

Contents

Contributors	vii
List of abbreviations	viii
Acknowledgements	x
1 Introduction	1
WILLIAM P. ALFORD AND KENNETH WINSTON
Part I
Professions and the law	23
2 Judicial professionalization in China: in light of the Republican experience	25
XIAOQUN XU
3 "Second lawyers, first principles": lawyers, rice-roots legal workers, and the battle over legal professionalism in China	48
WILLIAM P. ALFORD
4 Judicial professionalism in China: from discourse to reality	78
YU XINGZHONG
Part II
Professions and the healing of body and soul	109
5 The state of medical professionalism in China: past, present, and future	111
WILLIAM C. HSIAO AND LINYING HU

vi Contents

6	The work of nursing in China's hospitals SUZANNE Z. GOTTSCHANG	129
7	Medical ethics and professional norms: the tale of two medical centers in Taiwan WILLIAM C. HSIAO AND PING-CHEN HSIUNG	146
8	Professionalization of clergy in China RICHARD MADSEN	163
Part III
Professions and accountability		181
9	Reputational intermediary, public watchdog, or "off-state payroll economic policeman": comparing the role of Chinese public accountants ZHAODONG JIANG	183
10	Negotiating good work in Chinese journalism JUDY POLUMBAUM	208
11	Advisors to rulers: serving the state and the way KENNETH WINSTON	225
Part IV
Professions and the future		255
12	Formation and re-formation of the architecture profession in China: episodes, underlying aspects, and present needs PETER G. ROWE AND BING WANG	257
13	Engineers and the state in modern China WILLIAM C. KIRBY	283
14	Business professionalism in mainland China: wading in shallow waters MARGARET M. PEARSON	314
	Index	332