

Contents

Acknowledgements	xv
Abbreviations	xvii
Table of cases	xxiii
Introduction
1. Borders and Frames	1
2. Markets, States and Associations	2
2.1. Markets, Hierarchies, and Standardisation	3
2.2. Markets, States, and Standardisation	4
2.3. Custom, Technology, and Standardisation	5
3. The Book	7
3.1. Field	7
3.2. Method	8
3.3. Structure	9
1 The Rise of Private Governance: Functional Differentiation and Economic Globalisation
1. Introduction	11
2. Differentiation and Globalisation: Logics of Associative Governance	12
2.1. Logics of Associative Governance in Durkheim	12
2.2. Logics of Associative Governance in Luhmann and Habermas	15
3. From Government to Governance	19
3.1. Collapsing State and Society	19
3.2. Globalisation and Governance	21
3.3. Governance, Knowledge and Risk	23
4. The Legal Regulation of Private Governance	28
4.1. Law and Governance	28
4.2. The Regulation of Self-Regulation	30
4.3. Legal Pluralism	32
5. Conclusion	35
2 The European Community: Market Integration and Private Transnationalism
1. Introduction	37
2. Member States, Standards and the Reach of Negative Integration	39

2.1. Integration, Deregulation and Article 28 EC	39
2.2. Extending the Reach of Article 28	42
3. Member States, Standards and the Reach of Positive Integration	50
3.1. The Information Directive	51
3.1.1. Technical Regulations	52
3.1.2. Standards	58
4. Embedding Standards in European Law	63
4.1 The New Approach	63
4.2. The Green Paper	68
5. Embedding Standardisation in European Governance	70
5.1. Subsidiarity and Governance	70
5.2. General Product Safety	73
6. Conclusion	75
3 The United States: Deregulation and Legalisation
1. Introduction	77
2. Informal Rulemaking	79
3. Negotiated Rulemaking	83
4. Rulemaking by Reliance on Private Standards	87
4.1. General Federal Standards Policy	87
4.2. Manufactured Housing Standards	90
4.3. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration	93
4.4. The Consumer Product Safety Commission	97
5. Conclusion	100
4 Standards in the European Union
1. Introduction	101
2. 'European' Standards	101
2.1. The European Standardisation Committee (CEN)	101
2.2. Procedures for Standardisation	104
3. The Europeanisation of Standardisation	107
4. 'National' Standards	111
5. Germany	112
5.1. The Deutsches Institut für Normung	112
5.2. Procedures for Standardisation	114
5.3. Public Recognition of Standardisation	117
5.4. Legal Recognition of Standardisation	118
6. United Kingdom	122
6.1. The British Standards Institute	122
6.2. Procedures for Standardisation	123
6.3. Public Recognition of Standardisation	126
6.4. Legal Recognition of Standardisation	128
7. France	130
7.1. The Association Française de Normalisation	130

7.2. Procedures for Standardisation	131
7.3. Public Control over Standardisation	132
8. Spain	134
9. Italy	137
10. The Netherlands	139
11. Ireland	141
12. Conclusion	143
5 Standards and Codes in the United States
1. Introduction	145
2. The Private Standardisation System	145
3. The Battle of the Building Codes	152
3.1. The Battles of the Model Codes	155
3.1.1. Fire Codes	155
3.1.2. Plumbing and Mechanical Codes	156
3.1.3. Fuel Gas Codes	158
3.1.4. Electrical Codes	159
3.1.5. Building Codes	160
3.2. Between Standards, Codes and Law	163
3.3. State Codes	166
3.4. Between Administrative Process and Private Consensus	168
3.5. The Battles of State Codes	172
4. Conclusion	176
6 International Harmonisation of Standards
1. Introduction	177
2. Standards and International Free Trade	178
2.1. Transnational Private Governance in the WTO	178
2.1.1. Standards under the TBT Agreement	179
2.1.2. Standards under the SPS Agreement	181
2.1.3. The International Standards Organisation	183
2.1.4. Defining an 'International Standard'	185
2.2. Diagonal Issues Concerning International Standards	194
2.2.1. Public Acceptance of Private International Standards	194
2.2.2. Public Influence in Private International Standardisation	197
2.3. Co-ordinating Public and Private Rulemaking	200
2.3.1. Public Procurement	200
2.3.2. Pressure Equipment	201
2.3.3. Environmental Management Systems	204
3. Standards and Free Trade in the Americas	209
3.1. The North American Free Trade Agreement	209
3.1.1. Canada	210

3.1.2. Mexico	211
3.1.3. Harmonisation of Standards	214
3.2. South- and Latin American Free Trade Agreements	215
3.2.1. The Andean Community	216
3.3.2. Mercosur	217
3.3. Free Trade of the Americas	219
3.3.1. The Pan-American Standards Commission	219
3.3.2. The Draft Free Trade of the Americas Agreement	220
4. Conclusion	221
7 Private Regulation in European Public Law
1. Introduction	225
2. General Principles of the New Approach	227
2.1. Explicit Exceptions	228
2.1.1. Autonomy of Essential Requirements	228
2.1.2. Voluntary Application of Harmonised Standards	231
2.1.3. Standards set by Private Bodies	232
2.2. Inherent Exceptions	233
3. Instruments of Regulation on Community Level	234
3.1. Verifying Compatibility with Legal Requirements	235
3.1.1. Publication of Standards' References by the Commission	235
3.1.2. The Safeguard Procedure	235
3.1.3. Commission Mandates	239
3.1.4. Guidelines for Co-operation	240
3.1.5. CEN 'Consultants'	241
3.2. Procedural Requirements on Private Standard-Setting	242
3.2.1. Recognition of European Standards Bodies	242
3.2.2. Public Involvement in Standards Work	243
3.2.3. Voting Arrangements	243
3.2.4. Involvement of Interested Circles	244
3.3. Conclusion	246
4. Proposals for the Juridification of Standardisation	246
5. Judicial Review of the Legal Reception of Standards	249
6. Delegation Revisited	254
7. Conclusion	257
8 Private Regulation in American Public Law
1. Introduction	259
2. The Nondelegation Doctrine in the United States: The Definition of 'Lawmaking'	261
3. Administrative Law as Constitutional Law: The Federal Nondelegation Doctrine	266
3.1. Administrative Law and the Nondelegation Doctrine	268

3.2. Administrative Procedure as a Substitute for Political Mandate	269
3.3. Expertise as a Substitute for Political Mandate	273
4. A Hard Look at the Administrative Adoption of Standards	276
4.1. Legislative Provisions for Agency Adoption of Standards	277
4.2. Judicial Scrutiny of Agency Adoption of Standards	279
5. Conclusion	283
9 Politics and the Economy: Linking Institutions in Competition Law
1. Introduction	285
2. Certification and Abuse: the United States	287
3. Certification and Abuse: the European Community	289
4. Antitrust Immunity: the United States	293
4.1. Introduction	293
4.2. Standards Bodies as Political Institutions	299
4.3. From 'Reasonable' Restraints to Legitimate Governance	303
4.4. Antitrust as Private Administrative Law	305
5. Antitrust Immunity: the European Community	309
5.1. Introduction	309
5.2. Standards Bodies as Political Institutions	313
5.3. From 'Reasonable' Restraints to Legitimate Governance	317
5.4. Antitrust as Private Administrative Law	320
6. Conclusion	337
10 Custom, Science and Law: Linking institutions in Tort
1. Introduction	339
2. Negligence and the Juridification of Custom	340
2.1. Non-Compliance with Standards and Breach of Legal Requirement of Due Care	343
2.2. Compliance with Standards and Fulfilling the Legal Requirement of Due Care	345
3. Product Liability Law	347
3.1. Defectiveness: the European Community	348
3.2. Defectiveness: the United States	350
3.3. The Mandatory Standards Defence: the European Community	361
3.4. The Mandatory Standards Defence: the United States	363
3.4.1. The Regulatory Compliance Defence	363
3.4.2. Federal Pre-emption as a Mandatory Standards Defence	366
3.5. The State of the Art Defence: the European Community	374
3.6. The State of the Art Defence: the United States	376
3.6.1. Between Custom and the Frontiers of Science	376
3.6.2. Standards Bodies and the Constitution of 'Scientific' Evidence	379

4. Liability for Standards Bodies	384
4.1. The European Community	384
4.2. The United States	387
4.2.1. Strict Liability	387
4.2.2. Good Samaritan Liability	389
5. Conclusion	400
Conclusion – The Constitution of Private Governance
1. Introduction	403
2. Global Law Without a State	404
2.1. The Making of Global Law	404
2.2. Strategies of Denial	406
3. The Legitimacy of Global Private Governance	406
3.1. The Legitimacy of ‘Public’ Governance	408
3.2. The Legitimacy of ‘Private’ Governance	410
4. The Constitution of Global Private Governance	412
4.1. Representation and Deliberation	412
4.2. Centre and Periphery	413
References	415
Index	451