

INDEX

- Acknowledgment. See Gratitude
- Asking for nothing, 165
- Attention, giving:
as a contribution, 163–164
and listening, 102
- Attitude:
and confrontations,
productive, 65
giving as an, 153–155
- Authenticity, 37–39, 141–142
- Behavior:
and confrontations, productive, 70–71
patterns, 37
personal versus professional, 37–38
and relationships, xxvii–xxix
and self-deception, 139–141
and truth, 139–141
- Benefits:
approach, xxxi–xxxiii
of feedback, 56–58
of partnerships, 19–22, 172
of relationships, 172
- “Be yourself,” 142
- Big business contradiction, xxi
- Blindspots, as self-deception, xxiv–xxvi
- Budget Blinds, 24–25
- Checkpoint meetings, 52
- Complete person:
getting to know the, 113–126 questionnaire, 116–122 relationships with, 122–125
- Conflict:
versus confrontations,
productive, 64–65
unproductive, 64–65, 68–69
- Confrontations, productive: and attitude, 65, 70–72
and behavior, 70–71
versus conflict, 64–65
and disagreements, 63–67
examples of, 63–67, 74–77
and honesty, 72–73
and hurt feelings, 67–68
in groups, 74–76
and kindfidence, 78
negative consequences of, 62
rules of engagement, 71–72
scenarios, 63–64
and self-talk, 71
steps, 70–74
and tone of voice, 62–63
what ifs, 67–70
why versus what, 73–74
- Contribution, 158–165
by asking for nothing, 165 through education, 158–159
through mentoring, 158–159
by paying attention, 163–164 through recognition, 160 through tasks, 164–165
through words and deeds, 163–165

- Davoren, Peter, 29–30, 31, 135
- Differences, respect for, 7
- “Ego blindness,” 128
- Emotional connections:
and courage, 123
creating, 113–126
and information gathering, 116–122
and an interest in others, 124 and introverts, 124–125
and self-talk, 122–125
- Emotions, managing, and partnerships, 15
- Encouragement, 155–158
- Feedback:
argument for, 44–47
benefits of, 56–58
and checkpoint meetings, 52 examples, 9, 45–46, 53–56, 58–59
and follow-up, 52
and giving, 159
and gratitude, 85
and honesty, xxvi–xxvii, 43–59 and integrity, 56–57
with leaders, 45, 47–52
misinterpretation of, 50–51 offering, 43–59
and partnerships, 8
planning for, 49–50
premeeting, 14–15
scenarios, 53–56
and self-deception, 143–147
soliciting, 36–37
timing of, 48–49
tips and techniques, 47–52
and tone of voice, 55–56
tools, 146–147
troubleshooting, 53–56
and understanding, 50–52
video, 36–37, 146
- “Foxhole principle,” 109–111
- Giving:
and asking for nothing, 165 attention, 163–164
as an attitude, 153–155
in business relationships, 151–167
and contributing, 158–165
encouragement, 166–167
through feedback, 159
and managing down, 152
and managing up, 152
through mentoring, 158–159
more than expected, 151–167 and private investigator exercise, 161–163
recognition, 153–158, 160
- Gratitude, 79–94
dos and don'ts, 82–85
examples of, 80–82
and feedback, 85
frequency of, 84–85
and goodwill, 93–94
as habit, 79–84
and loyalty, 92–93
and motivation, 89
reasons to show, 89–91
versus sucking up, 87–89
and timing, 88
tone of voice, 84
and trust, 92
ways of expressing, 85–87 written thanks, 80–82
- “Guy in the Glass, The,” 57
- Harmony, false sense of, 62
- Hepburn, Mary, 95–96
- Honesty:
and confrontations, productive, 72–73
and feedback, xxvi–xxvii, 43–59
and mistakes, admitting,
38–39
and partnerships, 8
- “I don't know,” 34
- Information gathering:
and emotional connections, 115
and partnerships, 116–122
questions for partners, 116–122
questions for self, 122–125
- Internal dialogue. See Self-talk
- Kennedy, John F., 40–41
- Kindfidence, 12–13, 31–32, 78, 159
- Krueger, Mablene, 183–184

- Leaders:
 and feedback, 45, 47–52
 and gratitude, 79–84
 and partnerships, 1–22
 and relationships, xxix–xxx, 30
- Listeners, 95–111
 and attention, focusing, 102
 and attentiveness, demonstrating, 102–103
 bad, four sins of, 96–100
 and distractions, eliminating, 101–102
 and empathy, 103–104
 examples, 105–106, 110–111
 exceptional, 95–111
 and faking it, 99–100
 and finishing sentences, 98–99 and the foxhole principle, 109–111 and interrupting, 97–98 and questions, asking, 104–105 and rehearsing responses, 100 and relationships, results-producing, 106
 and the “repeat principle,” 103 self-audit, 106–109
 and silence, practicing, 100–101
- Managing up:
 and giving, 152
 and meetings, 14–16
 phases of, 14–16
- Meetings:
 checkpoint, 52
 and managing up, 14–16
- Mistakes, admitting, 23–41
 and apologies, 39–40
 and authenticity, 37–39
 examples of, 24–26, 40–41
 and fear, 23–41
 and forgiveness, 39–40
 and honesty, 38–39
 and kindfidence, 31–34
 and opportunities, 24–27
 and results-producing relationships, 30
 soft traits versus vulnerable traits, 27
 and strength, 27–31
 tips and techniques for, 34–40 and transparency, 28–29 and vulnerability, 26–31
- Names, remembering, xx–xxi
- Need nothing tool, 165
- Order taking versus partnering, 1–22
- Partnering:
 versus order taking, 1–22
 questions to ask, 10–11 statements to make, 11–12
- Partnerships:
 and achievement, 184–186
 axioms, 17
 benefits of, 19–22, 172
 and courage, 21
 with customers, 10–14
 and emotions, managing, 15
 examples of, 183–184
 and documentation, 16, 18
 and feedback, 8
 ideal, 5–9
 ideal traits of, 7–8
 and information, gathering, 116–122
 with leaders, 1–22
 and listening, 15, 95–111
 and managing up, 14–16
 and networking, 19–20
 and performance, 22
 planning, 14–18
 and profit, 20–21, 22
 resistance to, 16–18
 results producing, 5–9 rewards versus risks, 18–22
 and self-talk, 122–125
 and trust, 22
- Perception alignment, 142–145
- Personal behavior versus professional behavior, 37–38
- Personality assessments, and behavioral plans, xxiii
- Private investigator exercise, 161–163
 and chatter, 162
 and questions, 161–162
 and reactions, 162
- “Productive confrontation,” 62, 65
- Professional behavior versus personal behavior, 37–38

- Question yourself, 35–36
- Recognition:
- as a contribution, 160
  - giving, 153–158
  - as a habit, 156
  - and insecurity, 155–156
  - and priorities, 157–158
  - reasons for not giving, 155–158
  - and selfishness, 156–157
  - tools for, lack of, 157
- Relationships:
- and behavior, xxvii–xxix
  - benefits approach, xxi–xxxiii
  - benefits of, 172
  - and change, 176–177
  - with complete person, 122–125
  - and diversity, 175–176
  - equality in, 1, 2
  - inequality in, 2, 3–5
  - investments and returns, 173
  - and leaders, xxix–xxx, 30
  - maximizing return on 169–186
  - and networking, 171–172
  - and partnering, 171–181
  - questions and answers, 177–181
  - and reciprocity, 182–184
  - results producing, xxxi–xxxiii
  - and technology, 174–175
  - transitioning, 13–16
  - troubleshooting, 177–181
  - unlimited, 181–182
- Rotunno, Nancy, 183–184
- Second-class-citizen status, 2–5
- Self-deception, 127–186
- and abilities, exaggerating, 134–135
  - and authenticity, 141–142
  - and behavior, 139–141
  - and being yourself, 142
  - and blindspots, xxiv–xxvi
  - and doubt, 133–134
  - and ego, 127–129
  - examples, xxv–xxvi, 128–129, 131, 137–138, 141–142, 147–149
  - and feedback, 143–147
  - and leadership, 137
  - and luck, 132–133
  - and perception alignment, 142–145
  - and problems, acknowledging, 130–131
  - and relationships, 136–137
  - and self-talk, negative, 133–134
  - and trust, lack of, 136
  - and truth, 127, 129–130
  - versus truth telling, 138–147
  - types of, 130–135
  - victims, playing the, 132
- Self-talk:
- and confrontations
    - productive, 71
  - and emotional connections, 123
  - and partnerships, 122–125
  - and self-deception, 133–134
- Self-worth, erosion of, 4–5
- Soft skills, xxi–xxxiii
- Soft traits versus vulnerable traits, 27
- Speakers, and audiences, connection with, 25, 30, 141–142
- Tips and techniques:
- feedback, 47–52
  - mistakes, admitting, 34–40
- Treatment, unequal, 3–4
- Truth:
- and behavior, 139–141
  - and self, 127–149
- Viollt, Michael, 34, 183–184
- Voice, tone of:
- and confrontations, productive, 62–63
  - and feedback, 55–56
  - and gratitude, 84
  - and treatment, unequal, 4
- Vulnerability:
- examples of, 29–30
  - and mistakes, admitting, 26–31
  - versus soft traits, 27
- Wimbrow, Dale, 57