

Contents

Acknowledgments		ix
A Brief History of Bombardier Inc.		xi
Preface		xix
Introduction:	The Rise of a Corporation	1
	• A Meteoric Rise	1
	• The Architects of Success	6
	• Bombardier Today	8
	PART ONE	13
Chapter 1:	Joseph-Armand Starts a Company: The 1940s and 1950s	15
	• Humble Beginnings	15
	• The Bombardier Snowmobile	16
	• Inventions and Innovations	25
Chapter 2:	The Ski-Doo Adventure: The Golden Age of the 1960s	34
	• The Family Takes Over	34
	• A Marketing Renewal	39
	• Ski-Doo Fever	42
	• Vertical Integration	46
	• The First Sea-Doo	49
	PART TWO	53
Chapter 3:	Diversify or Die: The 1970s	55
	• A Challenging Decade	55
	• Taking a New Turn: Rail Transportation	59

	• The Montreal Subway	61
	• The Acquisition of MLW-Worthington	67
Chapter 4:	The Deal of the Century: The New York City Subway (1982)	73
	• A Golden Opportunity	73
	• A Contested Victory	78
	• The Tools for Success	84
	• The Royer Way of Doing Things	86
	• The BMS	91
	• A Major Breakthrough	97
	• Tempest in a Teapot	101
	• The Value of Proven Technologies	104
	• A Welcome Boost	107
Chapter 5:	New Frontiers: Transportation in the 1980s and 1990s	110
	• The North American Market	110
	• Full Speed Ahead	112
	• A Rocky Start for the LRC	114
	• The Vagaries of High-Speed in America	117
	• The Disney Monorail	124
	• The Acquisition of UTDC	125
	• Capturing the European Market	129
	• The Chunnel Odyssey	133
	• Taking Over by Storm: From Talbot to Adtranz	137
	PART THREE	143
Chapter 6:	Aerospace Takes Off	145
	• A Bold Move	145
	• Early Attempts to Diversify: The Automotive Sector	149

	• The Acquisition of Canadair (1986)	151
	• Good Things Come in Threes: Shorts, Learjet, and de Havilland	156
	• Portrait of a Turnaround Artist	165
	• Power in Numbers: Synergizing Operations	171
Chapter 7:	Revolution in the Sky: The Move Toward Regional Jets	176
	• The Rise of Airline Hubs	176
	• From Challenger to CRJ	179
	• A New Captain Steers Aerospace Group	186
	• Bombardier Takes Off	192
	• Dogfight in the Clouds	196
	• Inside the Pro-ex Saga	201
	• An Affair of State	205
	• Government Support	208
Chapter 8:	Spreading Its Wings	216
	• The Global Express Business Jet (1991–1996)	216
	• Diversification Delivers	225
	PART FOUR	229
Chapter 9:	Two Turbulent Decades at Valcourt	231
	• The Ski-Doo Loses Speed	231
	• Pierre Beaudoin and the Return of the Sea-Doo (1988)	233
	• Extreme Snowmobiling and Innovation	238
	• Acquisition of Outboard Marine Corporation (2001)	241

Chapter 10:	Lessons in Strategic Governance	244
	• The Éminence Grise	244
	• Decentralization	248
	• Management Tools	253
	• An Evolving Structure	256
Chapter 11:	Handing Over the Reins	259
	• Robert Brown Takes Charge	259
	• The Impact of September 2001	264
	• Tellier Joins Bombardier	265
	• An Unexpected Comeback	270
	• Pierre Takes the Helm and CSeries Aircraft Takes Off	273
	• Laurent Beaudoin's Legacy	276
Endnotes		279
Index		293