

CONTENTS

Foreword	ix
Peter Edelman
Preface: Why We Believe in Organizing and Building Power	xiii
The Authors	xvii
Introduction: The Power of Participation	xix
The Story of Community Voices Heard	xxxi
PART ONE Building Community Power	1
1. Taking It On: Starting to Build Power	3
2. Powering Up	23
PART TWO Building a Base for Power	35
3. Recruiting Constituents for Collective Action	37
4. Involving Members in Building Their Own Organization	61
5. Developing Leaders from All Walks of Life	81
6. Uploading Technology	109
PART THREE Developing and Running Campaigns	125
7. Identifying the Right Issue	129
8. Researching the Politics of an Issue	155

9. Developing a Winning Strategy	183
10. Planning a Comprehensive Campaign	209
11. Implementing an Effective Campaign	239
12. Running Kick-A Actions!	261
13. Evaluating a Campaign from Beginning to End	301
PART FOUR Building a Movement	323
14. Forging Partnerships for Power	325
15. Moving from Self-Interest to Social Change: Movement-Building	345
Conclusion: Putting Your Principles into Practice	361
RESOURCES Supporting the Work of Organizing	373
A. Organizing Lingo	375
B. Raising Money for Organizing	379
C. Power in the Voting Booth: Electoral Organizing	389
D. Training Tips	399
E. Approaches to Addressing Community Problems	407
F. Creating a Legal Community Power-Building Organization	411
G. For More Information	413
H. The Phases and Steps of a Campaign: An Annotated Case Example	415
Index	425