

inception of the book when she was a visiting professor at the Law School City University of Hong Kong. I also owe special thanks and appreciation to Professor Peter Malanczuk and Senior Lecturer Alisa Kwan from Law School City University of Hong Kong, Professor Zhou Ke from Law School Renmin University China and Professor Liu Fengming from Law School Wuhan University China. They read different chapters of this book and gave valuable suggestions. I also sincerely thank Deniece Ma, Tommy Wong and Felix Hoe, students of Law School City University for helping me in searching for necessary materials and translation of case studies. I am also grateful to Madeleine Lee, Head of Law Section, City University Library and her team members, W.L.Chung, Rowena Cheng, Kim Cheng, Ada Wai, Isabella So and Douglas Tam, who helped me a great deal in searching for all kinds of materials and information. I also want to thank Dmitri Hubbard and Lim Gay Bin from LexisNexis Butterworths; they provide generous support and assistance in publishing this book.

My ultimate gratitude goes to my family. Without my husband's moral and emotional support as well as his professional opinions and criticism, the completion of this book would be almost impossible.
