

Contents

About the Contributors	xi
Preface	xix
Acknowledgments	xxi
Foreword	xxiii
Introduction	xxv
 Chapter 1
Putting ADR to Work in IP Disputes: When and How to Do It	1
James F. Davis
Introduction—The ADR Landscape	2
I. Overview of ADR Tools	2
II. Intellectual Property Infringement Suits	5
III. Being a Worthy Advocate in Mediation	6
IV. Stumbling Blocks in Mediation Advocacy	10
V. Case Histories—Using ADR to Win Your Client’s IP Dispute	14
Conclusion	29
 Chapter 2
The Multifaceted ADR Clause—Why It Deserves More Attention Than It Gets	31
David W. Hill and Ronald A. Bleeker
Introduction	31
I. What Rules and Procedures Do You Want?	33
A. Devising Ad Hoc Rules for an IP Dispute	34
B. Mediating an IP Dispute under Established Rules ...	35
C. Arbitration of an IP Dispute under Established Rules	38
II. Specifying an ADR Institution	42

III. Customizing Your ADR Clause 44

 A. Place (“Seat”) of the Arbitration 44

 B. Number of Arbitrators 45

 C. Issues for Resolution 48

 D. Language of the Arbitration 49

 E. Choice of Law in the Arbitration 49

 F. Time Limits 50

 G. Information Exchanges 52

 H. Award of Costs, Fees, Damages 54

IV. ADR with Other Forms of IP 55

 A. Trademarks and Copyrights 55

 B. Trade Secrets/Know-how 56

V. Raising the ADR Issue In the Negotiation Process 57

Conclusion 59

Chapter 3

Early Case Assessment: A Strategic Tool for the Early Resolution and Management of Intellectual Property Cases 61

Cynthia Raposo and Harrie Samaras

Introduction 61

I. What Is Early Case Assessment (ECA)? 62

II. Why Use ECA? 64

III. A Framework for Performing ECA 65

 A. Steps to Consider for an Early Case Assessment
 Analysis 66

 B. ECA Detailed Analysis 68

IV. Post-Resolution: Loop-Back Process (“Prevention”) 105

V. ECA Executive Summary 106

Conclusion 107

Appendix: CPR’s ECA Toolkit 109

Chapter 4

Mediation: One Judge’s Perspective (Or Infusing Sanity into Intellectual Property Litigation) 133

Magistrate Judge Mary Pat Thyng

Introduction 134

I. What Mediation Really Is 138

II. The “Other” ADR 140

III. Why Mediation in IP Cases? 141

IV. Timing Is Everything142

V. The Fifth “P”: Don’t Prejudge the Case146

VI. Jump-Starting the Process147

VII. Working with Your Mediator148

VIII. Preparing for Mediation149

 A. Initial Conferences149

 B. Whom to Include (or Exclude)152

 C. Preparing an Effective Mediation Statement155

 D. Counsel’s “Homework” before the Mediation
 Session157

 E. Making the Most of the Mediation Session160

IX. Closing the Deal162

Conclusion163

Chapter 5

Preparing to Successfully Mediate an Intellectual Property

Dispute: A Guide for Counsel and Clients165

Hildy Bowbeer

I. The Case for Mediation166

II. In the Beginning, There Was the Business Objective167

III. Timing and Strategies—Sooner, or Later?168

 A. Bridging the Information Gap169

 B. Managing the Message170

 C. Avoiding the Preemptive Strike170

 D. Case Events173

 E. Party Events174

IV. Practical Considerations for Selecting Your Mediator ...175

V. Location, Location, Location182

VI. Structuring the Mediation—Format and Length184

VII. Preparing for a Case-Dispositive Event187

 A. Selecting the Negotiation Team: Who Belongs?187

 B. Rolling Up Your Sleeves191

 C. Preparing the Mediation Statement—Strategies and Considerations201

 D. Preparing the Opening Statement: What Information Will You Convey?203

VIII. The Devil Is In the Details204

IX. The Fine Print206

X. A Final Thought about the Long View206

Chapter 6

Mastering the Use of a Special Master in Intellectual Property Litigation209

Don W. Martens

Introduction210

I. Appointing and Using a Master in IP Cases211

 A. Deciding to Appoint a Master211

 B. Selecting the Master216

 C. What Belongs in the Order of Appointment?217

 D. Preliminary Conference220

 E. Hearing221

 F. Master’s Report222

 G. Preparing Objections to the Master’s Report222

 H. Using a Trial Master223

II. Using a Discovery Master224

 A. Why Use a Discovery Master?224

 B. Using a Master to Expedite Resolution of Discovery Disputes225

 C. Using a Master to Manage Discovery227

III. Using a Master in Patent Cases227

 A. Using a Markman Master228

 1. Deciding Whether to Use a Markman Master229

 2. When to Appoint a Markman Master230

 3. What to Cover at the Preliminary Conference231

 4. What to Include in the Briefing232

 5. Making the Most of the Tutorial232

 6. Consider the Benefits of a Tentative Ruling233

 7. Preparing for the Hearing233

 8. Filing Objections to the Markman Master’s Report234

 B. Using a Master for Patent Summary Judgment
 Motions234

 C. Using a Master for Patent Damages235

IV. Using a Master in Copyright Cases236

 A. Determining Software Copyright Infringement236

 B. Determining Copyright Infringement in Non-Software Cases237

 C. Determining Copyright Damages237

V. Using a Master in Trademark Cases238
 A. Determining Exclusion of Survey Evidence238
 B. Determining Likelihood of Confusion239
 C. Enforcing Consent Decrees239
 D. Determining Trademark Damages240
 E. Calculating Attorney’s Fees and Costs241
 VI. Using a Master in Trade Secret Cases241
 Conclusion242
 Appendix: Order for Special Master243

Chapter 7

Tools Useful to Persuade, Evaluate, and Communicate in ADR Proceedings247
Kevin R. Casey
 Introduction248
 I. Screening Tools249
 A. ADR Versus Litigation250
 B. Which Type of ADR?251
 C. Selecting the Neutral (Arbitrator, Mediator)255
 II. Decision Tree Analysis (DTA)260
 A. DTA Mechanics261
 B. DTA Advantages265
 C. DTA Limitations268
 D. Use by Mediators269
 III. Selective Use of Charts, Exhibits, and Other Visual Aids275
 IV. Algorithms for Fair Division of Property and Issues280
 V. Use of Technological Tools281
 A. Using Technology During the ADR Proceeding ...281
 B. Using Technology to Help Conclude the ADR
 Proceeding282
 C. The Future284
 Conclusion284
 Appendix A: CPR Mediation Screen Questions Worksheet286
 Appendix B: DTA Applications291
 Appendix C: Algorithms for Fair Division of Property and Issues297

Chapter 8

The Skillful Appellate Mediation Advocate: What You Need to Know about Mediating Patent Cases at the Federal Circuit301

Wendy Levenson Dean, Harrie Samaras, and Dina Leytes

Introduction	301
I. Evolution of the Court’s Mediation Program	302
II. Benefits of Patent Mediation at the Appellate Stage	303
A. Appellate Mediation: Why Is It Worth Your Client’s Time?	303
B. Management of Relative Costs	306
C. Preservation, Enhancement, and Development of Business Relationships	307
D. Avoidance of Unpredictable Results—Certainty	307
E. Maintenance of Privacy: Confidentiality	308
F. Achievement of Efficient Resolution: Timeliness	309
G. Achievement of Global Resolution of Multiple Litigation/Multiple Parties: It’s Not Just the Federal Circuit Appeal	309
III. What You Need to Know About the Mediation Process, from Docketing to Mediation	310
A. What Is “Mandatory” about Mandatory Mediation?	310
B. Docketing Statements	311
C. Review of Rulings on Appeal	313
D. Preliminary Discussions with Counsel	313
E. Scheduling	314
F. Appointing the Mediator	314
G. Preparing the Confidential Mediation Statement ...	315
H. The Mediation Session	316
I. Subsequent Sessions	317
J. Resolution or Panel Decisions	318
K. Do Not Try to Predict Settlement	318
IV. Practice Tips for Effective Appellate Mediation	320
A. Effective Practices	320
B. Ineffective Practices	321
C. Why Your Mediation Skills Matter	322

Conclusion	324
Appendix A: Appellate Mediation Program Guidelines	325
Appendix B: Docketing Statement	331
 Chapter 9
The USITC: An Alternative Approach (Not Just an Alternative Forum) for Resolving IP Disputes	335
Hon. Theodore R. Essex and James R. Holbein
I. Overview of the Commission—An Alternative Approach for Resolving IP Disputes	336
II. How Did We Get Here? The Legislative Development of Section 337	338
III. Section 337 Practice	342
IV. Points for the Bar to Consider in USITC Practice	343
V. Section 337 Mediation Program—An Alternative Approach to Trial at the Commission	348
VI. Advantages of the Mediation Program—Resolution and Case Management	348
VII. Factors to Consider in Mediating Section 337 Cases	350
Conclusion	352
 Index	 353

<http://www.booksshop.com>