

Contents

---

Foreword		xvii
Preface		xix
	Highlights of This Book	xix
	Who Should Read This Book?	xix
	About the Book	xix
Acknowledgments		xxiii
PART I	FOUNDATIONS: VALUING A BUSINESS	1
CHAPTER 1	Fundamental Concepts for Defining Value	3
	Standard of Value	3
	Level of Value	9
	Premise of Value	11
	Conclusion	12
CHAPTER 2	Defining the Engagement	13
	The Importance of Defining the Engagement	13
	Defining the Client	15
	The First Call	15
	The Subject Entity and Entity Type	16
	Entity Distinctions and Entity Significance in the Valuation	18
	State of Entity Organization or Incorporation	19
	Principal Business Location	19
	Description of the Subject Interest	20
	Purpose and Intended Use of the Valuation	21
	Date of the Valuation	23
	Scope of the Work Product	24
	Summary Assignment Definition Table	26
	The As-Of Date of the Appraisal and the Date of the Appraisal Report—Added Thoughts and Perspective	26
	Conclusion	28

CHAPTER 3	Information Collection and Due Diligence	29
	Importance of the Information Collection and Due Diligence Phase	29
	Industry and Economic Considerations	30
	Financial Information and Analysis	31
	The Management Interview	35
	Preparation	37
	Agenda of a Typical Management Interview	38
	Conclusion	40
CHAPTER 4	An Overview of Valuation Approaches	41
	Recognized Valuation Approaches	41
	Methodology and Level of Value, Direct and Indirect Methodology	42
CHAPTER 5	Valuation Approaches: The Cost Approach	47
	The Cost Approach	47
	Typical Adjustments in the Cost Approach (Using Tangible Net Asset Value Methods)	53
	To Tax Affect or Not	54
CHAPTER 6	The Income Approach to Value	59
	Direct Capitalization and Discrete Projection Methods	60
	Reconciliation of Income Methods to Market Methods	61
	Typical Adjustments to the Income Statement	62
	Adjustments That Correspond to Balance Sheet Treatments	63
	Reconciling or Reclassifying Interim-Period Measures to Fiscal-Period Measures	63
	Income Statement Adjustments and Considerations	65
	Matching the Cost of Capital to the Benefit Stream	69
	Developing the Cost of Capital	70
	Summary Examples of Developing the Cost of Equity Capital	74
	Growth Rate of Earnings/Net Cash Flow	77
	Finishing the Direct Capitalization Equation	83
	Developing the Single-Period Benefit (Ongoing Earnings and Ongoing Net Cash Flow) and Preparation for the Discounted Future Benefits Method	84
	Example of a Single-Period Capitalization to Derive the Market Value of Total Invested Capital	86
	The Discounted Future Benefits Method (DFB)	88
	Conclusion	93

Contents		ix
CHAPTER 7	The Market Approach	95
	Valuation Methods under the Market Approach	96
	Rules of Thumb	97
	Transactions Method	98
	Guideline Public Company Method	99
	The Fundamental Adjustment	105
	Guideline Transactions Method	110
CHAPTER 8	Correlation of Value	113
	Global Considerations in the Correlation Process	113
	Examples of Correlating a Value Indication	118
	Conclusion	124
CHAPTER 9	Valuation Discounts and Premiums	125
	The Levels of Value Revisited	125
	Perspective on the Control Premium	127
	Control Premiums—Substance Over Form	129
	Perspective on the Minority Interest Discount	130
	Marketability Discounts	132
	Conclusion	133
PART II	BUSINESS VALUATION STANDARDS	135
CHAPTER 10	Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP)	137
	Overview of USPAP Valuation Standards	138
	USPAP Ethics Rule	139
	2010–11 USPAP Competency Rule	140
	2010–11 USPAP Scope of Work Rule	141
	2010–11 USPAP Jurisdictional Exception Rule	142
	USPAP Business Appraisal Review (USPAP Standard 3)	142
	Business Appraisal Development: USPAP Standard 9	146
	Business Appraisal Report Standards USPAP Standard 10	148
	USPAP Certification Requirement	149
	USPAP Statements on Appraisal Standards and Advisory Opinions	150
CHAPTER 11	American Society of Appraisers (ASA)
	Business Valuation Standards	153
	ASA BVS General Preamble	153
	ASA BVS-I (General Requirements for Developing a Business Valuation)	154
	ASA BVS-II (Financial Statement Adjustments)	156
	ASA BVS-III (Asset-Based Approach to Business Valuation)	156
	ASA BVS-IV (Income Approach to Business Valuation)	157

ASA BVS-V (Market Approach to Business Valuation)	158
ASA BVS-VI (Reaching a Conclusion of Value)	159
ASA BVS-VII (Valuation Discounts and Premiums)	159
ASA BVS-VIII (Comprehensive Written Business Valuation Report)	160
ASA BVS-IX (Intangible Asset Valuation)	161
ASA SBVS-1 (Guideline Public Company Method)	161
ASA SBVS-2 (Merger and Acquisition Method)	162
PG-1 (Litigation Support: Role of the Independent Financial Expert)	163
PG-2 (Valuation of Partial Ownership Interests)	163
CHAPTER 12 The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Statement on Standards for Valuation Services	165
Introduction and Scope	165
Overall Engagement Considerations	165
Development	168
Valuation Approaches and Methods	170
Detailed Report	176
Summary Report	180
Calculation Report	181
Oral Report	181
CHAPTER 13 National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts (NACVA) Professional Standards	183
Preamble—General and Ethical Standards	183
Valuation Services	184
Development Standards	184
Reporting Standards	185
Miscellany	186
CHAPTER 14 The Institute of Business Appraisers (IBA) Business Appraisal Standards	187
Standard One: Professional Conduct and Ethics	187
Standard Two: Oral Appraisal Reports	190
Standard Three: Expert Testimony	190
Standard Four: Letter Form Written Appraisal Reports	191
Standard Five: Formal Written Appraisal Reports	192
Preliminary Reports	193
CHAPTER 15 Canadian Institute of Chartered Business Valuators Practice Standards	195
Practice Standard 110—Valuation Reports	195
Practice Standard 120—Scope of Work	198
Practice Standard 130—File Documentation	200

Practice Standard 210—Advisory Reports	201
Practice Standard 220—Scope of Work for Advisory Reports	202
Practice Standard 230—File Documentation for Advisory Reports	202
Practice Standard 310—Expert Reports	202
Practice Standard 320—Scope of Work for Expert Reports	204
Practice Standard 330—File Documentation Standards in Expert Reports	205
Practice Standard 410—Limited Critique Reports	207
Practice Standard 420—Scope of Work for Limited Critique Reports	209
Practice Standard 430—File Documentation Standards for Limited Critique Reports	210
Practice Bulletins	210
CHAPTER 16 Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Business Valuation Standards	215
IRM 4.48.4.1—Introduction	215
IRM 4.48.2—Development Guidelines	215
IRM 4.48.4.3—Resolution Guidelines	218
IRM 4.48.4.4—Reporting Guidelines	218
Addendum A USPAP 3 Comparison Chart	219
Addendum B USPAP 9 Comparison Chart	220
PART III LESSONS FROM THE TRENCHES	221
CHAPTER 17 Alleged Errors of Omission by Appraisers	223
Failure to Comply with USPAP	224
Valuation Credentials	225
Too Much Involvement by Counsel in the Appraisal Report Preparation	225
Standard of Value	225
Valuation Date	226
The Subject Property Interest	227
Bias	228
Sources of Data	229
Independence	230
Pure Reliance on Case Law	230
Site Visits and Management Interviews	231
Failure to Provide Sufficient Explanation	232
Disregard of Material Facts	232
Failure to Find Available Information	233
Failure to Adequately Support Selection of Beta	234
Improper Sampling Techniques	235
Off Financial Statement Items	236

---

Failure to Sufficiently Explain Assumptions	236
Insufficient Due Diligence	237
Failure to Make Inquiries with Significant Third Parties	237
Failure to List All Appraisers' Qualifications	238
Failure to Consider the Small-Stock Premium	238
Failure to Factor in Income Tax	239
Failure to Set Forth the Adjustments to Financial Statements in the Appraisal Report	239
Failure to Produce a Replicable Report	240
Failure to Identify the Multiples Selected	240
Failure to Discuss Weightings in the Appraisal Report	240
Failure to Distinguish between Tax and Book Depreciation	240
Failure to List Guideline Companies	241
Failing to Separate Operating and Nonoperating Aspects of a Company	241
Failing to Lay Foundation for Small Stock Premium	241
Failing to Justify Capitalization or Discount Rates	242
Failure to Think Like an Investor	242
Failure to Define Capital Structure	243
Failure to Adequately Consider the "Willing Buyer"	243
Failure to Adequately Consider the Willing Seller	243
Failure to Accurately Describe the Subject Property	244
Failure to Properly Classify the Subject Company	244
Failure to Explain the Basis for a Valuation Discount	245
Failure to Properly Consider the Subject Company's Growth Rate	245
Failure to Explain Market Multiples Selected for Guideline Companies	245
Failure to Explain Equal Weighting of Conclusions of Value	246
Failure to Consider Differences between the Subject Company and the Guideline Companies	246
Failure to Utilize Data from a Guideline Company That the Appraiser's Own Summary Chart Reflects Is Closest to the Subject Company	246
Failure to Explain the Selection of the Range of Performance Ratios Selected	246
Failure to Adequately Explain Why Companies Selected as Guideline Companies Are in Fact Comparable to the Subject Company	247
Failure to Explain Why So Few Comparable Properties or Guideline Companies Were Selected	247
 CHAPTER 18 Alleged Errors of Commission	 249
Retrospective Appraisals	249
Use of Past Publications of an Appraiser against the Appraiser	250
Using Untested Methodology	250
Improper Reliance on a Draft Appraisal	251

Conclusion of Value Offends Common Sense	251
Mathematical Errors	252
Inconsistency	253
Double Counting	253
Conflicting Conclusions of Value	254
Sole Reliance on a Valuation Model	254
Incorrect Usage of Discounted Cash Flow Method	256
Skewed Assumptions	256
Overemphasis on Buy-Sell Restrictions among Related Parties	256
Using Historic Book Value of Assets in Net Asset Value Approach, Even Though Asset Appraisals Had Been Obtained	257
Misapplication of Pre- and Post-Tax Figures	257
Ignoring the Hypothetical Nature of the Willing Buyer or Willing Seller	257
Inconsistent Use of Commercially Available Data	258
Use of Commercially Available Data That Warns of Statistical Inaccuracy	258
Misstatement of Methodology Employed by Appraisers on Whose Work the Appraiser Has Relied	259
Undue Reliance on the Work of Another Appraiser	259
Using a Valuation Method without Laying a Foundation That It Is a Legitimate Method (for Example, the Business Broker Method Using Data from the IBA Market Database)	259
Improper Reliance on a Study That Does Not Completely Provide All Relevant Data	260
Failure to Apply Discussion of Economic Factors to the Subject Company	260
Using Commercially Available Data in a Manner Contrary to How the Data Source Says the Data Should Be Used	261
Failure to Proofread Report Prior to Issuance	261
Apparently Conflicting Assumptions Used for the Same General Purposes without Sufficient Explanation	261
Use of Different Valuation Methods in Valuing the Same Interest in Valuation Reports Offered at Different Times without Adequate Explanation	262
Making Improper Adjustments to Financial Statements	262
Reliance on the Pre-IPO Studies and the Restricted Stock Studies to Determine the Discount for Lack of Marketability for a Controlling Interest	263
Misreading or Failing to Properly Consider Revenue Ruling 59–60	263
Failure to Accurately State the Number of Shares Outstanding in the Subject Company	264
Inconsistency in Valuation Methodology Expressed in Testimony versus the Appraiser's Methodology as Expressed in another Writing	264

Unreasonably Low Projections	264
Failure to Add Back Depreciation Included in Costs-of-Goods-Sold Computation in the Computation of EBDIT	264
Combining the Discount for Lack of Control with the Discount for Lack of Marketability	264
Utilizing an Assumed Income Tax Rate That Differed from the Actual Past Tax Rates of the Subject Company	265
Disconnect between Assumption about When Revenues or Expenses Would Be Received or Incurred and When Those Items Were Actually Received or Incurred	265
Error in Computing Terminal Value When Using the Income Approach	265
Discounting an Income Stream Only at or Close to the Risk-Free Rate	266
Modifying or Abandoning Positions Taken in the Written Appraisal Report during the Appraiser's Testimony	266
Referring to a Standard Industrial Code in the Appraisal Report without Identifying That Number in the Report	267
Relying upon Guideline Companies That Were Not Comparable to the Subject Company	267
Preparing and Utilizing Earnings Projections That Vary Significantly from the Earnings Projections Prepared by the Subject Company	268
Use of Only One Year's Worth of Guideline Company Data	269
Inappropriate Employment of a Discount to Make a Conclusion of One Valuation Approach Appear More in Line with Another	269
Failing to Properly Calculate a Valuation Discount	269
Inappropriate Use of a Price-to-Asset Multiple Where the Difference between Book Value and Asset Fair Market Value Is Not Close	270
Selection of Too Few Guideline Companies or Comparable Properties	270
Selection of Too Few Performance Measures in the Guideline Company Method	270
Cherry Picking Valuation Multiples	271
Using an Inexcusably Old Comparable Sale	271
Inappropriate Reliance on Governance Document Restrictions in Establishment of Valuation Multiples	272
Stating the Wrong Date from a Comparable Sale	272
Mismatching the Valuation Dates of the Guideline Companies and the Subject Company in Computing Price Multiples	272
Defining "Guideline Company" Too Narrowly	273

CHAPTER 19	Ten Burning Issues within the Appraisal Profession	275
	Issue 1: Methods of Determining the Discount for Lack of Marketability	276
	Issue 2: Applicability of Discount for Lack of Marketability to a Controlling Interest	286
	Issue 3: Validity of Discount for Imbedded Capital Gains	288
	Issue 4: Shift of “Comparability” from the Publicly Traded Arena to the Private Arena	289
	Issue 5: Efficient Market Hypothesis and Exceptions (For Example, Small-Firm Effect)	290
	Issue 6: Value of Control versus Value of Synergy	291
	Issue 7: Do Public Company Stock Prices Indicate a Marketable, Minority or a Marketable, Control Position?	298
	Issue 8: S Corporation Tax-Affecting	299
	Issue 9: Factoring Financial Statement Adjustments When Estimating the Value of a Noncontrolling Interest	301
	Issue 10: Validity of the Capital Asset Pricing Model for Valuing Interests in Closely Held Businesses	301
	Conclusion	303
CHAPTER 20	Random Practical Valuation Tips and Thoughts	305
	Discovery and Privileges	305
	Attorney-Client Privilege	307
	Attorney Work Product Privilege	308
	Tax Practitioner Privilege	309
	A Free Standing, Complete Report, or a Mere Letter or Restricted Use Appraisal Report?	309
	Those Business Appraisers Must Be Identified in Time	311
	Should a Business Appraiser Always Follow USPAP?	311
	How Much Input Can a Client’s Advisor Have in the Preparation of a Business Appraisal Report?	312
	Types of Appraisers; Appraisal Associations	312
	Random Strategy Tips	315
APPENDIX A	Appraisal Standards Chart	321
APPENDIX B	Information Request List	325
APPENDIX C	Management Interview Checklist	327
APPENDIX D	Sample Engagement Letter	329

---

Glossary	335
Bibliography	343
Business Valuation Texts	343
Business Valuation Journals and Newsletters	344
Cost of Capital	345
Equity Risk Premiums	345
Articles	346
About the Authors	361
About the Web Site	363
Index	365

<http://www.pbookshop.com>