

Contents

Foreword	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
About the Author	xv
Introduction	xvii
A moving target	xviii
A consubstantial lack of information	xviii
Benign neglect, malign consequences	xix
Knowing the devil to circumvent it	xx
PART I WHAT IS PRIVATE EQUITY?	1
1 Private Equity as an Economic Driver: An Historical Perspective	3
1. Pooling interests to identify and exploit sources of wealth	5
(a) Identify, control and exploit resources	6
(b) Leverage public policies and a favourable business environment	8
2. Championing entrepreneurship	9
(a) No private equity without entrepreneurs	10
(b) Convert ventures into business successes	12
(c) Entrepreneurship and private equity form a specific ecosystem	14
Conclusion: an attempt at definition	15
(a) A negotiated investment in equity or quasi-equity	15
(b) A fixed maximum term	16
(c) Implying specific risks	16
(d) With high expected returns	16
(e) Undertaken on behalf of qualified investors	16
2 Modern Private Equity – A French Invention?	19
1. USA: the foundry of modern private equity	20
The strict separation of public policies and public financing	20

The separation of public endeavours and private efforts; the subsequent support of the former for the latter	20
(a) Governmental input: SBA, DARPA and ERISA	21
(b) Universities, defence and disruptive innovation	22
(c) Challenges	23
2. Europe: adapting a successful model or creating its own?	24
(a) Governmental input: legal changes, tax rebates, infrastructures and EU market	25
(b) National champions, information technologies and incremental innovation	28
(c) Challenges	33
Conclusion: Emerging markets, building castles on sand?	38
PART II THE PRIVATE EQUITY ECOSYSTEM	41
3 Private Equity: A Business System Perspective	43
1. We are all investors in private equity	43
(a) Sources of capital	43
(b) Private equity investment rationale	47
2. Organisation and governance of private equity funds	53
(a) Private equity fund managers are financial intermediaries	53
(b) Incentives and fees	54
(c) Conflicts of interest	57
(d) Power, checks and balances	60
3. Measuring performance, managing risks and optimising returns	61
(a) Measuring performance in an uncertain context	61
(b) Managing risks and optimising returns	66
4. Pitfalls and challenges	71
Conclusion	74
4 The Universe of Investment	75
1. Venture capital: financing company creation	77
(a) Venture capital investment targets	78
(b) Actors and structures	78
(c) Operational activities	80
(d) Challenges	81
(e) Limits	84
2. Growth capital: financing companies' expansion	84
(a) Growth capital investment targets	84
(b) Actors and structures	85
(c) Operational activities	86
(d) Challenges	86
(e) Limits	87
3. Leveraged buy-out: financing companies' transmissions	87
(a) LBO investment targets	87
(b) Actors	87
(c) Operational activities	89

	Contents	ix
(d) Challenges		90
(e) Limits		92
4. Other interventions in private equity		95
(a) Targeting the stock exchange		96
(b) Turn-around capital and special situations		99
(c) Distressed debt		99
(d) Quasi-equity instruments (mezzanine) and second lien debt		105
(e) Merchant banking, investment banking and private equity house intervention		117
(f) Secondary market		118
(g) Real estate, infrastructure and exotic assets		120
Conclusion		122
5 The Process of Investment: A Matter of Trust and Mutual Interest		125
1. Step 1: Preliminary analysis		126
2. Step 2: Valuation		126
3. Step 3: Negotiating		127
4. Step 4: Structuring		129
5. Step 5: Complementary due diligences		131
6. Step 6: Transaction		131
7. Step 7: Monitoring and exit		132
Conclusion		133
PART III PRIVATE EQUITY IN TEENAGE TIME: TREND SETTING, FADS AND RESPONSIBILITIES		135
6 Private Equity Evolution: Trends or Buzzes?		137
1. Is private equity going mainstream?		137
2. Is private equity (still) creating value?		140
3. Private equity: between bubbles and crashes		144
Conclusion		148
There is no such thing as ‘capital overhang’		149
7 Private Equity and Ethics: A Culture Clash		153
1. Greed		153
2. Destruction		157
3. Philanthropy		162
4. Transparency		163
5. Confidentiality and self-regulation		164
Conclusion		167
General Conclusion – Private Equity Today and Tomorrow		169
1. Core target: manage the volatility of performance		169
2. The only valid leitmotiv: long-term thinking		172
3. The impact of the fair market value		174
4. A long-term trend: the attractiveness of private equity		176
5. Private equity: future victim of its own success?		179

6. The impact of a better knowledge of private equity	184
(a) Understanding the risk and managing the J-Curve	184
(b) Innovating through structuring	185
(c) Private equity and universal owners	186
(d) Change or die: the pressure on general partners	188
(e) Regulation: Damocles' sword looming over private equity	189
Glossary	193
Bibliography	203
Index	207

<http://www.pbookshop.com>