

INDEX

A

- Accountability, social media
mechanism for, 24
- Ad hoc business activities, 114
- Ad hoc opportunities, 192, 193, 194
- Adobe, 151
- Advertising: Google's online service for, 59; online, 173–174; social media support for, 15–16
- Affiliate portals and communities 121–122, 175
- AIDS protein folding problem, 47, 88
- ALS drug research, 117–118
- Amazon: Innocentive, 47–48;
Mechanical Turk, 47–48, 50, 176;
online advertising by, 173; open supply chains of, 124; publishing by, 54
- American Express, OPEN Forum,
108–110, 115, 121

B

- B2B social business, 107–126;
advantages of, 125–126; affiliate and partner portals and communities as, 121–122; examples of, 108–113; innovation communities as, 117–118; open community platforms as, 118–120;
open supply chains as, 125;
overview of how to use, 115–117;
partner amplifiers as, 120–121;
social business tenet applicable to, 113–115; social CRM as, 122–123;
social supply chains as, 123–125
- Battelle, John, 90
- Berners-Lee, Tim, 17
- Best Buy, 124, 176
- Big data, 148
- Bloomberg, 34–36
- BMW, 76
- Brand monitoring, 152
- British Petroleum (BP), 78–79, 163
- Buczek, Laurie, 200
- Business case, for investment in social business, 186–188
- Business outcomes, focus on, 23–24
- Business partners: as area of business activity for social media, 12, 13;
individual empowerment of, 21;
relationship with, transformed by

- Business partners (continued):
 social media, 13–14. See also
 B2B social business
- Business process redesign, 163
- C
- Cause-and-effect chains, 138–139
- Change: as norm, 61, 167; rapid pace of, 59
- Citroen, 76
- Cluetrain Manifesto, 61
- Comcast, 85
- Communications: employee, transitioned from e-mail to social intranet, 32–34, 36–40; unified, 137, 182
- Community management, 143–147, 175
- Community managers, 144, 146–147
- Community Roundtable (CR), on stages of social business maturity, 144–145
- Compliance and regulatory monitoring, 152, 155
- Comscore, 32
- Consumer social media, 174
- Content management, 182
- Content-oriented business activities, 114–115
- Control: designing for loss of, 20; not well defined in social business, 23–24; over peer-produced community data, 58; shift of, with social businesses, 53–54, 61–62
- Crowdsourcing, 93–97; defined, 46;
 as element of social business design, 176; example of social product development using,
 87–88; overview of, 93–95;
 process for shifting to,
 95–97
- Crowdsourcing services, 87, 95
- Crowdspring, 88, 176
- Culture change, 162
- Cunningham, Ward, 128
- Customer communities,
 174–175
- Customer relationship management.
See Social customer relationship management (CRM)
- Customers: as area of business activity for social media, 11–13; individual empowerment of, 20–21; SAP Community Network (SCN) with, 7–11, 99, 121, 151, 164, 200; social business intelligence applied to care of, 84–85, 150; TurboTax support system for, 40–43, 88, 101, 166;
 willing to cocreate, 95. See also Crowdsourcing; Social customer relationship management (CRM)
- D
- Dachis Group: and HBO's online marketing of True Blood, 71; Social Business Index (SBI), 82, 84; Social Performance Monitor, 152
- Database of Intentions, 90
- Dell, 85; IdeaStorm, 101
- Demand generation, 172
- Derwent Capital, 34
- Digby, 177
- Digital branding, 178
- Document management, 182
- Drupal, 182
- Dubuc, Joey, 38
- E
- eBay, 124
- e-commerce, 177
- Eizenberg, Rom, 88
- Eloqua, 172
- e-mail: replaced by social intranet,
 36–40; shift from, to social media,

- 45–46; shift from, to social networking, 32–34
e-mail marketing, 178
Empowerment, individual, 17–21
Engagement. See Listening and engagement; Social business workforce engagement Enterprise 2.0, 128, 129, 133. See also Social business workforce engagement
Enterprise objectives, 159
Enterprise social networking, 136
Executive leadership, 162
Expertise and reputation tracking, 151
- F
- Facebook: business presence on, 65, 146, 208; HBO's marketing of True Blood on, 71–73; IBM employees using, 33; L'Oreal B2B social network program within, 110–111; mining data from, 34, 35; MySpace overtaken by, 169; popularity of, 93; social networking applications of, 173; video calling capability, 183
Finnern, Mark, 9
FixYa, 174
FoldIt, 47, 88
Ford Motor Company, 80–81
Foursquare, 179
Frost and Sullivan, on results achieved by social business methods, 26, 187
- G
- Gamification, 47
General Motors, marketing of Chevy Tahoe SUV by, 67–68
Get Satisfaction, 102, 174
GlaxoSmithKline (GSK), 119–120, 121
Goldcorp Challenge, 119
Google, 54, 93; AdWords, 59; OpenSocial, 173
Google+, video calling capability, 183
Groupon, 177
- H
- H&R Block, 40, 41, 43
Happe, Rachel, 199–200
Harley-Davidson, HDTalking customer community, 174
HBO, marketing of True Blood by, 71–73
Hewlett Packard (HP), 122–123
Hews, Damien, 75, 76
Honda, 76
Horowitz, Bradley, 49
Human capital management, 151–152
- I
- IBM, 32–34, 128, 162
Ikea, IKEA FANS customer community, 174
Individual empowerment, 17–21
Influencer engagement, 177–178
Information, social media as source of, 147. See also Social business intelligence (SBI)
InnoCentive, 87–88, 117–118
Innovation communities, 117–118
Innovation management, 176
Intelligence: shared collective, in social CRM, 103–104. See also Social business intelligence (SBI)
Intranet: social, 36–40; strategy for, 182
Intuit, customer support for TurboTax, 40–43, 88, 101, 166
- K
- Key performance indicators (KPIs), for social media marketing, 74
Kluster, 103

- Knowledge economy: growth of, 45, 46; knowledge creation by social media participants in, 48–50; peer production to create knowledge in, 46–48; technology for workers in, 127–128
- Kontagent, 151
- L
- Lenz, Jim, 77, 78
- Levi's, 71
- LG, 90
- Lilley, Patrick, 35
- LinkedIn, 33
- Listening and engagement: conversational language appropriate for, 80–81; importance in social media marketing, 74–79
- Lloyd's Register, 139
- Location-based services, 179
- London–Tottenham-sparked riots (2011), 19
- L'Oreal, 110–111, 115, 120, 121
- M
- Marketing: demand generation, 172, e-mail, 178; search engine marketing (SEM), 173. See also Social media marketing
- Marketo, 172
- Martins, Antonio, 30–32
- McAfee, Andrew, 127–128, 162, 166
- McKinsey & Company: on benefits of social media marketing, 66, 67; on results achieved by social business methods, 26, 27, 187
- Media coverage, of transition to social business methods, 26, 28
- Meeker, Mary, 170
- Metcalfe, Bob, 131
- Metcalfe's law, 131
- Microsites, 177
- Microsoft: partner network, 9, 13–14, 108, 115; SharePoint, 30
- Microtask, 95
- MillerCoors, 28–29, 128
- Mobi, 34–36
- Mobile applications: as element of social business design, 179–180; increasing popularity of, 170, 180–181
- Mobile applications stores, 181
- Mobile content enablement, 179
- Mobile messaging, 180
- Mobile operations, 181
- Mobile security, 181
- Mobility platform support, 179
- Mohasseb, Sid, 35
- Mondo, 37, 38
- Monty, Scott, 81
- Morgan Stanley, Twiki, 128–129, 151
- Mountain Equipment Co-Op (MEC), 36–40, 128, 162
- Moxic, 31–32
- Murdoch, Rupert, 54
- Mustafa, Isaiah, 15
- MySpace, 65, 70, 169–170
- N
- Network effect, 22, 132
- Networked communities, 121–122
- Nielsen, Jakob, 49
- Nupedia, 134–135
- O
- Oaks, Jim, 80–81
- Objectives, as step in social business design, 159–160, 164–165
- Online advertising, 173–174
- Online communication, shift away from e-mail for, 32–34, 36–40, 45–46
- Online communities: alignment of business purpose with, 51; power of,

- 46; required size of, 50–51; SAP Community Network (SCN) as example of, 7–11
Online video and audio, 182–183
Open community platforms, 118–120
Open supply chains, 59, 124, 125, 176
Operations management, 152
Owens & Minor, social supply chain,
112–113, 115, 124
- P
- Pardot, 172
Participants, determining, 159 Participation: by anyone, 22, 26; by creators, synthesizers, and consumers, 49–50; eliminating barriers to, 68; preparing for and taking advantage of, 66–68; in social CRM, 101–102, 103. See also Crowdsourcing; Individual empowerment
Partner amplifiers, 120–121
Partner portals and communities,
121–122
Peer production: as characteristic of
social businesses, 56, 57, 58;
increasing prevalence of, for knowledge creation, 46–48; of Web content, 48, 93, 147
Peugeot, 76
Philoptima, 88
Pilot programs, 96–97, 166, 188–189, 197
Pinger, Textfree app, 180
Pitney Bowes, 123
Planning, as step in social business
design, 165–167
Point-to-point portals, 121–122
Power, of online communities, 46. See also Individual empowerment
Precyse, 87–88
Prize4Life, 117–118
Process-oriented business activities,
114–115
Procter & Gamble, Old Spice
advertising campaign, 15–16, 164
Product development. See Social product development
- R
- Radian6, 150
Ranbaxy Pharmaceuticals Canada,
120
Rangaswami, JP, 20
Ratiopharm, 30–32
reCAPTCHA, 55–56
Reed, David, 131
Return on investment (ROI):
calculating, in social media marketing, 73–74; potential, in social business, 186–188
Risk management, 163
RollStream, 112
Rutkove, Seward, 118
Rypple, 152
- S
- Sales funnel analysis, 151
SAP, Community Network (SCN),
7–11, 99, 121, 151, 164, 200
Scinovo, 119–120
Search engine marketing (SEM),
173
Search engine optimization (SEO),
172–173
Sears, 176
Shared value, automatically creating,
22
Shopkick, 177
SiriusXM, 94
Social analytics, 147–148, 150–151, 178
Social business: benefits of, 137–139;
business case for investment in,
186–188; changes in business due

- Social business (continued):
 to, 20–21; defined, 11, 132;
 difficulty for traditional business to transition to, 53–55; drivers of transformation to, 45–48, 58–59;
 example of traditional business successfully transitioning to, 55–56;
 in regulated industries, 152, 153–155; stages of maturity of,
 144–145; technology as optional in,
 121; trends and macrotrends leading to, 57–58, 60–62; unified, 73; unique characteristics of, 56–57. See also B2B social business
- Social business activities: integrated into workflow, 113; types of, 114–115, 170–183
- Social business adoption, 195–203;
 barriers to, 3, 212–213; beginning,
 213–214; overview of, 195–196, 203; phases of, 196–197; social business units to facilitate, 205–209; strategies for external social business designs, 200–202; strategies for internal social business designs, 198–200; tracking, 150–151
- Social business design: as artifact for social business initiatives, 192;
 defined, 160; determining objectives
 as first step in, 159–160, 164–165;
 key elements of, 162–164; overview of possible elements in, 170–183; planning step in, 165–167; process for, 160–162, 164; strategies for adopting, 198–202
- Social business intelligence (SBI): core strategies for, 149–152; described, 148–149; as element of social business design, 163–164, 178; in social media marketing, 82–85;
 types of, 149
- Social business methods: adopted to improve employee communication, 32–34, 36–40; applied to female attrition problem, 28–29; applied to supply chain management, 30–32;
 business case for investment in,
 186–188; focus on social business tenets when applying, 43–44; media coverage of transition to, 26, 28;
 performance benefits of, 25–26, 27;
 stock trading data gleaned by,
 34–36; used to provide support for product, 40–43
- Social business narrative, 192
- Social business solutions, 163
- Social business strategies: artifacts for creating, 192–194; goals and road map for, 162
- Social business supporting capabilities, 143–155; community management
 as essential, 143–147; in regulated industries, 152, 153–155; social analytics as, 147–148, 150–151;
 social business intelligence (SBI) as,
 148–152
- Social business tenets: on alignment of online community with business purpose, 51, 118; on automatically creating shared value, 22; on conversational language, 80–81; on eliminating barriers to participation, 68; on focus on business outcomes, 23–24; list of, 216; on listening and engagement, 79; on participation by anyone, 22, 118; on preparing for and taking advantage of participation, 66–68; on required size of online community, 50–51;
 on social business activities integrated into workflow, 113
- Social business units, 206–209
- Social business workforce engagement, 127–141; activities for, 132–137;
 benefits of, 137–139; example of,
 139–141; as growing trend,

- 127–129; prerequisites for, 129–130
- Social collaboration, 133–134
- Social content management systems (CMS), 135
- Social customer relationship management (CRM), 99–105; B2B social business, 122–123; barrier to adopting, 105; benefits of, 100–101; capabilities of tools for, 103–104; as element of social business design, 174; examples of, 7–11, 40–43, 99, 101, 102; history of implementation of, 99–100; lifecycle of, 104, 105; participation in, 101–102
- Social document management systems (DMS), 135
- Social human capital management (HCM), 136–137
- Social intranets, 134–135
- Social media: consumer, 174; creator, synthesizer, and consumer participation in, 49–50; defined, 132; e-mail replaced by, 32–34, 45–46; external, 70–71; increasing business activities of, 11–13; individual empowerment enabled by, 17–19; integrated, 71–73; local, 70; number of people using, 18; rapidly changing, 43; shift to, 2; “social” aspect of, 130–132; stock trading data gleaned from, 34–36
- Social media marketing, 65–85; benefits of, 66, 67; calculating return on investment in, 73–74; conversational language appropriate for, 80–81; early days of, 65–66; as element of social business design, 170–172; eliminating all barriers to participation in, 68; importance of listening and engagement in, 74–79; key performance indicators (KPIs) for, 74; listening and engagement in, 79; preparing for and taking advantage of participation in, 66–68; social business intelligence in, 82–85; strategic approaches to, 69–73
- Social networking: applied to female employee attrition problem, 28–29; effectiveness of, 24; enterprise, 136; increasing prevalence of mobile, 170; shift from e-mail to, 32–34
- Social networking applications, 173
- Social product development, 87–92; crowdsourcing vs., 94; process for, 88–90; shared creation underlying, 87–88; traditional product development vs., 87, 90–92
- Social supply chains: as approach to B2B social business, 123–125; as element of social business design, 175–176; example of, 112–113, 115; optimizing, 152
- Socialware, 152
- Southwest Airlines, social media marketing by, 70
- Spigit, 176
- Stick, Leroy, 78
- Stock trading, social business methods used to glean data from, 34–36
- Strategic goals and road map, 162
- Strategy-Nets, 30, 31
- SuccessFactors, 152
- Supply chain management, 30–32, 175–176
- Supply chains: open, 59, 124, 125, 176; social, 112–113, 115, 123–125, 152, 175–176
- Support. See Social business supporting capabilities; Social customer relationship management (CRM)

T

Taleo, 152
Technology: social media as driven by, 2–3; social media, as optional, 121
Teva Pharmaceuticals, 30–32, 107, 111, 124, 176
ThoughtFarmer, 37
Threadless, 73, 88
Time Warner, 85
Tongal, 95
TopCoder, 88
Toyota, 75–78, 163
True Blood, social media marketing of, 71–73
TurboTax, customer support for, 40–43, 88, 101, 166
Twitter: B2B social CRM using, 122–123; business presence on, 65, 146, 208; IBM employees using, 33; mining data from, 34, 35; Old Spice advertising campaign using, 15

U

Unified communications, 137, 182
U.S. Cellular, 82, 84

V

Visible Technologies, 152

W

WallStreetBirds, 34
Web content, 48, 93, 147
Web presence, as element of social business design, 176–177
Whinot, 95
Wikipedia, 47, 93, 128, 134
Wikis, 128–129
Wise Window, 34
Workers: as area of business activity for social media, 12, 13; individual empowerment of, 21; reorganizing communication by, 32–34; social business methods applied to attrition of female, 28–29
Workforce collaboration: as element of social business design, 176; functions of, 133–137
Workforce engagement. See Social business workforce engagement
World Bank, 124, 176

Y

YouTube, 15, 20, 71, 93

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

