

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	v
Introduction	1
PART 1	15
1: The International Society and the International Community	17
1. Introduction	17
2. The International Society	19
3. The International Community	29
3.1 Liberalism and Legitimate Statehood	29
3.2 Illegitimacy and the Denial of Sovereignty	42
3.3 Disintegration of the International Community: Iraq 2003	44
4. Conclusion	49
2: The Role of International Law in the International Society and the International Community	51
1. Introduction	51
2. The International Society and International Law	52
2.1 The Principle of Non-Intervention	54
2.2 The Use of Force Prohibition	56
3. The International Community and International Law	59
3.1 Adapting Existing Principles of International Law	60
3.2 The Development of New Legal Rules and Concepts	64
4. Conclusion	70
3: The International Community and the Liberal Peace	73
1. Introduction	73
2. The Liberal Peace Thesis	74
3. Non-Liberal States and the State of Aggression	80
3.1 Case Study: Contrasting the US's Differing Responses to India and Iran's Nuclear Programmes	85
4. Quantifying and Prioritising Threats to the International Community	88
5. Conclusion	95

4: The International Community and the Security Council	96
1. Introduction	96
2. The Cold War Years: Protecting State Sovereignty	99
3. Post-Cold War: Promoting Liberal Democracy	105
3.1 Promoting Human Rights: Iraq (1991), Somalia (1993) and Libya (2011)	107
3.2 Promoting Democracy: Haiti (1994) and Sierra Leone (1997)	116
4. Conclusion	120
 PART 2	 125
5: The International Society and Peacekeeping	127
1. Introduction	127
2. Inter-State Peacekeeping and the Trinity of Virtues	130
2.1 The Trinity of Virtues: Consent, Neutrality and the Use of Force Only in Self-Defence	132
3. Intra-State Peacekeeping	135
3.1 Congo: ONUC	137
3.2 Cyprus: UNFICYP	144
4. Conclusion	147
 6: The International Community and Peacebuilding	 149
1. Introduction	149
2. The UN and Peacebuilding	153
2.1 Kosovo and East Timor: Historical Background	158
2.2 Independence, Declarations of Independence and Beyond	176
3. Afghanistan and the 'Light Footprint' Approach	180
3.1 The Bonn Agreement	183
3.2 The Implementation of Bonn and the United Nations Assistance Mission in Afghanistan (UNAMA)	186
3.3 Operation Enduring Freedom, ISAF and Provincial Reconstruction Teams	188
3.4 Funding	190
4. Conclusion	192
 7: The International Community and the Occupation of Iraq	 194
1. Introduction	194
2. The Coalition Provisional Authority and the Liberal Reconstruction of Iraq	196
3. The Law of Occupation as a Product of the International Society	199

3.1 Hague Regulations	199
3.2 Fourth Geneva Convention	204
4. Alternative Sources of Authority	209
4.1 Debellatio	209
4.2 IGC and the Issue of Iraqi Consent	211
4.3 International Human Rights Law	214
4.4 Security Council Resolution 1483	216
5. Conclusion	218
Conclusion	220
Bibliography	225
Index	241

<http://www.pbookshop.com>