Wolters Kluwer China Law & Reference | Company Law

Focus on corporate governance and efficient development

Company law practice is part of classical legal services and involves a broad range of services. Law practitioners must not only keep an eye on changes in related laws and policies, but pay attention to how to control risks and resolve disputes.

Wolters Kluwer China Law & Reference launched the Company Law Vertical Database, building a guiding catalogue of corporate business scenarios; with the catalogue users can get direct access to the information they need. In addition to efficient integration of useful legal information, the product also combines laws & policies, professional insights and practical tools and provides smart and comprehensive guidelines to facilitate sound corporate governance and efficient business development.
