

Index

- ABB 6–7, 120, 126
 ‘action, bias for’ 6–7
 adaptive learning 143–4
 adaptive markets hypothesis 78
 adhocracies 121
 adhocracy–type organizations 119, 142 adhocracy–type strategy 128
 agents of transaction 116
 ambidextrous organizations 126
 ambiguity 46, 114
 analogies 53, 63
 analysis, sense making and 56
 appropriateness of strategic option 130, 131, 133
 ascription of meaning 57
 assumptions 35, 38
 autonomy 62
Autragstaktik principle 37

 B. Braun Melsungen 123
 Barnevik, Percy 6
 Bayer AG 66–8
 BDF Beiersdorf: ‘Red Frame’ 100–2
 Beissenhertz, Volker 123
 ‘bias for action’ 6–7
 ‘black boxes’, organizations as 51
 ‘black swans’ 40–1
 Black–Scholes formula 77
Blitzkrieg strategy 36–7

 Blue Ocean Strategy 84
 book value 115
 bounded rationality 60
 business paradigm 35

 capabilities 83, 88–91
 Churchill, Winston 36
 Clausewitz, Carl von 148
 On War 46
 closed society 57
 clusters of issues 32
 Combustion Engineering 7
 competitive environment 26
 competitive front 99
 competitive strategy, ‘building blocks’ of 4–5, 23
 competitiveness, internal basis of 83, 84
 complexity, sense making and 61–8 comprehensive option evaluation framework 131
 compression 82
 concepts 53
 conferral of meaning 61–2
 conflicting interest 113–14 conscious level of intuition 56 context 57–8
 contextual analysis 84–7 corporate development and planning 10

- Credit Suisse 123
 critical mass 117
 cultural branding 66–8
 customer interface 100–2
 customer intimacy 29
- deception 46
 decision–tree–type algorithms 129
 deep smarts 12
 definition of strategy 3–8, 83, 138
 desirability of strategic option 130, 131, 133
 digital nomads 116
 digitization 82
 dissonance 55
 Dormann, Juergen 120
 Dow Jones Industrial Average 115
 drivers of change 32
 dynamic capabilities 88
- earnings per share 76
 efficient–markets hypothesis (EMH) 76, 77
 Einstein, Albert 45 embedded knowledge 83
 emergent school of strategy thinking 50 emerging, adaptive configuration 143–4 epistemology 49
 equivocality of information 50
 exchange of goods 116
 experience curve 82
 experiential knowledge 63
 explicit knowledge 63, 65
 external analysis 106–7 external competitive environment 27, 106 external context 117 external, macroeconomic drivers 34
 extraordinary management 144–5 extraordinary organization 145
- feasibility of strategic option 130, 131, 133
 financial assets 85
 financial engineering 76
 first–mover advantage 91–2
 Five Forces Framework (Porter) 84–5, 92–3, 106
 fluctuation/creative chaos 62
 Ford, Henry 39
 Ford Motor Company 10, 39
 frameworks of strategic analysis, use of 86–7 framing the issues 32–40
 friction 148
 futures perspective 140–2
 fuzzy front end 15
- General Motors (GM) 38–9
 generative learning 143, 144
 Google 116
 gross margin 76
 group dialogue 64
 Guderian, General Heinz 36, 37
- ‘hard’ data 8, 13, 69
 Heisenberg, Werner 21, 22
 heuristics 56
 hidden champions 122–3
 high context settings 57
 Hitler, Adolf 36, 37
 Hoffmann, Felix 68
 human capital 85, 116
 hypotheses 35, 53
- incomplete knowledge, conditions of 113 industry logic 35
 industry maturity analysis 58, 96
 industry value chain analysis 96, 107
 information
 distortion of 46
 incomplete 7

- innovation capability 27
 insight 16, 17
 insight formation 68–9
 insight-driven strategy 11–13, 14, 137–57
 vs strategic planning 13
 institutionalized configuration 128, 143 institutionalized logic 151–2 institutionalizing 64–5
 integrating 64, 65
 Intel 145–8, 149
 intellectual assets 85
 intention 62
 internal analysis 107
 internal basis of competitiveness 106, 117 internal competing factors 27–8 internal factors 34
 internal resource mobilization interface 99–100 internal value chain analysis 85, 107
 interpretation 57, 63–4, 65
 Intuiting–Interpreting–Integrating–Institutionalization (4I) framework 62–5 intuition 16, 17, 63, 65
 in framing issues, role of 39–40
 sense making and 56

 J.P. Morgan Chase & Co 128, 139

 Kekulé von Stradonitz, Friedrich August 53–5, 57, 69
 Kelly, Kevin 13
 Kennedy, John F. 10
 key stakeholders 25
 key success factors (KSFs) 84, 86, 93, 96, 102, 106, 130, 131
 Kim and Mauborgne 84 knowledge curve 80
 knowledge creation process 62, 63

 knowledge transitions model (Baumard) 63

 learning curve 82
 learning organizations 152
 left brain activity 5, 56
 legacy thinking 148
 Lehman Brothers 76
 ‘loosely coupled’ systems 50
 low context settings 57–8
 loyalty 122–3

 machine-type organizations 119
 macroeconomic drivers 34
 management consulting approach 129–30
 Manstein, General Erich von 36
 May, Ernest 36
 McKinsey 7–S framework 85, 107
 McNamara, Robert 10–11
 ‘McNamara’s War’ 10–11
 mental models 53, 69
 metaphors 53, 63
 Microsoft 105
 miniaturization 82
Mittelstand firms 122–3

 Naskapi of Labrador 149–50
 network effect (network externality) 117
 New Ventures Group 126
 news media industry 126–7
 novelty 55
 Novo Nordisk 97–8

 ontology 49
 operational excellence 29
 opportunity–response (O–R) analysis 80–94, 105, 106
 order-winning factors 84
 ordinary management 144
 organization forms, emerging 116
 organizational culture audits 85

- organizational learning perspective
62, 142–52
- organizational types 118–19
- Pareto principle (80–20 rule) 24
- performance gaps 55
- PESTEL factor scan 26, 84, 86, 93,
96, 102, 106
- physical assets 85
- positivism 48, 49
- power 113–14
- practice discipline, strategy as 5–6, 9, 14
- product leadership 29
- qualifying factors 84
- rational analysis 5
- reactive learning 143
- reality checking 55
- reconfiguring 89
- ‘red hot iron’ ordeal 58–9
- redundancy 63
- relational capital 85, 116
- relevance 8
- reliability, data 79, 130
- requisite variety 63
- resources and capabilities mapping 107
- rigour 8
- rules of engagement 76, 116–17
- S–curve analysis 85, 106
- schemas 69
- Schles, Myron 77
- Schultz, Howard 30–1, 34, 38
- Schultze & Braun 123
- scrutiny 61
- SECI (socialization, externalization, combination and internalization) model (Bonaka and Takeuchi) 62, 63
- seizing 89
- sense making 17, 45–71
in complex environments 61–8 definition 47
distortion of 58–9
learning and 60–1
limitations in organisations
69–70
mechanisms 52–3
objective 47–8
in organisational context 65–6 perspectives on 48–50
process perspective 55–61
spatial perspective 51–5
underlying assumptions 60–1
- sense-making space 50
- sensing 88
- September 11, 2001 40
- serendipity 40
- shrinking unique competing space
103, 104
- Simon, Hermann 122
- social constructionism 48–9
- social interaction 64
- socioeconomic factors 34
- sociopolitical change 27
- ‘soft’ insights 8, 13
- stakeholders 25
- Starbucks Coffee Company 29, 30–4, 38
- storytelling 64
- strategic analysis 16, 73–109
purposes 74
- strategic boundary conditions
28–32, 34, 95, 97–102, 106,
107, 117
- strategic competences 83
- strategic dissonance 145–7, 148, 149
- strategic drift 24
- strategic formation 12, 17
- strategic inflection points 145–7
- strategic insight 12
- strategic learning 119, 121

- strategic management literature 130
- strategic options 112, 113
 discriminating between 130
 evaluation of 129–33
 formation of 114–29
- strategic planning 9–10, 119, 155
- strategic questions 16, 21–43
- strategic relevance 25
- strategic thinking 9, 12, 17, 18, 154
- strategic venturing 119, 121
- strategic visioning 119, 120
- strategy as practice 13–14
- strategy formation 17, 111–35 primary mechanisms 124
 strategic options and 114–29
- strategy formulation
 in organizations 113–14
 purpose 127–9
- strategy in practice 13–14, 18–19
- structural capital 85, 116
- structure–conduct–performance paradigm 83, 87
- subconscious level of intuition 56–7
- ‘sweet spot’, competitive 95, 99
- SWOT (strength, weaknesses, opportunities, threats) framework 19, 80–1
- tacit knowledge 63, 64
- Taleb, Nassim Nicholas 40–1
- Taylor, Alex 38
- territorialisation of knowledge 60
- theory of business (Drucker) 28
- third-generation (3G) telecommunications 82
- time-to-market advantage 91–2
- tipping point situation 117
- Tobin’s q ratio 115, 116
- Toyota 38–9
- transaction price 116
- translation of information 62
- trend analysis 80, 87
- triggers
 of change 16, 27–32
 sense making and 55
- UMTS (Universal Mobile Telecommunications Systems) 82
- Unique Competing Space (UCS)
 analysis 94–104, 106, 117
 first-level analysis 95–7
 extended level of analysis 102–4 shrinking 103, 104
- UROG (unwritten rules of the game) analysis (Arthur D. Little) 85
- validity, data 79, 130
- validity test of strategy 6
- value chain 106
- value creation 115–16
- value proposition 28, 29, 106, 107
- Vietnam War 10–11
- VRIO (valuable, rare, imitability, and organization) framework 89, 90, 107
- Wagoner, Rick 38
- wealth, new basis of 115–16
- ‘what if’ scenarios 102
- Yahoo! 105

<http://www.pbookshop.com>