

index

A

- “Above My Pay Grade” space, 53
- Adaptation, 3–4, 112; to change, 6
- Adaptive professional brand (APB), 17, 59–61, 63, 90, 123; aspirational elements, including, 92; components of, 68–76; crafting, 64–67; credibility of, building, 75–76; long version of your story, 83–88; mission category, 70, 80; offering category, 69–70; other elements, 70–71; outlining, 71–73; presentation category, 68–69; short version of your story, 79–83; and social media, 121, 139; tagline, 76–79; workshoping, 73–75
- Albarracin, D., 35
- Alternating the venue method, for turning failure into success, 147
- American job market, 4–5
- American Psychological Association, 37, 38, 43, 122, 177
- APB. See Adaptive professional brand (APB)
- Applicant-to-job ratio, 5
- Archer, S., 39
- Aspirational elements, including in APB, 92

Attention schedule, 154

Authenticity, and social media, 138

B

- Benefits package, 8
- Berg, H. S., 161
- Bias, confirmation, 34–36
- Blog discussions, participating in, 75
- Brand leveraging, and social media, 118
- Brand-name recognition, 85
- Brand slogan, See Tagline
- Brand statement, 85–86
- Brands, 59–62, See also Adaptive professional brand (APB); corporate, 61; defined, 61; personal, 61; professional, 61–63, 80, 87
- Brechan, I., 35
- Brown, T., 10–11
- Business-model transformation, 24–26

C

- Career ownership, 18, 30–31, 53–55, 141, 173
- Career path, taking ownership of, 16
- Caterpillar, and globalized workforce, 9
- Centerpiece skills, 92, 111; and the Fittest, 102–106

- Change: accepting, 40–41; adaptation to, 6; and the Fittest, 36; sustaining, 173–174; working with/influencing, 37
- Changing for Good* (Prochaska), 114
- Cisco, and globalized workforce, 9
- CNN.com, 116–117
- College graduates, and changing job market, 7
- Competitive differentiation, 57–58; defined, 58; goal of, 58
- Complacency, and sustaining change, 173–174
- Computerworld.com, 124
- Confidence, 114
- Confirmation bias, 34–36
- Conscious gratitude, 41–43
- Contract workers, 7
- Contrarian lines of questioning, 49
- Coping cards, 45
- Corporate brands, 61
- Counterproductive behaviors: managing, 106–107; problem solving, 110
- Crises, seeing as insurmountable, 38–40
- Cultivation of skills, 89–114, 92–93; and adaptive professional brand (APB), 90–93; centerpiece skill, 102–106; counterproductive behaviors, managing, 106–107; defined, 90; differentiating skills, 95–98; and the Finch Effect, 90; niche exceptionalism, 94–95; skill upgrades, brainstorming, 93–102
- D
- Daga, V., 9
- Darwin, C., 1–4, 57–58, 182
- Decisive action, taking, 177
- Delivering on promises, 90–93
- Descriptors, 79–80
- Desmond, A., 2, 3
- Development skepticism, 110
- Differentiating skills, 92, 95–98, 111; skill scorecard, 96–98; upgrading, 101
- Differentiation, competitive, 57–58
- Digital presentation, 136–140
- Distraction-proof workspace, 175–176
- Dougherty, C., 5
- Dovidio, J., 79
- Doyle, A., 9, 61–62
- E
- E-mail addiction, ending, 176
- Eagly, A. H., 35
- Economic recovery, 33
- eLance.com, 9
- Emmons, R. A., 41
- Entrepreneurial energy: building your organization using, 161–168; and failure, 144–148; and the Fittest, 143–144; harnessing, 18, 141–169; to help meet role requirements, 150–152; and job seekers, 158–160; on-the-side entrepreneurial endeavor, benefits of, 155–157; and productivity, 152–153; using inside your organization, 149–156; using outside your organization, 156–158; value of, 168; and your vocational comfort zone, 168–169
- Entrepreneurial, perception of term, 141, 142
- Entrepreneurs: outsourcing by, 9; requirements of, 142
- Expertise, sharing on social media, 138
- F
- F-word, See Failure
- Facebook, 17, 116, 118, 121–122; consistently using the same name, 130; contact lists, 137–138; content, deleting, 128; content sharing, 123–124; as digital space to promote conversation, 139–140; fifteen-minute version of your professional story, 131–132; filtering content, 127; and the Fittest, 123–124; “liking” something on, 139; pictures, deleting, 128; profile, cleaning up, 127–129; profile content, reviewing, 129; profile, filling out, 132; profile page, 124; profile picture, 130–131; recommendations feature, 124; removing a tag, 128; status updates, 124, 128; tagline, 131; two-minute version of your professional story, 131;

uploading pictures, 132–133; wall, filtering, 128–129; wall posts, removing, 128–129; and your story, 123–124

Facebook Marketing for Dummies (Haydon), 117

Failure: alternating the venue method, 147; consequences of, 145; embarrassment/anger about, 145; and entrepreneurial energy, 144–148; persistence method, 146–147; recovering from, 145–146; reworking strategies method, 147; self-limiting beliefs about, 145; starting over method, 148; turning into success, 146–148

Fifteen-minute story, 80, 83–86

Finch Effect, 171–182; adaptation to change, 6; defined, 5–6; and evolution, 18; strategies, 5–6, 16–18; understanding, 181–182

Finches: adaptation of, 55; Darwin's samples, 2–4; elements of, 68; niche exceptionalism, 94; species, 3, 57–58; variations in, 58–59

Fittest: and adaptation, 112; adaptive professional brand (APB), 59–61; asking questions, 46–53; centerpiece skill, 102–106; and change, 36; and entrepreneurial energy, 143–144; Facebook, 123–124; helping others in their vocational journey, 175; motivation to be a member of, 112–113; online presence, 118; personal definitions of success, 19; sharing a professional story, 80; and social media, 122; tagline, 77

FitzRoy, Robert, 2

Follow-through problems, 109

FourSquare, 118

Frederickson, B., 43

Free Agent Nation (Pink), 11–12

Freelancer.com, 9

Freelancers, 8, 11, 16, 30–31; and gig mindset, 12–13

Full-time employees: cost of, 7–8; kept in key positions, 8; nontraditional workers replacing, 8

G

Gates, B., 142

GE, and globalized workforce, 9

Gig economy, rise of, 10–13

Gig employment, objective of, 11

Gig mindset, 12–13, 141; adopting, 13, 16, 27–55; defined, 30

Gigs, use of term, 10–11

Goals, replacing to-dos with, 154

“Golden Circle” theory (Sinek), 70

Google+, 118

Gratitude, 41–43

Great Depression (1930s), 4–5

H

Habits, getting feedback on, 107–109

Hart, W., 35

Haydon, J., 117, 118, 119

Henslow, I. S., 2

Henson, M. A., 4

Hiltenrath, J., 5

HMS Beagle, 1–3, 57–58, 182

Hope, keeping alive, 43–45

Housing bubble burst, 19–20

Hummer, discontinuation of, 19

I

In-person interview, 7

Independent contractors, 7–8

Industry experts, reaching out to, 102

Industry-relevant fairs/shows/exhibits, attending, 75–76

Industry-relevant network, joining, 75

InsightSquared, 151–152

Interests, sharing on social media, 138

Internal voice, See Self-talk

J

Job loss, example of, 27–29

Job market: changes to, 6–8; contractor-based, 6; crises, 4–5; and job expectations, 32–33; self-questions, 47

Job mobility, 155
 Journey, See also Professional evolution; importance of, 182; of professional evolution, 25
 Judson, B., 10

K

Kaka, N., 9
 Kendall, K., 79

L

Lantham, G. P., 21
 Leading a trend, downside of, 20–21
 Lee, F., 41
 Lifestyle habits, 108–109
 Lindberg, M. J., 35
 LinkedIn, 17, 116, 118; consistently using the same name, 130; contact lists, 137–138; content sharing, 125; as digital space to promote conversation, 139–140; introduction, requesting, 125;
 joining groups, 135; profile, 124–125;
 profile, filling out, 134; profile picture,
 130–131; recommendations, soliciting,
 135; status updates, 125; Summary section, 131–132; unprofessional content, weeding out, 129–130
 Locke, E., 21
 Locke, E. A., 154
 Lost drive, 109
 Lynda.com, 100

M

Machlis, S., 124, 125
 Matuson, R. C., 160
 Matyszczyk, C., 137
 Mayo Clinic, 44
 McCullough, M. E., 41
 McMillian, G., 115
 Merrill, L., 35
 Mission category, adaptive professional
 brand (APB), 70, 80
 Mission-focused tagline, 77
 Monitoring self-talk, 44
 Moore, J., 2, 3
 MySpace, 118

N

National unemployment rate, 5
 Negative self-talk, 44
 Niche exceptionalism, 94–95
 Nine-to-five job market: demise of, 7, 10;
 replacement by gig employment, 11;
 upward climb of, 19
 Nontraditional workers, 7–8

O

Offering category, adaptive professional
 brand (APB), 69–70
On the Origin of Species (Darwin), 2–3, 58
 On-the-side entrepreneurial endeavors, benefits of, 155–156
 Online alias, 119
 Online profiles, and projection of value proposition, 17–18
 “Organization Man” era, 11
 Outlining, adaptive professional brand
 (APB), 71–73
 Outsourcing, 8–10; by entrepreneurs, 9;
 to the global market, 8–9; by small businesses, 9; Web-based services, 9 Overhead: and outsourcing, 8–9; and part-time workers, 8
 Ownership: for how we live, 47; of your career, 18, 30–31, 53–55, 141, 173

P

Park, N., 41
 Part-time workers, 7–8; increase in use of, 8
 Persistence method, for turning failure into success, 146–147
 Personal brands, 61
 Personal success, defining, 22–23
 Personality-focused tagline, 77
 Perspective, 31–32, 173–175
 Peterson, C., 41
 Petrecca, L., 164
 Physical presentation, 68–69
 Pink, D., 11–12, 63
 Positive attitude, 43–45
 Presentation category, adaptive professional brand (APB), 68–69
 Prince (singing artist), 115–116

- Problem-solving counterproductive tendencies, 110
 Prochaska, J. O., 114
 Procrastination, 153
 Productivity: and entrepreneurial energy, 152–153; skills, building, 153–154; todos, replacing with goals, 154
 Professional brands, 61–63, 80, 87
 Professional evolution: challenges of, 172–180; maintaining balance between comfort and discomfort, 168–169; for ourselves and others, 175; and perspective, 31–32; perspective, 173–175; resilience, 176–178; self-care, 178–180; and skill development, 112; time management, 175–176
 Professional story, 80–81
 Professional value, identifying, 16–17, 57–88
 Professionals, types of, 5
 Profile rebranding, social media, 126–136
 Psychological resilience, 61, 122; building up, 54–55
- Q
- Questions, asking, 45–53, 55
- R
- Recession, 4–5
 Reisinger, D., 115
 Resilience: building, 33, 37–40, 54–55, 122; change, accepting, 40–41; decisive action, taking, 177; defined, 37; and gratitude, 41–43; hope, keeping alive, 43–45; moving toward your goals, 177; and professional evolution, 176–178; psychological, building up, 54–55; seeing crises as insurmountable, avoiding, 38–40; self-discovery, finding opportunities for, 177–178; and skill development, 176; tactics, 36–45
 Responsibility for your career, 18
 Reworking strategies method, for turning failure into success, 147
 Right questions: characteristics of, 48–50; examples of, 50; mulling over, 51–52; reframing wrong questions to, 50–51
 Role-focused tagline, 77
- S
- Self-care, 178–180; defined, 178; eating for energy, 180; exercising the mind and the body, 180; as foundational part of career strategy, 178; habits, 108–109; inadequate, 109; rest/relaxation/recuperation, 180; sleep, 179; and stress, 178–179
 Self-deception, 96
 Self-discovery, finding opportunities, 177–178
 Self-talk, 43–45, 52; coping cards, 45; monitoring/adjusting, 44; negative, 44
 Seligman, M.E.P., 41
 Sinek, S., 70
 Skill development: approach to, 111–112; confidence, 114; implementing plans for, 113–114; and professional evolution, 112; and resilience, 176
 Skill upgrades: brainstorming, 98–102; categories, 98–100
 Skills, cultivating, 17, 89–114, 92–93
 Small businesses, outsourcing by, 9
 Smith, N. F., 6
 Social media, 116–117, 138–139; and adaptive professional brand (APB), 121, 139; asking questions of your network, 139; and brand leveraging, 118; building goodwill/connections via, 139; communications, 138–139; contact lists, 137–138; features of, 123; online alias, 119; profile rebranding, 126–136; profiles, 17–18, 124–125, 126; quality over quantity, 139; relationships, maintaining, 122; relevance of, 117–118; rewards returned by, 120–121; sharing expertise, 138; sharing interests, 138; and target market, 139; time-spent-to-rewards-gained ratio, 136–137; transfer of knowledge, 121–122; unofficial mentorship, 121–122
 Social networks, nurturing, 17–18, 115–140
 Starting over method, for turning failure into success, 148
 Stephens, J. P., 41
 Stossel, J., 79
 Strategies, Finch Effect, 5–6, 16–18

- Stress, and self-care, 178–179
- Success: defining/engendering through achievable goals, 21; redefining, 18–23
- Survival of the fittest, 1–26; and the American job market, 4–5; and contractor-based global market, 6–10; Finch Effect strategies, 5–6, 16–18; finches' ability to adapt, 4; gig economy, rise of, 10–13; outsourcing, 8–10; personal success, crafting your definition of, 22–23; professionals, types of, 5–6; and slow recovery from recession, 5; vocational Darwinism, 22–23
- Sustaining change: and complacency, 173–174; in perspective and strategy, 174
- T
- Tagline, 76–79, 81, 102–103; for the Fittest, 77–78; parameters for developing, 78–79; and target market, 76–78; using on Facebook, 131; using on Twitter, 131
- Target market, 59–63, 70, 80–81, 83–84; and taglines, 76–78
- Taylor, K., 158–159
- Temporary workers, 7–8
- TheLifeUncommon.net, 96, 113
- Time management, 109, 175–176; distraction-proof workspace, 175–176; e-mail addiction, ending, 176
- Tjan, A. K., 58
- To-dos, replacing with goals, 154
- TweetDeck, 137
- Twitter, 17, 116–117, 118, 121–122; archiving of feed, 119; background image, 133; connections, making, 125–126; consistently using the same name, 130; contact lists, 137–138; as digital space to promote conversation, 139–140; lack of boundaries, 125; notifications, setting up, 134; profile picture, 130–131; tagline, 131; unprofessional content, weeding out, 129–130
- Two-minute story, 80–83
- U
- Upgrading skills, 98–102
- Urquhart, M. A., 4
- U.S. Census Bureau, 115
- V
- V-Teams, 9
- Value-focused tagline, 77
- Value proposition, 57–58; defined, 58
- Van Grove, J., 119
- Variations, 58
- Vocational comfort zone, 168–169
- Vocational Darwinism, 22–23, 35, 93–94
- Vocational transformation, unexpected opportunity of, 23–26
- W
- Wadhwa, V., 142
- Walaszek, S., 62, 64
- Wang, J., 10
- Web-based services, outsourcing, 9
- Web designer, hiring, 135–136
- Website: creating, 75; and projection of value proposition, 17–18
- WebTV, 11
- Weight Watchers, 111
- Wessel, D., 9
- Whyte, W. H., 11
- Williams, J. R., 81
- Willis, P., 116
- Woolhouse, M., 8
- Work habits, 108–109
- Work/life balance, 109
- Wright, J. H., 45
- Wrong questions: characteristics of, 48; reframing to right questions, 50–51
- Y
- Your professional story: long version, 83–88; short version, 79–83
- Z
- Zuckerberg, M., 142
- Zweig, J., 36