

Table of Contents

Foreword by Dame Rosalyn Higgins	v
Acknowledgments	ix
Abbreviations	xvii
Table of Cases and Court Opinions	xxi
Table of Legislation	xxiii
1 Introduction	1
1. The Changed Nature of Peacekeeping	3
2. Militarised Peacekeeping: Slouching Towards Crisis	5
3. Structure of the Book	10
4. The Definition of Peacekeeping	12
2 Peacekeeping: The Opposite of Enforcement?	17
1. Introduction	17
2. The Changed Nature of Peacekeeping	20
2.1 Peace Observation Missions	21
2.2 UNEF I-Type Missions	22
2.3 Post-UNEF I Non-Militarised Missions	26
2.4 Militarised Peacekeeping	31
2.4.1 ONUC (1960–64)	32
2.4.2 An Agenda for Peace (1992–95)	33
2.4.3 Twenty-First Century Peacekeeping (October 1999–Present)	36
2.5 Conclusion on the Changed Nature of Peacekeeping	42
3. The Changed Nature of Enforcement	43
3.1 Full-Blown Enforcement	45
3.2 Sanctions-Related Enforcement	47
3.3 Quasi-Enforcement	51
3.4 Conclusions on the Changed Nature of Enforcement	54
4. The Changed Nature of Peace-Enforcement	56
4.1 An Agenda for Peace	56
4.2 Late 1990s	56
4.3 Twenty-First Century Peace-Enforcement	58
4.4 Conclusion on the Changed Nature of Peace-Enforcement	61
5. Conclusion	62

3 The Peacekeeping Powers of the Security Council and the Limitations Thereupon	64
1. Introduction	64
2. Purposes and Principles of the UN	68
2.1 Article 1: Purposes	69
2.1.1 Article 1(1): To Maintain International Peace and Security	70
2.2 Article 2: Principles	72
2.2.1 Article 2(1): Sovereign Equality	73
2.2.2 Article 2(4): Non-Use of Force	73
2.2.3 Article 2(7): Non-Intervention in Domestic Matters	75
2.3 Conclusions on Purposes and Principles	77
3. Security Council Powers	77
3.1 Chapter VI Powers	78
3.2 Chapter VII Powers	80
3.2.1 Powers under Article 39	81
3.2.2 Powers under Article 40	87
3.2.3 Powers under Article 41	95
3.2.4 Powers under Article 42	101
4. Implied Security Council Powers	105
4.1 Chapter VI½ and Implied Powers	107
4.2 Powers Implied Outside Chapter VII	108
4.3 Chapter VII Implied Powers	109
4.4 Limitations on Implied Powers	112
4.5 Conclusions on Implied Powers	113
5. Overall Conclusions on the Security Council's Legal Powers/ Constraints	114
5.1 Peacekeeping as an Enforcement Measure	114
5.2 Peacekeeping as a Mandatory Provisional Measure under Article 40	116
5.3 Peacekeeping where Consent is Legally Required	117
5.3.1 Nature and Legality of the Consent	118
5.3.2 Withdrawal of Consent	120
4 When Peacekeeping and Enforcement Overlap: Twentieth Century Practice	122
1. Introduction	122
2. UNEF I (November 1956–June 1967)	123
2.1 Mandate and Functioning	123
2.2 Evaluation	125

2.2.1 Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	125
2.2.2 Constitutional Basis	127
3. ONUC (July 1960–June 1964)	128
3.1 Mandate and Functioning	128
3.2 Evaluation	129
3.2.1 Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	129
3.2.2 Constitutional Basis	134
3.2.3 Conclusion and Assessment of Success	141
4. Missions in the Mid-1990s	142
4.1 Mandates and Functioning	143
4.1.1 The Former Yugoslavia (February 1992– December 2002)	143
4.1.2 Somalia (April 1992–March 1995)	146
4.1.3 Rwanda (October 1993–March 1996)	148
4.1.4 Haiti (September 1993–March 2000)	150
4.2 Evaluation	151
4.2.1 Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	151
4.2.2 Constitutional Bases	157
4.2.3 Conclusion and Assessment of Success of the Military Peacekeeping Operations	160
5. Conclusions	163
5 When Peacekeeping and Enforcement Overlap: Twenty-First Century Practice – The Early Operations	165
1. Introduction	165
2. Sierra Leone (October 1999–December 2005)	166
2.1 Mandate and Functioning	166
2.2 Evaluation	171
2.2.1 Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	171
2.2.2 Constitutional Basis	175
2.2.3 Conclusion and Assessment of Success	177
3. East Timor (October 1999–May 2002 and May 2002– May 2005)	181
3.1 Mandate and Functioning	181
3.2 Evaluation	189
3.2.1 Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	189
3.2.2 Constitutional Basis	190
3.2.3 Conclusion and Assessment of Success	191
4. Democratic Republic of the Congo (November 1999– 30 June 2010 and July 1 2010–Present)	192

4.1	Mandate and Functioning	192
4.2	Evaluation	211
4.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	211
4.2.2	Constitutional Basis	215
4.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	216
6	When Peacekeeping and Enforcement Overlap: Twenty-First Century Practice – The Later Operations	218
1.	Introduction	218
2.	Liberia (September 2003–present)	219
2.1	The Mission	219
2.2	Evaluation	225
2.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	225
2.2.2	Constitutional Basis	227
2.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	228
3.	Côte D'Ivoire (April 2004–Present)	230
3.1	The Mission	230
3.2	Evaluation	241
3.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	241
3.2.2	Constitutional Basis	245
3.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	246
4.	Haiti (April 2004–Present)	247
4.1	The Mission	247
4.2	Evaluation	253
4.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	253
4.2.2	Constitutional Basis	255
4.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	256
5.	Burundi (June 2004–December 2006)	257
5.1	The Mission	257
5.2	Evaluation	260
5.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	260
5.2.2	Constitutional Basis	261
5.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	261
6.	Sudan (March 2005–Present)	262
6.1	The Mission	262
6.2	Evaluation	271
6.2.1	Adherence to the 'Fundamental Principles'	271
6.2.2	Constitutional Basis	273
6.2.3	Conclusion and Assessment of Success	274

7. Central African Republic and Chad (September 2007– December 2010)	275
7.1 Mandate and Functioning	275
7.2 Evaluation	279
7.2.1 Adherence to the ‘Fundamental Principles’	279
7.2.2 Constitutional Basis	280
7.2.3 Conclusion and Assessment of Success	280
7 Conclusions	282
1. Introduction	282
2. Overview of the Problems	282
2.1 Difficulties of Establishment	283
2.2 Management Difficulties	286
2.3 Problems Relating to the Need for Host State Consent or Cooperation	288
2.4 Problems Relating to Expectations	289
3. Legal Conclusions	291
4. Final Remarks: The Way Forward	294
Index	297