Introduction 1

1. e-Learning: Promise and Pitfalls 7

What Is e-Learning? 8

Is e-Learning Better? 11

The Promise of e-Learning 14

The Pitfalls of e-Learning 19

Inform and Perform e-Learning Goals 20

e-Learning Architectures 22

What Is Effective e-Courseware? 23

Learning in e-Learning 25

2. How Do People Learn from e-Courses? 29

How Do People Learn? 31

How e-Lessons Affect Human Learning 39

What We Don't Know About Learning 44

3. Evidence-Based Practice 49

What Is Evidence-Based Practice? 50

Three Approaches to Research on Instructional Effectiveness 51

What to Look for in Experimental Comparisons 55

How to Interpret No Effect in Experimental Comparisons 57

How to Interpret Research Statistics 58

How Can You Identify Relevant Research? 61

What We Don't Know About Evidence-Based Practice 62

4. Applying the Multimedia Principle: Use Words and Graphics Rather Than Words Alone 67

Do Visuals Make a Difference? 69

Multimedia Principle: Include Both Words and Graphics 70

Some Ways to Use Graphics to Promote Learning 74

Psychological Reasons for the Multimedia Principle 78

Evidence for Using Words and Pictures 79

The Multimedia Principle Works Best for Novices 83

Should You Change Static Illustrations into Animations? 84

What We Don't Know About Visuals 86

5. Applying the Contiguity Principle: Align Words to Corresponding Graphics 91

Contiguity Principle 1: Place Printed Words Near Corresponding Graphics 93

Contiguity Principle 2: Synchronize Spoken Words with Corresponding Graphics 102

Psychological Reasons for the Contiguity Principle 104

Evidence for Presenting Printed Words Near Corresponding Graphics 106

Evidence for Presenting Spoken Words at the Same Time as Corresponding Graphics 109

What We Don't Know About Contiguity 110

6. Applying the Modality Principle: Present Words as Audio Narration Rather Than On-Screen Text 115

Modality Principle: Present Words as Speech Rather Than On-Screen Text 117

Limitations to the Modality Principle 119

Psychological Reasons for the Modality Principle 121

Evidence for Using Spoken Rather Than Printed Text 123

When the Modality Principle Applies 128

What We Don't Know About Modality 129

7. Applying the Redundancy Principle: Explain Visuals with Words in Audio OR Text: Not Both 133

Redundancy Principle 1: Do Not Add On-Screen Text to Narrated Graphics 135

Psychological Reasons for the Redundancy Principle 137

Evidence for Omitting Redundant On-Screen Text 139

Redundancy Principle 2: Consider Adding On-Screen Text to Narration in Special Situations 141

Psychological Reasons for Exceptions to the Redundancy Principle 142

Evidence for Including Redundant On-Screen Text 144

What We Don't Know About Redundancy 146

8. Applying the Coherence Principle: Adding Material Can Hurt Learning 151

Coherence Principle 1: Avoid e-Lessons with Extraneous Audio 153

Psychological Reasons to Avoid Extraneous Audio in e-Learning 156

Evidence for Omitting Extraneous Audio 157

Coherence Principle 2: Avoid e-Lessons with Extraneous Graphics	159
Psychological Reasons to Avoid Extraneous Graphics in e-Learning	160
Evidence for Omitting Extraneous Graphics Added for Interest	161
Evidence for Using Simpler Visuals	164
Coherence Principle 3: Avoid e-Lessons with Extraneous Words	166
Psychological Reasons to Avoid Extraneous Words in e-Learning	168
Evidence for Omitting Extraneous Words Added for Interest	168
Evidence for Omitting Extraneous Words Added to Expand on Key Ideas	170
Evidence for Omitting Extraneous Words Added for Technical Depth	172
What We Don't Know About Coherence	172
9. Applying the Personalization Principle: Use Conversational Style and Virtual Coaches	179
Personalization Principle 1: Use Conversational Rather Than Formal Style	182
Psychological Reasons for the Personalization Principle	183
Evidence for Using Conversational Style	185
Promote Personalization Through Voice Quality	188
Promote Personalization Through Polite Speech	189
Personalization Principle 2: Use Effective On-Screen Coaches to Promote Learning	191
Personalization Principle 3: Make the Author Visible to Promote Learning	197
Psychological Reasons for Using a Visible Author	200
Evidence for the Visible Author	200
What We Don't Know About Personalization	201

10. Applying the Segmenting and Pretraining Principles: Managing Complexity by Breaking a Lesson into Parts 205

Segmenting Principle: Break a Continuous Lesson into Bite-Size Segments 207

Psychological Reasons for the Segmenting Principle 210

Evidence for Breaking a Continuous Lesson into Bite-Size Segments 211

Pretraining Principle: Ensure That Learners Know the Names and Characteristics of Key Concepts 212

Psychological Reasons for the Pretraining Principle 214

Evidence for Providing Pretraining in Key Concepts 216

What We Don't Know About Segmenting and Pretraining 218

11. Leveraging Examples in e-Learning 223

What Are Worked Examples? 224

The Psychology of Worked Examples 227

Evidence for the Benefits of Worked Examples 227

Worked Example Principle 1: Fade from Worked Examples to Problems 229

Worked Example Principle 2: Promote Self-Explanations 231

Worked Example Principle 3: Include Instructional Explanations of Worked Examples in Some Situations 234

Worked Example Principle 4: Apply Multimedia Principles to Examples 235

Worked Example Principle 5: Support Learning Transfer 239

Design Guidelines for Far Transfer Worked Examples 240

What We Don't Know About Worked Examples 245

12. Does Practice Make Perfect? 251

What Is Practice in e-Learning? 253

The Paradox of Practice 255

- Practice Principle 1: Add Sufficient Practice Interactions to e-Learning to Achieve the Objective 257
- Practice Principle 2: Mirror the Job 262
- Practice Principle 3: Provide Effective Feedback 263
- Practice Principle 4: Distribute and Mix Practice Among Learning Events 267
- Practice Principle 5: Apply Multimedia Principles 272
- Practice Principle 6: Transition from Examples to Practice Gradually 274
- What We Don't Know About Practice 274

13. Learning Together Virtually 279

- What Is Collaborative Learning? 280
- What Is Computer-Supported Collaborative Learning (CSCL)? 284
- Some Generalizations About Collaboration 288
- CSCL Research Summaries 292
- Structured Controversy 300
- CSCL: The Bottom Line 303
- What We Don't Know About CSCL 303

14. Who's in Control? Guidelines for e-Learning Navigation 309

- Learner Control Versus Program Control 311
- Do Learners Make Good Instructional Decisions? 315
- Learner Control Principle 1: Give Experienced Learners Control 319
- Learner Control Principle 2: Make Important Instructional Events the Default 322
- Learner Control Principle 3: Consider Adaptive Control 323
- Learner Control Principle 4: Give Pacing Control 327
- Learner Control Principle 5: Offer Navigational Support in Hypermedia Environments 329
- What We Don't Know About Learner Control 333

15. e-Learning to Build Thinking Skills 339

- Three Types of Thinking Skills 341
- Can Thinking Skills Be Trained? 343
- Thinking Skills Principle 1: Focus on Job-Specific Cognitive and Metacognitive Skills 344
- Thinking Skills Principle 2: Consider a Whole-Task Course Design 345
- Evidence for Whole-Task Instruction 351
- Thinking Skills Principle 3: Make Thinking Processes Explicit 355
- Thinking Skills Principle 4: Define Job-Specific Thinking Processes 360
- Teaching Thinking Skills: The Bottom Line 363
- What We Don't Know About Teaching Thinking Skills 364

16. Simulations and Games in e-Learning 369

- The Case for Simulations and Games 372
- What Are Simulations and Games? 374
- Do Games and Simulations Teach? 378
- Games and Simulations Principle 1: Match Game Types to Learning Goals 381
- Games and Simulations Principle 2: Make Learning Essential to Game Progress 382
- Games and Simulations Principle 3: Build in Proven Instructional Strategies 382
- Games and Simulations Principle 4: Build in Guidance and Structure 386
- Games and Simulations Principle 5: Manage Complexity 389
- Games and Simulations Principle 6: Make Relevance Salient 393
- What We Don't Know About Games and Simulations 394

17. Applying the Guidelines 401

- Applying Evidence-Based Guidelines to e-Courses 401

e-Lesson Reviews	404
Review of Sample 1: Asynchronous e-Lesson on Excel for Small Business	409
Review of Sample 2: Synchronous e-Lesson on Excel	414
Review of Sample 3: Automotive Troubleshooting Simulation	418
Reflections on Past Predictions	421
Beyond 2011	423
In Conclusion	424
