
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Table of Cases	xiii
Table of Legislation	xxiii
1 Introduction	1
I Method	2
A Fit	3
B Coherence	5
C Morality	7
D Transparency	8
II Conclusion	10
2 Rationales Behind Disgorgement Damages	11
I Introduction	11
II Compensatory Rationale	14
A Compensation for Loss	15
B Substitutive Compensation	18
i Compensation for a Lost Right	18
ii Rights-based Analysis	23
C Conclusion	25
III Deterrent Rationale	26
A Deterrence and the Nature of Contractual Obligation	27
B Deterrence and Efficiency	29
C Deterrence and Substitutability	31
IV Retributive Rationale	32
A The Retributive Aspect of Disgorgement Damages	33
B Digital Pulse and Punishment	35
C ‘Cynical Breach’ and the Retributive Rationale	40
i The Nature of ‘Cynical Breach’	41
ii Reasons Against ‘Cynical Breach’ as a Criterion	42
iii Reasons For ‘Cynical Breach’ as a Criterion	43
iv Moving from ‘Cynical Breach’ to ‘Advertent Breach’	44
D Retribution, Desert, Mercy and Bars to Relief	46
V Conclusion	46
3 The Claimant’s ‘Legitimate Interest’ and the Role of Substitutability	48
I Introduction	48
II The ‘Legitimate Interest’ Test and Substitutability	52
III Policies behind the Primary Duty to Perform Contracts	53
IV The Performance Interest	58

A	The Courts' Attitude towards the Performance Interest: Support in Principle	58
B	The Courts' Attitude towards the Performance Interest: Failure to Support Claimants in Practice with Remedies?	60
i	The Nature of the Expectation Interest	62
ii	The Primacy of Expectation Damages	65
V	Substitutability and Disgorgement	67
A	Disgorgement should be Available when the Subject Matter of the Contract is Not Substitutable	67
B	Substitutability – Blake and Cases Following	72
i	Blake	72
ii	Cases Following Blake	73
VI	Objections to a Substitutability Analysis	77
A	Using Availability of Specific Relief as a Peg on which to Hang Availability of Disgorgement Damages	78
B	Disgorgement Preferable to an Expanded Definition of Expectation Loss	81
C	Disgorgement Damages are not a Fusion Fallacy	84
VII	Conclusion: a Different Way of Looking at Disgorgement Damages	86
4	'Second Sale' Cases	87
I	Introduction	87
II	'Second Sale' Cases	89
A	Contracts for Sale of Land	89
B	Contracts for Sale of Goods or Chattels	94
C	Contracts for Shares and Stock	99
D	Contracts of Services	101
III	'Efficient Breach' and the 'Second Sale' Cases	106
A	History of 'Efficient Breach' Theory	107
B	The Theory of 'Efficient Breach'	108
C	Critiques of 'Efficient Breach'	109
i	Third Party Can Acquire Subject Matter of the Contract from Promisee	110
ii	Lack of Consideration of Transaction Costs	111
iii	Incorrect Factual Predicates	112
iv	'Efficient Breach' is Inefficient	113
v	'Efficient Breach' Does Not Fit with the Law	114
D	Conclusion to 'Efficient Breach'	115
IV	Conclusion	116
5	'Agency Problem' Cases	118
I	Introduction	118
II	The 'Agency Problem' and Disgorgement	122
A	Disgorgement, the 'Agency Problem' and Fiduciary Duties	122
B	Disgorgement, the 'Agency Problem' and Negative Covenants	124

III	The Fiduciary ‘Bundle of Obligations’	128
IV	Criteria for the Award of Disgorgement Damages for Breach of Negative Covenant	132
A	Criterion 1: Substitutability	132
B	Criterion 2: a Contract Designed to Serve Interests Other than Profit-making	134
i	Contracts Involving a Proprietary or Quasi-proprietary Interest	135
ii	Contracts Involving National Security or the National Interest	136
iii	Contracts Involving Resolution of a Legal Dispute	139
iv	Contracts Involving the Protection of Third Party Family Members	143
v	Other Contracts Involving the Public Interest	144
V	Conclusion	145
6	The Role of ‘Restitutionary Damages’	146
I	Introduction	146
II	What are ‘Restitutionary Damages’?	147
III	Restitutionary Damages – Still Unhappy	151
IV	A Collapsing of Categories	154
V	When Should ‘Reasonable Fee’ Awards be Granted?	161
VI	Scope of Disgorgement for ‘Skipped Performance’	165
A	Skipped Performance and the ‘Restoration Cases’	171
i	Construction Contracts and Other Cases Involving Building	172
ii	Contracts for Restoration of Land	175
B	Skipped Performance and Contracts Designed to Reduce Risk	179
VII	Conclusion: Choice of Remedy	182
7	Allowances and Bars to Relief	186
I	Introduction	186
II	Calculating the Account – Causation, Remoteness and Apportionment	188
A	The Nature of the Account	188
B	Causation and Remoteness	189
C	Apportionment	190
III	Desert and Mercy	192
A	The Nature of ‘Desert’	192
B	The Nature of ‘Mercy’	193
IV	Allowances and Disgorgement Damages	196
A	Justifications for Allowances	197
B	Advertence and Allowances	199
V	Operation of Bars to Relief	200
A	Delay and Acquiescence	201
B	Lack of Clean Hands	207
C	Hardship	208

VI Conclusion	210
8 Conclusion	212
Bibliography	215
Index	227

<http://www.pbookshop.com>