

CONTENTS

About the Author	v
Acknowledgments	vii
Prologue: The King Is Dead	ix

PART I. Music as American Commerce

1. Music as Property—The Early Sheet Music Trade	3
2. Copyright in “Musical Compositions”	6
3. Music Goes to Court	10
4. The First Superstar of American Song	13
5. High Tech Hellion—John McTammany’s Organette	21
6. “After the Ball”	24
7. Century’s End	31
8. Before and after The Mikado —The Exclusive Right of Public Performance	33
9. Transitions	43

PART II. The End of the World as We Know It, Part 1—Rolls, Cylinders, and Discs

10. Stern v. Rosey	47
11. The Mechanical People Invade Tin Pan Alley	50
12. White-Smith v. Apollo	55
13. 1909	61
14. Prelude to Public Performance	64
15. 1909 Epilogue— Leeds & Catlin v. Victor	66

PART III. Public Performance for Profit—From Lüchow’s to the La Salle Hotel

16. Dinner at Lüchow’s	71
17. “From Maine to Oregon” (By Way of Manhattan)	74
18. A Pleasant Dinner at Shanley’s, Gone Bad	76
19. Justice Holmes	78
20. ASCAP Goes to the Movies	80

—-1
—0
—+1

- 21. “L. Bamberger & Co., One of America’s Great Stores” 82
- 22. 1931: Buck v. Jewell-La Salle and the Birth of Background Music 85
- 23. Reshaping an Industry—Radio, Movies, and Music 88
- 24. ASCAP Meets the Competition 94
- 25. ASCAP Goes to the Movies, The Sequel 96

IV. Recordings and Recording Artists

- 26. Notes and Lyrics, Not Sounds 103
- 27. Whiteman and Waring 107
- 28. Whiteman v. WBO Broadcasting Company (RCA v. Whiteman) 117
- 29. After Whiteman 122
- 30. After the War 126
- 31. From Recordings to Records 132

PART V. Revolutions in the Air

- 32. Pudding Basin Hair 141
- 33. Three Revolutions 143
- 34. Back to the Future in Goldstein v. California 152
- 35. 1976 154
- 36. Home Taping Is Killing Music 158
- 37. Sample This 162
- 38. Holy Trinity of Music Copyright 165

PART VI. The End of the World, Part 2

- 39. Party Like It’s 1999 173
- 40. Hired or Fired? 175
- 41. MP3.com 178
- 42. Learning to Share 180
- 43. . . . and Share Alike 186

Part VII. Into the Cloud

- 44. Convergence 195
- 45. Performance under Pressure 200
- 46. Partly Cloudy 208
- 47. A Letter from Google 210
- 48. Saving Prokofiev 213
- 49. Beautiful Future of Music 217

Epilogue: Long Live the King! 221

Timeline 225

Index 229