
Case study, 207
Change: needs assessment to identify need and outcome, 58; recognizing training role in, 59–60; root cause-current situation gap and, 58–59; training to manage, 8
Check What You Know icon: about training, 1–2; analysis process, 56, 65–66, 75; becoming a training professional, 215–216, 222; concerns about implementing program, 159; delivery options, 83, 89, 99, 105, 106–108; designing training programs, 47; developing vs. purchasing program, 115, 148; development tasks, 113, 148; experiential learning, 129, 150; giving workshops, 198–199; instructional design process, 49; learning activities, 125; learning objectives, 68, 77; learning styles and training, 41; matching learning activity to program type, 149; preparing participants for training, 166; program evaluation, 142; room setups, 172, 199; running the workshop, 192; structuring training programs, 131, 150; teaching adults, 23–24; testing the program, 140; training requests and urgency, 74; training terminology, 203–204; what content to include, 118; what makes a “good” trainer, 11–12; what the development tasks are, 111; what trainers do, 9; why organizations need training, 6; workshop opening, 133, 151; workshop preparation, 162, 182

Child learners, 29t
Chunking, 207
Classroom style setup, 175
Cognitive (knowledge) domain, 43
Cognitive skills, 207
Collaborative learning, 207
Collaborative skills, 15, 16
Comfort factor, 178
Communication skills, 13
Competency, 207
Competency model, 207
Computer-based training (CBT), 207
Conceptualizing (or processing), 130
Confirmation of reservations, 180–182
Connecting (or generalizing), 131
Content: creating sequence of, 132; definition of, 207; identifying and organizing the, 117–119; using learning objectives to select, 118–124, 149. See also Learning activities
Contingency plans, 180–182
Courseware, 207
Covey, S., 58
Creative Training Techniques (Pike), 4, 130, 167, 184
Creativity, 14
“Creativity, Emergence, and the Design of Learning Experiences” (Honebein), 113
Criterion-referenced instruction, 208
Cross-training, 208
Cultural differences, 7
Current situation-root cause gap, 58–59
Customer service training, 8

D

Declarative knowledge, 43
Deductive learning, 208
Delivery. See Training delivery
Demographics, 208

Design, 208
Design stage. See ADDIE design stage
Designing training programs: ADDIE model used in, 50–57; challenges involved in, 47–48; instructional design process for, 49–50
DeTuncq, T. H., 67
Development stage. See ADDIE development stage
Discovery learning, 208
Distance learning, 208

E

e-Learning, 208
Employees. See Participants
Enabling objective, 208
Equipment: checking availability of, 165; confirming reservation of, 182; reserving the, 178
Evaluation. See ADDIE evaluation stage; Training program evaluation
Experiencing, 130
Experiential learning, 129–131, 150, 208

F

Facilitator's guide, 139, 209
Facilities: checking availability and accessibility of, 164–165; confirming arrangements and making contingency plans, 180–181; room setups, 172, 173–178
Feedback, 34
Flexibility: of successful trainers, 14; training to increase organizational, 7
Foshay, W., 28
Francesca's Analysis Process, 65–66
Front-end analysis. See Needs assessment

G

Gardner, H., 39, 113, 217
Gardner's multiple intelligences, 39–40, 210
Gargiulo, T. L., 11, 161
Generalizing (or connecting), 131
Governmental regulation training, 8
Ground rules, 209
Group norms, 209

Guest speakers, 165
Gupta, K., 55

H

Handouts, 138
Hodell, C., 53
Honebein, P. C., 113
Honey, P., 37
Human performance improvement (HPI), 209
Humor, 17

I

Icebreaker, 189, 209
"If You Don't Know Where You're Going, You Will Probably End UP Somewhere Else" (DeTuncq), 67
Implementation stage. See ADDIE implementation stage
In-person workshops, 90–91, 92, 108, 109
Inductive learning, 209
Instructional design: analysis stage for planning, 52–66; definition of, 209; identifying team members of, 65; learner-centered versus trainer-centered, 25–28; process of, 49–50; on training delivery, 73–74; Training Program Design Planning Worksheet on, 79–82; writing learning objectives, 67–74
Instructional systems design (ISD), 209
Instructional technology, 209
Instructors, 209
Interpersonal intelligence, 40
Intranet, 209
Intrapersonal intelligence, 40
ISD from the Ground Up: A No-Nonsense Approach to Instructional Design (Hodell), 53

J

Job aids, 209
Job analysis. See Task analysis

K

Keeps, E. J., 27, 99
Kinesthetic learners, 39, 210

Knowledge: declarative vs. procedural, 43;
domain of cognitive, 43
Knowles, M., 31
Kolb, D., 37
KSAs (Knowledge, Skills, and Attitude),
43, 207

L

Language of training: acronyms, 212; glossary of, 205–213; importance of learning the, 205;
importance of understanding, 203–205
Learner-Centered Teaching (Weimer), 25, 30
Learner-centered training: comparing trainer-centered and, 25–28, 33–34; description of, 29–30; how trainers use, 31–32, 35; room
setups conveying, 199
Learning: accelerated, 205–206; action, 206;
andragogy approach to, 31, 206; blended, 98, 206; deductive, 208; discovery, 208;
distance, 208; experiential, 129–131, 150, 208; inductive, 209; real-world situation applications of, 34; self-directed, 211; successful trainer's enthusiasm for, 13–14;
traditional pedagogical model of, 31. See also Adult learning
Learning activities: ADA Approach (learners do an activity) to, 130; developing, 124, 129;
experiential learning through, 129–131, 150, 208; guidelines for selecting, 128; matching training program type to, 149; role play, 210;
structuring the program, 131–133; types of,
126–127. See also Content
Learning collaborative, 207
Learning domains, 43
Learning management system (LMS), 210
Learning objectives: check what you know about, 68, 77; content development guided by, 118–124, 149; definition of, 210; enabling objective and, 208; identifying descriptive words for, 70–71; importance of writing, 67; practice for rewriting, 72; thinking about what makes good, 69, 70–72, 77–78; as training delivery consideration, 100; training design enabling, 73; Training Program
Design Planning Worksheet on, 79–82

Learning programs: asynchronous, 86, 87–88*t*, 206; blended learning, 98, 206; decision to develop, adapt, or purchase, 115–117;
off-the-shelf, 115–117, 148, 210; on-the-job training, 95–96; podcasts, 96, 97, 137, 210; self-directed e-Learning, 94, 137; self-paced print, 93, 137, 211; study groups, 95;
synchronous, 86, 87, 88*t*, 211; videos, 97, 137.
See also Training programs
Learning styles: differences in, 36–37; four primary, 37–38; how they impact training, 41–42; learner-centered training approach to, 32; multiple intelligences and, 39–40;
three primary sensory receivers and, 38–39.
See also Adult learning; Participants
Learning Styles Questionnaire, 37
Learning types: differences in, 42; three learning domains and, 43
“Lifelong Learning” (Biech), 217
Live in-person workshops: matching topics to,
108; materials for, 137; overview of, 90–91;
virtual vs., 92, 109
Logical-mathematical intelligence, 39

M

Mager, R. F., 60, 69, 71
Managers training preferences, 102
Mandated training issues, 64
Materials. See Training materials
Mentors, 224
Motivation, 28
Multiple intelligences, 39–40, 210
Mumford, A., 37
Murray, R., 161
Musical intelligence, 40

N

Nadler, L., 3
Naturalist intelligence, 40
Needs assessments: during analysis stage of ADDIE model, 55; definition of, 210; to identify training need and outcome, 58; of learners' needs and characteristics, 63–64;
on root cause-current situation gap, 58–59;
trainer role in, 10. See also Training needs

Nervousness, 190

O

Off-the-shelf learning programs, 115–117, 148, 210

On-the-job training: description of, 95–96; trainer's role in, 10

Organizations: root cause-current situation gap in, 59–60; why training is needed by, 5–8

P

Participants: considering the schedules of, 164; demographics of, 208; getting ready to conduct training by thinking about, 183; mandated training and, 64; needs and characteristics of, 63–64, 100; notifying and preparing for training, 166–171; physical location of, 101; planning Q&A (questions and answers) with, 184; pre-work assignments given to, 170–171, 210; pre-workshop questionnaire given to, 169; tips for handling disruptive behavior by, 196–197; training benefits to, 6–8; training delivery and considerations related to, 100, 101; Training Program Design Planning Worksheet on, 79–82; “Welcome” e-mail sent to, 168; workshop engagement by, 194. See also Adult learning; Learning styles

Patience, 16–17

PEAK: How Great Companies Get Their Mojo from Maslow (Conley), 216

Pedagogical learning model, 31, 210

Pedagogy, 210

Peer learning. See Collaborative learning

People skills, 15, 16

Personal learning environment, 210

Pike, B., 4, 167, 184

Pilot testing, 140–141, 151, 210

Planning and Preparing for a Workshop Worksheet, 200–201

Planning Programs for Adult Learners (Caffarella), 48

Podcasts, 96, 97, 137, 210

Positive reinforcement, 34

A Practical Guide to Needs Assessment (Gupta, Sleezer, and Russ-Eft), 55

Pragmatists learning style, 38

Pre-work assignments, 170–171, 210

Pre-workshop questionnaire, 169

Preparing Instructional Objectives (Mager), 69, 71

Problem-solving skills, 15

Procedural knowledge, 43

Processing (or conceptualizing), 130

Productive workforce training, 6

Professional conferences, 224

Professional development: Action Planning Worksheet for, 231–232; making a plan for, 225–229; strategies for continuing, 222–225

Psychomotor (skills) domain, 43

Q

Quality improvement, 8

Quick Quiz icon: on adult learning, 44; on development and evaluation planning, 146; on giving workshops, 197; on introduction to training, 17; on synchronous and asynchronous training, 86, 105–106; on training delivery decisions, 102

R

Rapid e-learning, 210

Real-world situation applications, 34

Rectangular tables: chevron shape, 176; classroom style, 175; conference setup, 173

Reflecting, 130

Reflectors learning style, 38

Refreshments, 178, 180

Reservation confirmations, 180–182

ROI (return on investment), 146, 211

Role play, 210

Room setups: comfort factor of, 178; conveying learner-centered workshop, 199; equipment, 165, 178; planning the, 178; preparing materials and supplies for, 179–180; refreshments, 178, 180; table and chair arrangements, 172, 173–178

Root cause-current situation gap, 58–59

Round tables in semi-circle setup, 174

Running workshops: guidelines for, 192–197;
tips for handling disruptive behavior,
196–197; tips for staying on track, 195
Russ-Eft, D. F., 55

S

Scaffolding, 211
Scheduling training, 163–165
Self-assessment (trainer), 20–21
Self-directed e-Learning, 94, 137
Self-directed learning, 211
Self-paced print learning program, 93, 137, 211
Sense of humor, 17
Sharing, 130
Silber, K., 28
Simulation, 211
Skills (psychomotor) domain, 43
Sleezer, C. M., 55
SME (subject-matter expert), 204, 211
Smile sheets, 211
Social media, 211
Society for Human Resource Management
Workplace Forecast (2006), 5, 6
“Some Basics from a Couple of Training Pro’s”
(Gargiulo and Murray), 161
Spatial intelligence, 40 Stakeholders: ADDIE analysis stage on identifying the, 62–63; Training Program
Design Planning Worksheet on, 79–82
Stelnicki, M., 28
Stolovitch, H. D., 27, 99
Study groups, 95
Survival kits, 181
Synchronous training: asynchronous vs., 88*t*;
definition of, 211; description of, 86, 87;
Quick Quiz on, 86, 105–106

T

Table setups: chevron shape, 176; classroom style, 175; conference setup, 173; U-shaped, 177
Target audience, 211
Task analysis, 211
Technological changes training, 7

Telling Ain't Training (Stolovitch and Keeps), 27, 99
Template—Training Materials Work Plan,
156–157
Tennis player learning objectives, 69, 71, 77
Terminal objectives. See Behavioral objectives;
Learning objectives
Testing. See Training program evaluation
Theorists learning style, 38
Think About It icon: about adult learning,
25–26; about changing current situation,
59; about learner-centered training, 29;
about learning objectives, 69, 70–72, 77–78;
about training delivery, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 109; about your own learning experiences, 35, 36; on blended learning programs, 98; characteristics of successful trainers, 13; comparing podcasts and videos, 97; comparing well prepared/poorly prepared workshop, 185; on effective on-the-job training, 96; matching e-learning and topics, 94; matching in-person workshops and delivery method, 91; matching learning objectives with content, 149; nervousness, 190; participant engagement, 194; professional development plan, 225, 228, 229; scheduling the training, 163; selecting content to include, 119–120;
traditional vs. virtual workshops, 92;
trainer-centered versus learner-centered,
33–34; training professional career, 217, 219, 221; on urgency of training, 61, 75–76; what you know about training, 3–5, 19; on when to use study group, 95; your own multiple intelligences, 40
Time-management skills, 14
Traditional in-person workshops, 90–91, 92,
108, 109
Trainer-centered training, comparing learner-centered and, 25–28, 33–34
Trainers: characteristics of “good,” 11–12;
characteristics of successful, 13–17;
competencies of, 15; definition of, 211; how learner-centered approach is used by, 31–32, 35; job description and role, 9–10; observing

- other, 224; self-assessment on potential as, 20–21. See also Training professionals
- Trainer's guide, 139
- Trainer's notes, 139
- The Trainer's Portable Mentor* (Gargiulo), 11, 67, 113, 161, 217
- Training: CBT (computer-based training), 207; definition of, 3; identifying constraints to, 63; issues related to mandated, 64; language of, 203–213; learner-centered training, 25–30; learning styles and, 32, 36–43; on-the-job, 10, 95–96; recognizing change role of, 59–60; trainer's role in, 9–10; urgency of, 61–62, 74, 75–76, 164; varied terminology of, 90; why organizations need, 5–8. See also Training programs
- Training consultant, 211
- Training delivery: applying what you know on, 103–104; assessing what you know about, 83, 89, 99, 105, 106–108; check what you know about, 83, 89; considerations for, 73–74; definition of, 208; goals and learning objectives role in, 100; how to make decisions on, 99–102; learner's needs consideration of, 100; live and in-person workshops, 90–91; three types of, 86–88t; time frame requirements and, 100–101
- Training delivery methods: assessing what you know about, 83, 89, 99, 105, 106–108; asynchronous, 86, 87–88t, 206; blended learning, 98, 206; definition of, 208; live in-person workshop, 90–91, 92, 108, 109; on-the-job training, 10, 95–96; overview of, 85–86; podcasts, 96, 97; questions to use for selecting, 101; self-directed e-Learning, 94; self-paced print, 93; study groups, 95; synchronous, 86, 87, 88t, 211; videos, 97; virtual, 91–92, 109
- Training for Dummies* (Biech), 14, 180
- Training from the Back of the Room* (Bowman), 31, 117
- Training materials: developing program, 136–138; for different training programs, 137; helpful handouts, 138; room setup and, 180; time to prepare and obtain, 165; trainer's guide, 139; trainer's notes, 139; Training Materials Work Plan Template, 156–157; Workshop Material Checklist, 179
- Training needs: assessing urgency of, 61–62, 74, 75–76, 164; Training Program Design Planning Worksheet on, 79–82. See also Needs assessments
- Training professionals: Action Planning Worksheet for, 231–232; considering career as, 215–216; distinguishing characteristics of, 217–218; how to become, 218–221; making professional development plan, 225–230; strategies for learning more, 222–225. See also Trainers
- Training Program Design Planning Worksheet, 79–82
- Training program development: designing program evaluation, 142–146; designing the evaluation, 142–146; develop, adapt, or purchase decision, 115–117, 152–155; developing program materials, 136–139; guidelines for, 158; identifying and organizing content, 117–124, 132; incorporating experiential learning, 129–131, 150, 208; learning activities, 124–133, 149; preparing the agenda, 135; Quick Quiz on, 146; structuring the program, 131–134, 150; tasks to be completed for, 114; testing the program, 140–141; workshop closing, 134; workshop opening, 133–134, 151, 185–192
- Training program evaluation: Kirkpatrick's four levels of, 145; level 1: participants' reaction to training, 144; level 2: participants' learning, 144; level 3: participants' behavior, 145; level 4: results of training, 145–146; level 5: ROI (return on evaluation), 146, 211; pilot testing, 140–141, 151, 210; process of designing, 142–143; Quick Quiz on, 146
- Training program implementation: concerns related to, 159–161; getting started, 184–192; Planning and Preparing for a Workshop Worksheet, 200–201; preparation before the workshop, 162–184; running the workshop, 192–197

Training programs: analysis and planning for, 52–66, 75; asynchronous, 86, 87–88*t*, 206; characteristics of successful, 5; deciding length of, 119; designing, 47–82; needs filled by, 10; purchasing vs. developing, 115–117, 148; selecting delivery methods for, 73, 74, 83–109; synchronous, 86, 87, 88*t*, 211; trainer’s role in developing, 9–10; writing learning objectives for, 67–74. See also Learning programs; Training

Training skills: communication, 13; creating opportunities to apply, 224; development of your, 225; professional development plan to increase, 225–229

U

U-shaped conference table, 177
University of Chicago, 43
U.S. Department of Defense, 51

V

Validation, 212
Verbal-linguistic intelligence, 39
Videos, 97, 137
Virtual workshops: description of, 91–92; live in-person vs., 92, 109; materials for, 137
Visual, Auditory, and Kinesthetic (VAK) model, 38–39
Visual learners, 38–39, 212–213
Vodcast, 213
Voiceover internet protocol (VoIP), 213

W

Web-based training (WBT), 213
Webinar, 213
Websites: ASTD, 15; Steven Covey, 58
Weimer, M., 25, 30
“Welcome” e-mail, 168
WIIFM (What’s in it for me?), 28

Wiki, 213

Workforce learning professional, 213
Worksheets: Action Planning, 231–232; Adapt, Purchase, or Develop?, 152–155; Planning and Preparing for a Workshop, 200–201; Training Program Design Planning, 79–82
Workshop Material Checklist, 179
Workshop opening: comparing good and poor, 185; considering effective approaches to, 151; functions served by, 133–134; guidelines for, 186–192; icebreakers during, 189, 209

Workshop preparation: confirming arrangement/making contingency plans, 180–182; equipment related, 165, 178, 182; facility related, 164–165, 180–181; getting ready to conduct training, 183–184; overview of tasks for, 163; Planning and Preparing for a Workshop Worksheet, 200–201; pre-work assignments to participants, 170–171; pre-workshop questionnaire, 169; room setups, 172, 173–180, 199; sample “Welcome” e-mail, 168; scheduling the training, 163–165; ways to prepare participants, 166–167

Workshops: comparing traditional and virtual, 92, 109; comparing well prepared/poorly prepared, 185; concerns related to giving the, 159–161; getting started, 184–192; opening and closing, 133–134, 151; preparation before the, 162–184; Quick Quiz on, 197; running the, 192–197; traditional live in-person, 90–91, 92, 108, 109, 137; virtual, 91–92, 109, 137

Writing Training Materials That Work (Foshay, Silber, and Stelnicki), 28

Y

YCDI (You can do it), 28

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>