

Contents

Acknowledgments	xiii
About the Author	xv
Preface	xvii
Introduction	xxi

PART ONE

The Game of Technology Transfer

CHAPTER 1

The Pieces

The Pieces	3
Introduction	3
The Problem with Models about Human Behavior	4
Constructs	6
Portraying Constructs	7
Deals	7
Technologies	15
Practices	23
Players	33
Conclusion	38

CHAPTER 2

The Board

The Board	39
Introduction	39
Arenas	39
Channels and Messages	42
Supply Chains	44
Users and Buyers	48
Competitors	55
Markets	59
Stakeholders	64
Conclusion	67

CHAPTER 3
Strategies		69
Introduction		69
Technology Niches		70
Nash Equilibriums		72
Making Technology Conducive for Nash Equilibriums		74
Objectives		85
Tactics		96
Competition		99
Windows of Opportunity or Being Just-in-Time		100
Conclusion		102
PART TWO
Market Research
CHAPTER 4
Finding the Customer		105
Introduction		105
What We Have to Sell		105
Functionality		105
Characteristics		114
Features		117
Product, Process, or Service		118
Finding the Application		121
Finding the Customer		133
The End User		133
Buyers		139
Conclusion		144
Appendix A: Intellectual Property		146
Patents		147
Trade Secrets		149
Trademarks		149
Copyrights and Masks		150
IP Control		150
CHAPTER 5
Competing Technology		155
Introduction		155
Redundancy		156
Relation to the Dominant Design		159
Who Is Selling?		163
Who Is Emerging?		165
Time		167
Conclusion		171

CHAPTER 6
Markets	173
Introduction	173
Market Barriers	174
Market Forces	180
Estimating Market Size	189
Estimating Market Share	197
Conclusion	200
PART THREE Strategy
CHAPTER 7
Positioning the Technology for the End User	203
Introduction	203
Take-Off	204
Umpf	205
Goals	209
Competitive Advantage	214
Performance	216
Ease of Use	219
Price	223
Time	227
Window of Opportunity	228
Value Propositions	232
Conclusion	235
Appendix A: Teknikos	237
Using Web Search to Develop and Test Hypotheses	237
Interviewing to Test Hypotheses	240
Appendix B: Presenting Your Technology	242
Pre-Nondisclosure	242
Post-Nondisclosure (But Pre-Deal)	242
Investor Presentations	243
Post-Deal (Fully Executed Contract)	243
CHAPTER 8
Launch Tactics	245
Introduction	245
SWOTs	246
1. Pick the Positioning	248
2. Determine the Strengths and Weaknesses	249
3. Determine the Opportunities and Threats	251
4. Look at the Intersection	254

Looking Forward: Launch Tactics and Finding the Target	260
Channels and Messages	262
Rhetoric and Messages	265
Conclusion	267

PART FOUR

Doing Deals

CHAPTER 9

Finding the Target 271

Introduction	271
Market Alignment	272
Technology Alignment	282
Alignment on Capabilities	290
Attitude toward Risk	291
Conclusion	294

CHAPTER 10

Valuing the Technology 295

The Basics: Discounted Cash Flow	296
Approaches to Valuation	297
Not Stupid Methods	297
Stupid Methods	300
Non-Revenue Value and Its Valuation	301
Revenues	302
Expenses	310
Quick Recap	314
Risk	315
Conclusion	324

Appendix A: Why Real Options Are a Waste of Time 326

CHAPTER 11

Doing the Deal 329

Planning for Negotiations	332
Relationships	333
Intellectual Asset Package	341
Economics	344
Planning the Game in Extensive Form	349

Negotiating	351
Setting the Stage	351
Pulling It Off	356
Conclusion	360
CHAPTER 12
The Twelve-Step Program	363
Index	369

<http://www.pbookshop.com>

<http://www.pbookshop.com>