

Contents

Preface	ix
1 The Excitement and the Malaise: Introduction	1
‘Bliss is it in this dawn to be alive’	1
‘Disillusions as never told in the old days’	17
Resistance to Power	22
A Liberal Education for the Twenty-First Century	27
2 Holistic Education: What is a Liberal Education?	31
Rhetoric and Reality	31
The Theory of Liberal Education	34
The Legacy of the Nineteenth Century	35
Utility, Knowledge and Holistic Education	39
The End of Knowledge, Liberal Education and Post-modernism	44
Liberal Education, Elite Groups and Mass Education	48
Liberal Education as a Mass Education	51
Elite Values and Mass Education	52
A Liberal Education and the Structure of the Academic Community	56
3 Missions for Law Schools: The Liberal University Law School	63
‘The business and busy-ness of the university’	63
‘Now, under conditions that seem unpropitious’	65
‘Fitful Enthusiasm’	73
Pluralistic Goals and the Liberal Law School	76
Entrepreneurial Universities	79
Entrepreneurial Universities, Pluralistic Law Schools and a Liberal Education	82
The Core Business of the Law School	84
4 The Pass Less Trodden: The Liberal Curriculum	85
The Goals of the Curriculum	85
Giving Structure to Curiosity	87
Sensibility, Intelligence and a Technical Education	89

Love Thy Neighbour	91
The Liberal Curricula and Doctrinal Law	98
Vocational Goals and Liberal Curricula	101
5 Conversations: Research in the Liberal Law School	105
Doubts and Hesitations	105
University Law Schools and Research	109
Research and Teaching in Law Schools	110
Reluctant Researchers	113
Newman and Research in the Liberal University	115
The Inevitability of Curiosity; the Inevitability of Research	116
Systematising Curiosity	119
Writing, Teaching and Research	122
The Pluralistic Nature of Research in the Law School	123
Research into What?	126
6 A Necessary Evil or Simply Necessary? Administration	131
A Long History of Silence	131
Equal and Autonomous Individuals	136
Collegiality	137
Collegiality and the New Universities	140
Collegiality and the Tea and Coffee Fund	141
Collegiality and Governance	144
The Advance of Managerialism?	147
Collegiality in the Modern University	151
Collegiality and the Wider Legal Community	152
7 A Short History of Madness: Accountability, Audit and Liberal Education	155
Prometheus Bound?	155
The Mantra of Accountability	161
Historical Notions of the Accountability of the University	161
Modern Demands for Accountability	162
University Law Schools and the Legal Professions	164
The Law Benchmark	171
Auditing Teaching	176
The Research Assessment Exercise	182
The Danger of Audit	186
8 This I Do for Love: Avocation and Vocation in the University Law School	189
The Industrialisation of Academic Life	189

The Unity of Avocation and Vocation	193
Work-Life Balance	194
Of Fairy Rings	203
Index	205

<http://www.pbookshop.com>