
CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	v
Abbreviations	ix
Author Biographies	xiii

Introduction	1
Aoife Nolan, Rory O’Connell and Colin Harvey

I. FOUNDATIONS

1. Public Finance, Maximum Available Resources and Human Rights	13
Diane Elson, Radhika Balakrishnan and James Heintz
2. Putting ESR-Based Budget Analysis into Practice: Addressing the Conceptual Challenges	41
Aoife Nolan
3. Let Them Eat Cake: Socio-Economic Rights in an Age of Austerity	59
Paul O’Connell
4. Resourcing Rights: Combating Tax Injustice from a Human Rights Perspective	77
Ignacio Saiz

II. GOVERNANCE

5. Recovering the History of Human Rights: Public Finances and Human Rights	107
Rory O’Connell
6. Better on the Margins? A Critique of Mainstreaming Economic and Social Rights	123
Eoin Rooney and Colin Harvey

III. GROUP-SPECIFIC WORK

7. Budget for Children	139
Enakshi Ganguly Thukral

8. Equality Proofing the Budget: Lessons from the Experiences of Gender Budgeting?	163
Sheila Quinn
IV. ANALYSIS IN ACTION
9. The Right to Adequate Housing: A Case Study of the Social Housing Budget in Northern Ireland	195
Eoin Rooney and Mira Dutschke
10. Assessing the Impact of the Public Spending Cuts: Taking Human Rights and Equality Seriously	219
James Harrison and Mary-Ann Stephenson
Index	243

<http://www.pbookshop.com>