

Index

A

Acceptance: defined, 36; focusing on strengths, 74–75; gaining in groups, 144–145; in Group Needs model, 12, 34, 36–38, 67–69; joining with Bond, 125–126; learning about, 72–74; linking with Bond and Reality, 128–129; as part of Self loop, 61–62; personal ease and, 64–65; of Reality, 109; self-knowledge and, 63–64; statements reflecting, 63; transformation and, 53–54. See also Potential

Actions: addressing leadership style, 174; applying strengths, 74; assessing how to improve world, 113–115; building self-acceptance, 73–74; demonstrating group commitment, 148; determining group's needs, 121–122; discovering individual's Group Needs, 160; encouraging open communications, 177–178; engaging differences, 164–165; examining beliefs about groups, 150–151; exploring control and space issues, 155–156; facing resistance, 119–120; finding excitement in learning, 76–77; highlighting group capabilities, 183–184; highlighting patterns of judgment, 152; identifying outside influences, 180–181; judging willingness to risk, 153–154; learning about personal potential, 71–72; preparing for groups, 95; pursuing service and learning, 94–95; related to authenticity in group, 158–159; relating to group conflict, 99–100; using Group Needs in meetings, 187–188

Alertness to world, 108
Authenticity, 157–159

B

Bond: Acceptance paired with, 125–126; creating safety with, 84; defined, 39; developing with service and learning, 93–95; group identity and, 83–84, 145; in Group Needs model, 12, 35, 39–42, 88–91; Impact and Purpose joined with, 131–132; joining with Reality, 126–128; lightness and humor creating, 96–98; linking with Acceptance and Reality, 128–129; playing our parts, 84–85; statements reflecting, 82–83; transformation and, 53–54, 79–81. See also Purpose

C

Candor, 157–159
Change: changing group location, 162; created in transformation, 49, 52–53; linking Purpose and Potential for, 129–130; modifying group roles, 162–163; need for global, 15; small groups and, 14–16; transformations accelerating, 48; using group differences to create, 142
Collaborative leadership, 22–23, 182
Commitment: questions and actions for, 148–149; taking risks to build dreams, 113–116; transcending differences, 142–143
Communications: authentic, 157–159; open, 177–178; resolving conflict with, 42; virtual group, 191–192

Community Consulting Partnership (CCP), 4
 Conflict: creativity and, 99–101; discussing issues in, 175–178; in extraordinary groups, 25; resolving, 42
 Connections: creating sense of belonging, 125–126; feeling with group, 49, 51; virtual group, 191–192
 Control: exploring group issues, 154–156; leadership with light touch vs., 172–175
 Counting on each other, 87–88
 Creative dynamics: appearing as conflict, 159; Potential and Acceptance, 34, 36–38, 67–69; Purpose and Bond, 35, 39–42, 88–91; Reality and Impact, 35, 42–44, 112–113
 Curiosity, 108–109

D

Differences: applying Group Needs to, 159–161; authentic communication and, 157–159; cultivating, 140–142, 156–157; discussing, 175–178; embracing, 18, 26–27; helping others embrace, 156–165; learning from group, 151–152; preparing individual to embrace group, 147–156; putting Purpose above, 142–143; structuring work to hold, 161–165; value of, 139–140; working through, 144–147

E

Energy: created with Purpose, Impact, and Bond, 131–132; transformation and feeling of, 49, 50–51; working with group's, 14–15
 Enthusiasm, 25
 External Change groups, 106
 Extraordinary groups: benefits of, 15–16; cultivating differences in, 140–142, 156–157; defined, 11–12, 17; distinctiveness of, 18–19; examples of, 6–11; full engagement in, 18, 24–26; gaining Acceptance from, 144–145; growing into potential in, 145; human need for, 33–34, 192; identity and belonging in, 83–84, 145; intentionally meeting needs for, 134–135; just-enough structure in, 18, 24; ordinary appearance of experiences in,

193; Purpose in, 18, 21–22; Reality in, 145–146; relationships between members of, 29; shared leadership in, 18, 22–23; studying, 4–6; synergy in elements of, 21; taking risks in, 113–116, 153–154; tangible results in, 18, 29–32; transformative shifts in, 11–12, 193–194; using intention and action for Impact, 146–147.
See also Leadership

F

Facilitating groups: leadership for, 168–169; tips for, 185–186; your role in, 95–96
 Facing adversity and resistance, 118–120
 Flexible plans, 116–117
 Full engagement in groups, 18, 24–26

G

Goals: achieving, 116–117; linking group purpose to, 171
 Ground rules for groups, 163
 Group loop: about, 101; conflict and creativity, 99–101; dynamic between Purpose and Bond, 35, 39–42, 81–82, 88–91, 92–101; illustrated, 81. See also Bond; Purpose
 Group Needs model: Acceptance and Potential dynamic, 34, 36–38, 67–69; applying to differences, 159–161; Bond and Purpose dynamic, 35, 39–42, 88–91; cross-loops of, 123; designing meetings around, 135, 184–188; elements of, 12; feeling energized, 49, 50–51; illustrated, 35, 53; interaction of loops in, 46–47; marginal icon of, 13; pairs of needs in, 34–36; Reality and Impact dynamic, 35, 42–44, 112–113; relationship among loops of, 106; Self, Group, and World pairs in, 34–35; sense of connection to group, 49, 51; transformation in, 47–49. See also Group loop; Self loop; World loop
 Group-shifts, 55
 Groups: changing meeting location, 162; cultivating differences, 140–142, 156–157; curiosity in, 108–109; defined, 11; designing meetings for Group Needs, 135; encouraging transformation in, 55–56; examining beliefs about, 150; examples of extraordinary, 6–11; facilitating, 95–96; facing adversity and resistance, 118–120; forming, 181–184; ground rules for, 163; group identity and Bond, 83–84, 145; helping others embrace differences, 156–165; how transformations happen in, 53–56, 124; human need for, 33–34, 192; identifying outside influences on, 180–181; importance of small, 14–16; issues of space and control in, 154–156; keeping together, 120–122; leadership for, 168; lightness and humor in, 96–98; linking Purpose to goals, 171; maintaining positive bias toward, 149–151; needing each other to make Impact, 111; playing part in, 84–85; potential of, 191–192; preparing individuals to embrace, 147–156; refreshing meeting design, 162; setting goals for, 116–117; shifting roles within, 162–163; six needs of, 34–35; structures to hold differences, 161–165; studying dynamics of, 4–6; understanding power of, 111; value of differences in, 139–140; working through differences, 144–147. See also Extraordinary groups; Facilitating groups

Growth, 66–67

H

Head and heart, 54
 Hopeful feeling, 49, 51–52
 Human needs: need for groups, 33–34, 192; paired in Group Needs model, 34–35
 Humor: contributing in group, 96–98; in extraordinary groups, 25–26

I

Icons of Group Needs model, 13
 Impact: Bond and Purpose joined with, 131–132; defined, 43; in Group Needs model, 12, 35, 42–44, 112–113; improving the world, 110–111; as key to transformation, 53–54; naming larger, 170–171; needing each other to make, 111; overview of, 106–107; Potential and

Purpose joined with, 132–134; setting group goals, 116–117; statements reflecting, 110–111; understanding power of group, 111; using intention and action for, 146–147. See also Reality

Improving the world, 110–111
 Individual Support groups, 22, 106
 Individuals: accepting Reality and Impact, 145–147; benefits of extraordinary groups to, 15–16; bonding with groups, 125–128, 245; counting on each other, 87–88; embracing group differences, 147–156; focusing on strengths, 74–75; fulfilling potential, 66, 70–72, 145; gaining sense of identity and belonging, 83–84, 145; influencing each other, 87; knowing and appreciating self, 144–145; maintaining positive bias toward group, 149–151; moving in same direction, 87; need for learning and growth, 66–67; personal ease of, 64–65; personal nature of transformation, 55; playing our parts in groups, 84–85; responding to Group Needs of, 159–161; space and control issues for, 154–156; strengthened with group Bond, 128–129; taking risks, 113–116, 153–154; transformation of, 54–55; transformative effects of groups on, 60–61

J

Journals, 13

K

Keeping groups together, 120–122

L

Leadership: about group, 168; collaborative, 22–23, 182; discussing group differences, 175–178; facilitative, 168–169; framing inspiring Purpose, 170–172; leaders in extraordinary groups, 188–189; light touch for, 172–175; managing world around group, 178–181; selecting right team, 181–184; style of, 174. See also Facilitating groups

Learning: finding excitement in, 75–77; from group differences, 151–152; need for, 66–67; pursuing in group, 93–95; tracking in journals, 13; unexpected, 18, 28

Light touch: creating Purpose with humor and, 96–98; leadership with, 172–175

Location, 162

M

Mead, Margaret, 14

Meetings: changing location of, 162; designing with Group Needs model, 135, 184–188; refreshing design of, 162

Micro-Credit Summit, 6–9

Modeling communication, 157–159

Moving in same direction, 87

O

Openness, 157, 177–178

Organizations: benefits of peak group experiences for, 15–16; groups as meeting ground with, 14

P

Patterns: considering judgment, 151–152; examining beliefs about groups, 150

Personal vitality: feeling energized, 49, 50–51; transformation and, 48–49

Potential: defined, 36; fulfilling individual, 66, 70–72, 145; in Group Needs model, 34, 36–38, 67–69; Impact and Purpose joined with, 132–134; joining with Purpose, 129–130; as key to transformation, 53–54; learning about own, 70–72; need for learning and growth, 66–67; as part of Self loop, 61–62; pursuing excitement in learning, 75–77; statements reflecting, 65. See also Acceptance

Practicing what you read, 13

Purpose: about, 18, 21–22; achieving transformation with, 79–81; counting on each other, 87–88; creating with lightness and humor, 96–98; defined, 39; framing inspiring, 170–172; in Group Needs model, 12, 35, 39–42, 88–91; Impact and Bond joined with,

131–132; influencing others with, 87; joining with Potential, 129–130; as key to transformation, 53–54; linking groups to goals, 171; moving in same direction, 87; overcoming differences with, 142–143; Potential and Impact joined with, 132–134; shifting group, 89–91; statements reflecting, 85–86. See also Bond

Q

Questions: about communication, 158, 177; about conflict, 99–100; about resistance, 118–119; applying to stories of transformation, 124–125; assessing Reality and Impact, 114–115; for choosing team members, 183; considering commitment to group, 148; determining group member needs, 121; engaging group differences, 163–164; examining beliefs of groups, 150; exploring control and space issues, 155; expressing individual's Group Needs, 159–160; facilitating meetings, 186; finding excitement in learning, 76; focusing on strengths, 74; identifying outside influences on group, 180; linking group Purpose to goals, 171; personal potential, 70–71; on pursuing service and learning, 93–94; reflecting patterns of judgment, 151–152; reflecting self-acceptance, 73; reviewing group participation, 95; thinking about leadership style, 174; on willingness to risk, 153

R

Reality: being alert to, 108; curiosity and, 108–109; defined, 43; examining in group, 145–146; facing adversity and resistance, 118–120; group acceptance of, 109; in Group Needs model, 12, 35, 42–44, 112–113; joining with Bond, 126–128; linking with Acceptance and Bond, 128–129; overview of, 106–107; risk taking and, 113–116, 153–154; setting group goals, 116–117; statements reflecting, 107–109; transformation and, 53–54. See also Impact

Relationships between group members, 29
 Resistance: actions facing, 119–120; examples of, 104; questions about, 118–119
 Respect: Bond based on, 41–42; for diversity, 26–27
 Results of extraordinary groups, 18, 29–32
 Risk taking, 113–116, 153–154
 Roles, 162–163
 Rules for groups, 163

S

Safety, 27, 84
 Self, Group, and World pairs: about, 34–35; interaction in Group Model, 46–47
 Self loop: about, 61–62; Acceptance in, 63–65; dynamic between Potential and Acceptance, 34, 36–38, 67–69; illustrated, 61; Potential in, 61–62.
See also Acceptance; Potential
 Self-Acceptance. See Acceptance
 Self-knowledge and acceptance, 63–64
 Shared leadership: dynamics of, 22–23; extraordinary groups and, 18
 Shifts in Bond and Purpose, 89–91
 Space and control in groups, 154–156
 Structure: in extraordinary groups, 18, 24; holding group differences, 161–165
 Synergy, 21

T

Task-oriented groups, 21–22
 Transformation: change created in, 49, 52–53; defined, 11, 47–49, 123–124; differences contributing to, 142–144; encouraging, 55–56; energized feeling with, 49, 50–51; feeling deep connection to group, 49, 51; four feelings of, 49–53; as heart-felt experience, 54; hopeful feelings of, 49, 51–52; by individuals, 54–55; possibilities of, 193–194; process of group, 53–56, 124; stories exemplifying, 124–134; transformative shifts, 11–12, 47–48, 193–194; when Purpose and Bond achieves, 79–81
 Trust: collaborative teams and, 182–183; fostering, 27; open communication and, 177

V

Virtual group connections, 191–192

W

World loop: dynamic between Reality and Impact, 35, 42–44, 106–107, 112–113; illustrated, 106; Impact in, 110–111; meeting needs of, 113–122; Reality in, 107–109.
See also Impact; Reality

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>