

Contents

Foreword	ix
Introduction	1
1. Setting the structure	9
The basics 9; Statutory dispute resolution procedures 10; ACAS code of practice on disciplinary and grievance procedures 13; Organizational policies and procedures 14; Misconduct and gross misconduct 14; The new provisions 16; The right to be accompanied 17; The small employer 19; 'Interview' and 'hearing' 20
2. Proactive discipline	22
The meaning of proactive 22; Policies and procedures 23; Recruitment and selection 24; Contracts and job descriptions 26; Induction 26; Probation 28; Informal discipline and setting standards 30; Management training 32; The 'last straw' 33; Difficult conversations 33; Concluding comments 35
3. Reactive discipline	37
The philosophy 38; Reacting to misconduct 41; Reacting to gross misconduct 43; Formal action or not? 44; Conduct that occurs outside work 44

4. Grievances	47
General comments 47; Why have grievance procedures? 48; Training and awareness 49; Drafting grievance procedures 49; Informal resolution 50; Formal procedure 51; Grievance investigations 51; Equal Pay Act 1970 52; Grievance raised during a discipline investigation 53; Grievance meetings 53; Written response 54; Appeals 56; Keeping records 57; Whistleblowing 58; Organizational review 61
5. Suspensions	62
What suspension is 62; Suspension checklist 63; Special circumstances involving the complainant or victim 64; Suspension procedures 65; Responsibilities during suspension 66; Failure to follow terms of suspension 66; Resignation during suspension or investigation 67; 'Persuading' an employee under investigation to resign 68; Constructive dismissal 68; Managing the grapevine 69; Reintroduction after suspension 70
6. Capability	72
Potentially fair dismissal 72; General considerations 73; Initial action 74; Borderline cases 75; Capability checklist 76; Changes in working techniques 76; Denials of inadequate performance 80; Inadequate performance after promotion 80; Dismissal in capability cases 81; Capability and disability 83
7. Special circumstances	84
Introduction 84; Definitions 85; Bullying 86; Third-party harassment 87; Sex and related forms of discrimination 87; Race 88; Disability 88; Burden of proof in discrimination cases 88; HIV and AIDS 89; Religious belief 89; Age discrimination 90; Criminal offences – organizational options 90; Failure to comply with instructions 92; Alcohol and drugs 92; Loss of driving licence 94; Trade union representatives 95; Data protection and human rights 95; Misuse of telephone, e-mail or internet 99
8. Evidence and evidence gathering	101
What evidence is 101; Direct evidence 102; Corroboration 103; Circumstantial or indirect evidence 104; Admissibility and weight 104; Opinions 105; Hearsay evidence 105; Early complaint in cases of sexual harassment 105; Documentary evidence 106; The 'best evidence' rule 106; The burden of proof 106; Burden of proof in discrimination cases 107; The standard of proof 108; Presumptions 109; IT evidence 109; How to gather evidence 110; Drafting a chronology 110

9. The investigation and the investigator	114
The investigation 114; The investigator 116; Using internal managers 116; External investigators 117; The investigator's skill set 117; Reflective practice 118; Body language 120; Time management 120; Problem-solving checklist 122; Mind-mapping 123; The terms of reference 123; Tools of the investigator 124; Using your chronology 124; Points to prove 125; Tricks and devices 126; Custom and practice 127; Fraud investigations 128; CV fraud 129
10. Interviewing	130
Introduction 130; Retracting a statement 131; 'Negative' statements 132; Anonymous witnesses 132; Communication and effective listening 134; Questioning techniques 135; Interview techniques 137; Traditional interviewing 137; WASP 138; The PEACE process 139; Witnesses 144; Suspects – the discipline interview 145; Note taking and statement writing 147; Interview checklist 147; Statement or notes checklist 147; Admissions and confessions 148; Recording interviews 150; Negotiation 150
11. Report writing	152
Introduction 152; Discipline reports 153; Concepts 154; Techniques 155; Format 156; Starting the report 157; Mitigating circumstances 159; Extraneous issues 161; Plea-bargaining 161
12. The discipline hearing	162
Introduction 162; The disciplinary officer 162; The panel 163; Administration 163; The hearing 164; Presenting the case 166; The role of the representative 167; Decision making 168; Problems in the hearing 169; Discipline appeals 170; Follow-up 172
13. Case studies	174
Case study 1 – Simple discipline 175; Case study 2 – Internal grievance 178; Case study 3 – Grievance and discipline 180; Case study 4 – Discipline 183; Case study 5 – External complaint of sex discrimination 184; Case study 6 – Theft 187; General comments 188
14. Pro forma documents	190
1 – Terms of reference 191; 2 – Example – suspension letter 193; 3 – Example – suspension letter 194; 4 – Witness statement 195; 5 – Example – notice of a disciplinary hearing 196; 6 – Example – dismissal letter 197; 7 – Example – 'not proven' letter 198;

8 – Example – ‘final warning’ letter 199; 9 – Example – notice of appeal hearing letter 200; 10 – Example – notice of result of appeal hearing 201; 11 – Example letter – notice of decision to invoke the formal procedures 202; 12 – Example letter – notice of initial review meeting 203; 13 – Example letter – notice of written warning or final written warning 204; 14 – Example letter – confirmation of dismissal (following previous warnings) 205

References 206

Index 207

<http://www.pbookshop.com>