

Contents

	Foreword	ix
	Acknowledgments	xiii
	Preface	xv
Section I	Getting Priorities Straight	1
1	The Theory behind Flipping the Funnel	3
2	What the Recession Taught Us (AKA Returning to Basics)	11
3	Charity Begins at Home	17
4	Time to Spurn the Concept of Churn	27
5	Technology and Relationships—a Love-Hate Relationship	37
Section II	A New Way Forward	47
6	Time to Flip the Funnel	49
7	Politics, Shoes, and Insurance: Three Examples of Flipping the Funnel	81
8	The Key Is Customer Experience	97
9	How Employees Help Flip the Funnel	109
10	Customer Service as a Strategic Driver	121
11	The New Channels of Customer Service	157
Section III	Making It All Happen	179
12	Transforming Mouths into Megaphones	181
13	To Incent or Not to Incent: Is That the Question?	203

14	The New Customer-Activation Model: Content, Conversation, Commendations	217
15	The Economic Benefits of Customer Experience	237
16	Cultural Sell-through and Organizational Sign-off	247
17	Flip the Funnel for Your Personal Life	263
18	I Had a Great Experience—How about You?	269
	Resources	275
	Index	277

<http://www.pbookshop.com>