

CONTENTS

About the author viii

Introduction 1

SECTION 1 INTRODUCTION Work is broken and employees are paying the price 5

01 The shortcomings of ‘best practice’ and traditional performance management 13

The role of human resources 18

02 Work is a relationship, not a contract 25

The lesson in the data 28

The emotional impact of good and bad jobs 30

Understanding work as a relationship 31

The characteristics of a healthy and positive relationship 33

The relationship test 37

References 39

03 Rethinking performance management 41

Performance management is about employee experience 46

Clarify your intentions 48

Does performance management need a rebrand? 53

Redesigning performance management 55

The three performance processes 56

References 58

SECTION 2 INTRODUCTION Performance planning 58

- 04 Creating clear expectations and goals 62
The art of expectations 63
Tools and approaches for expectation setting 67
References 71
- 05 Defining behavioural expectations 72
What about the employee's expectations? 76
References 80
- 06 Putting the 'why' and 'how' in expectations 81
Contribution to organizational success 81
World and community impact 82
Personal values alignment 83
Equipping employees with the resources to succeed 85

SECTION 3 INTRODUCTION Performance cultivation 89

- 07 Motivation 93
Intrinsic motivators 95
References 102
- 08 Recognition and appreciation 103
The shout out 105
Recognition programmes 106
Operationalizing appreciation 108
References 109

09 Wellbeing and inclusion 111

The importance of inclusion 115

References 119

10 Removing obstacles 121

Type of obstacles 122

Removing obstacles 123

Reference 125

SECTION 4 INTRODUCTION Performance accountability 126

11 Fixing feedback 133

Why we hate feedback 134

Making feedback work 135

References 142

12 A new approach to feedback 143

Feedforward 143

Making peer-to-peer feedback work 145

Building skills for receiving feedback 151

13 Measurement and ratings 157

Why ratings failed 158

The three steps of performance measurement 159

References 163

14 The role of reflection 164

Self-review versus reflection 165

Building reflection into performance management 167

References 171

15 Confronting performance issues 172

SECTION 5 INTRODUCTION Building a sustainable and effective performance management system 179

- 16 Making immediate improvements 182
- Stopping the process 182
 - Hacking your current processes 184
- 17 Getting buy-in for change and recruiting a design team 188
- Making the case for change 189
 - Recruiting your design team 192
- 18 The design process and avoiding the best practice trap 195
- Discover and define 199
 - Reference 203
- 19 Developing and testing your performance management system 204
- Deliver 207
- 20 Implementing your new performance management system 214
- Technology 214
 - Training 216
 - Communication and roll-out 219
 - Track and celebrate progress 221
 - References 222
- Index* 223